
For 1971, we improved the left side rear window.
At last, a Volkswagen improvement you can see.
Along with our 25 hidden improvements for 1971, we proudly announce a new price.
$1780 will now put you behind the wheel of a Volkswagen 111 sedan.*
You see, we found little things to take out of our little car that won't affect what you get out of it.
(After 25 years of perfecting one model, you can do ingenious things like that.)
For even though it now runs around on a new, more powerful engine, it still runs around on around 26 miles to a gallon.
It still abstains from antifreeze.
It still survives on pints of oil instead of quarts.
And in case you couldn't tell from the picture above, it still looks like a Beetle.

What Rights? . . .

Once the right of the state to take the property of some and give it to others is firmly established, the process will go on until the last bone of the taxpayer is picked bare and all are reduced to the near-poverty line.

"Does a man who has worked little and produced little have a 'right' to the property of a hardworking individual whose property represents the distilled sweat of his brow? Who has a better right to property than the man who has produced it?

"The thrifty have a Christian duty to help the needy, but the latter have no 'right' or title to a portion of their wreath.

"To assert one's right to the wealth of others is coveting and, if implemented, stealing. Society did not rise above the level of savagery until it recognized the right of men to enjoy the fruits of their labors without danger of dispoilation by others. That is why coveting and stealing are forbidden, not only by the Ten Commandments but by parallel statements in other religions.

"If people have a 'right' to the wealth of others, they will produce less and less wealth of their own. Already too many live from the labor of their neighbors. We need less talk of rights and more of responsibilities. Under the proposal of FCNL one could loaf or drink or gamble away his own income and then rely on the necessities of life upon the dispossession of others.

Challenge Youth In Christian Service

Earl W. Schultz, Jr., vice-president, Eastern Area Youth for Christ, International, in addressing the teen rally last Saturday night at Southern high, challenged the youth to consider Christian service as a chosen vocation. Twenty-five responded, according to Tom Crogan, local YFC director.

Mr. Schultz also spoke Sunday morning at the Deep Creek Baptist church on the "Challenged Generation," and also attended Mt. Top YFC board directors Sunday afternoon where he met the new board members, Earl Glass, Delbert Bittinger, and Paul DeWitt. Mr. Schultz suggested the things he would like to see accomplished locally, including use of modern machinery, more board involvement.

Mr. Schultz was an overnight guest of Dr. Alvin P. Friend and dinner guest of Mr. Crogan Sunday.

Resignation of

Homer L. Bennett, chairman of the Republican committee, said they had selected some twelve or more names which were to be submitted to the commissioners who would in turn select the three who were to be named. However, he said the committee never had an official meeting and when Mr. Paugh refused to go along, the matter was dropped.

It was understood that Paugh this morning already had submitted his letter of intent.

W. Dwight Stover, attorney to the commissioners, was on hand also at 9:30 this morning.

The outcome of the meeting is only conjecture.

It was hopeful that some negotiations could be completed quickly so that the road workers would be back on the job and that the snow fences would be erected, some of the pot holes filled in, and the county machinery repaired before the initial onset of winter weather.

Accident Results In Civil Awards

At a civil trial last Thursday, October 15, William Deckman was awarded $25,000 and Helen Deckman was awarded $5,000, as a result of an accident which occurred on Febuary 24, 1968, on State Route 135 just east of Mt. Lake Park, in which they were injured and their station wagon demolished.

From testimony given at the trial William Deckman and his wife, Helen were driving east at the above location in the proper lane. Helen I. Thayer, driving west at the same location crossed the center line of the road and struck the Deckman car. As a result William Deckman suffered grievous injury, loss of employment and loss of car. For these losses $100,000 damage was claimed. During his convalescence Helen Deckman was required to seek employment to furnish livelihood for self, husband and infant child and also to pay for ambulance, a 33-day hospital stay of William Deckman and other medical expenses. her husband carried $200 in cash which he had planned to use in getting his father admitted to the home.

Guthrie waived extradition Tuesday in Fallon and was scheduled to arrive in Oakland to await interrogation. He will be accompanied by Troopers Dunton and Tucker. He was arrested as he slept in the car belonging to Mr. Aul and was ordered held without bail on a fugitive warrant from Maryland.

He had been arraigned in Nevada Monday and said at the time he would return to Maryland voluntarily.

He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Wayne Love and police of Fallon after the deputy spotted the parked auto and ran a license check which showed that Guthrie was wanted in this state.

Police and Guthrie arrived at the County jail early today. Fred A. Thayer, State's Attorney, planned an early arraignment.

Speaking of Insurance

It was a warm day in May, 1896, when Henry Wells met Evylyn Thomas on a sunny street in New York City. Henry was driving his Duryea Motor Wagon. Evylyn was on her Columbis bicycle. They crashed. This has been recorded as the first automobile accident. Consider the nightmare that has followed in its wake.

Last year, 98 million drivers drove 88 million vehicles about 900 million miles. While doing so, they slaughtered 49,000 Americans.

Until some solution is found, the experts say, do this: (1) stay one car length behind the next car for each 10 miles per hour of speed; (2) get your foot over the brake pedal 50 feet before each intersection and keep it there till you enter the cross street; (3) at stop streets, stop with your front bumper even with the curb of the cross street. If that street is parked, get your front door even with the curb line.

This is called defensive driving. It might keep you alive until the day when you can depend on the other driver's good judgment.

Speaks On Alcoholism At Teacher Seminar

Willard O. Foster, advisor to coordinator of Maryland State Alcoholism control, was one of the speakers at the County Teachers seminar held last week at the Board of Education building.

He declared that drugs were "the fair haired child, and getting all the gold, yet there are more than ten times as many alcoholics as there are drug addicts."

Mr. Foster said it was possible for a person who may or may not be a heavy drinker, to kill himself by raising the alcohol content of his blood level by a method which young adults refer to as "Chug-a-Lugging".

Although those attending the workshop, students and panel members, had mixed feelings about whether or not alcohol was a problem, according to Elda Whetsell, alcoholism coordinator for this county, they were in general agreement that alcohol was not only a problem but perhaps the major problem when compared with other drugs.

UNICEF Trick Or Treat Night Is Set

In recent years October 31 has been taken by over 13,000 communities in "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF. Last fall three and one-half million children raised three and one-quarter million dollars.

In the Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Oak Park and Accident area UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be out on October 28 from 6 to 8 under the sponsorship of Church Women United of the Oakland unit.

These ambassadors of international goodwill are planning to visit local homes in small supervised groups. Participating are groups from Bethel United Methodist, Mt. Lake; St. Paul's United Methodist, Oakland; St. Mark's Lutheran, Oakland; Oak Park Church of the Brethren. In Accident the drive will be conducted by Grace Brethren youth; United Methodist group in Gormania-Bayard areas.

Solicitors will be identified by the official collection box, an orange and black carton with UNICEF symbol. They will be distributed at 6 p.m. at participating churches. Only those carrying the cartons are authorized to collect, Mrs. Mae DeBerry, president of Church Women United, stated.

A coin counting party will be held later at St. Paul's United Methodist church, with refreshments. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. DeBerry.

Money collected will be used to assist programs for the world's needy children.

Heavy Damage, Injury Occurs In Some Accidents

Of the 11 accidents reported during the week, two one-car accidents resulted in total car damage and personal injuries. In all the others there was mostly little or no injury and mostly moderate to light car damage. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland, for the week ending October 19.

Around 3 p.m. October 12 Donald C. Landis, Kitzmiller, was driving east near Penn Point Road at an apparent high rate of speed, lost control of his car, ran off the road, struck a culvert, went over an embankment and overturned. His car was considered a total loss. He was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in a Maryland State Police car. Charges are pending according to Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

Another accident which resulted in total car loss and personal injury occurred on October 16 at 5 a.m. on State Route 39 near Crellin. James L. Smith, Mt. Lake Park, was going west when he stated that his tire blew out. This caused nim to lose control of his car, run off the road, overturn, veer across the road, overturning again and coming to rest on its wheels. He and four other passengers were injured but refused treatment at the scene. Tfc. Dale K. Williams did not make any charges.

Two other one-car accidents resulted in only moderate car damage and little or no injuries.

One occurred on U.S. Route 40 at Keyser Ridge Oct. 10 at 5 p.m Angelo F. Samson, Cumberland, going east applied his breaks throwing his car out of control and caused him to strike a guard rail. No charges were made by Tfc. C. D. Skidmore. In an accident on October 10 at 5 a.m. Nancy J. Stewart, Alexandria, Va., was going east on U.S. Route 50 at a sharp left turn. Here she met an oncoming vehicle with high lights which blinded her, causing her to lose control, run off the highway and into guard posts. She was slightly injured but refused treatment. No charges were made by Tfc. R. S. Lewis.

One accident involved a car and some farm equipment. This occurred October 14 on U.S. Route 219 at Monte Vista Road. There was only slight damage to vehicles and no injuries. Joseph E. Spartee, Dickerson, was preparing to turn into Monte Vista Road and noticed Albert Bender with the farm equipment attempting to do the same thing. Spartee attempted to stop but skidded sideways, striking Bender's equipment in the rear. No charges were made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

A pick-up truck driven by Chalmers E. Detrich, Friendsville, ran into the rear of a tractor-trailer driven by Floyd C. Frantz, Friendsville, October 3, on State Route 42 near Friendsville. Detrich claimed the sun blinded him and he did not see Frantz's rig. Tfc. Charles E. Loeber charged Detrich with failing to reduce speed.

Ray E. Hutzell, Salisbury, Pa., was going north on State Route 669 when a pick-up truck attempted to pull from a parking lot. To avoid hitting the pick-up Hutzell swerved, went off the road and sideswiped the parked car of William R. Buchanan, Sarasota, Fla. Damage to each vehicle was put at $500. There were no injuries. No charges were made by Tfc. C. E. Loeber.

In the following accidents there were no injuries and vehicle damage was mostly light.

On October 2 Robert E. Watson, Grantsville, was stopped to make a left turn. Marion L. Miller, Grantsville, following in a pick-up could not get stopped and hit the Watson car. Tfc. C. E. Loeber charged Marion Miller with failing to reduce speed.

A somewhat similar accident happened on State Route 135 just east of Old 135 near Deer Park the evening of October 12. A car driven by Susan L. King, Deer Park, was struck by a car driven by Carolin R. Hutson, Swanton. Tfc. R. S. Lewis charged Carolin Hutson with operating at a speed too great for conditions.

Isabell Boggs Ackles, Pittsburgh, was driving west on Boy Scout road, at an excessive rate of speed, when a car driven by William Lyall Bernard, Elizabeth, Pa., started to pull onto Scout road and was hit by the Ackles car. Isabell Ackles was charged with excessive speed and Bernard with failing to yield the right of way at an intersection by Tfc. R. S. Lewis. The accident occurred last Sunday morning.

Last Saturday morning, Larry D. McKenzie, Frostburg, was making a left turn into Motor Service Co. in Grantsville. Gerald F. Tape, Washington, D. C., going east on U.S. Route 40 saw McKenzie making the turn but not in time to stop to avoid collision. No charges were made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

Police were plagued by hoax calls and bomb threats throughout the nation after three days of "Weatherman" bombings.

Eleven inches of snow blanketed a part of southwest Kansas the first part of October.

3 Cars Demolished And 1 Driver Hurt

Three motor vehicles were practically demolished and damage to a fourth was set at $200 in a weekend chain reaction accident on U. S. route 219 north of Thayerville, but only one of the four drivers was hospitalized.

All four vehicles were headed north about 11:15 a.m. Saturday. Robert Thomas Stewart, 41 Pittsburgh, Pa., had stopped his station wagon preparatory to making a left turn and was waiting for south-bound traffic to pass. A second automobile driven by Wilda Hess, 38, Morgantown, W. Va., stopped immediately behind Mr. Stewart. A truck driven by Raymond Owen Brant, 48, McHenry, stopped behind Mrs. Hess' car.

A soft drink truck driven by Allen Ashby, 21, Hutton, also traveling north, failed to stop for the three vehicles halted in the highway. He struck Mr. Brant's truck and this in turn smashed into the woman's car and her car into the station wagon.

Tfc. S. M. Russell, who investigated, reported that both trucks and the woman's car were practically demolished and Mr. Stewart's station wagon damaged to the extent of about $200.

Mr. Brant was admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland and later transferred to the West Virginia university medical center at Morgantown. His condition was considered serious.

Mr. Stewart was treated and released at the Oakland hospital. The other two drivers were unhurt.

Mr. Ashby was charged with failure to stop, and operating an unsafe vehicle.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Strike Against The Nation

Any strike is a loss for the workers, company and community involved – an act of waste in a society dependent on continuing productivity. The strike the United Auto Workers called against General Motors Corporation is uniquely wasteful, for the company is the largest manufacturing corporation in the United States – a key component in the country's economy.

When the UAW leadership ordered the strike, it idled 400,000 members of the union at 143 plants in the United States and Canada. It is estimated that the decision of the union leaders will cost the rank and file $42.5 million a week in lost wages. The company will be deprived of an estimated $30 million a day in lost production. The strike comes at a time when the buying public is eager to purchase new 1971 automobiles.

In effect, the strike is not against G.M. but against the entire American economy. G. M. plants are located in 18 states and 69 cities. The financial pinch is felt not simply by General Motors workers but by the employes of the company's 39,000 suppliers. The impact of the work stoppage may be gauged by the fact that G. M. consumes more than 10 per cent of America's steel production. The nation's defense effort also is critically affected by the U.A.W. strike inasmuch as G. M. has almost $700 million in defense contracts.

Obviously, this tremendous industrial activity is a major factor in the nation's economy. A prolonged shutdown of the General Motors operations could have grave effects on the economic well-being of the country. Even a brief stoppage provides the economy with a severe jolt.

What's most shocking about the strike action by the United Auto Workers is that a handful of powerful union leaders can halt a vital part of American industry and expose the country to a recession.

To be sure, the UAW leaders will say that the membership wanted the strike. But is is common knowledge that there is no meaningful democracy in unions. Though rank and file members may want to stay on the job and continue to get their weekly paychecks, they dare not oppose powerful union leaders. The leaders don't have to worry about personal impact of the strikes they order, for their salaries continue, while rank and file members have to exist on meager strike fund payments.

Any way you look at it, the UAW strike cannot be justified. The nation loses. The workers and the company lose. Affected communities lose. It is not as though the company refused to recognize the financial needs of its employes. The last G. M. offer, which the union rejected, provided for a 15.8 per cent wage increase and numerous fringe benefits.

Something is very wrong with the nation's labor law if irresponsible strikes of this sort are allowed. The strike against G. M. shows the menace inherent in the union monopoly in the United States. No handful of labor leaders should have the power to deprive hundreds of thousands of Americans of their paychecks and cause widespread economic distress in many states and cities.

Certainly, the first step toward reform of labor legislation should be a ban on strike action applied nationwide against one company. Labor-management discussions should be on a plant by plant basis, not along national lines. Union monopolists, of course, know that the success of their economic blackmail tactics depends on the ability to cripple a company's operations from one end of the country to the other. And behind every strike is a built-in union threat to employ roughstuff if employers seek to hire new employes who are willing to work.

If the American people understand that they are paying for union irresponsibility and ignorance – in terms of lost public revenues and private employment and profits, they may demand the overhaul of labor law that is essential to the continued economic progress of the United States. The understanding must develop rapidly, however, if serious damage to the economy is to be averted.

To Observe World Community Day

Church Women United of the Oakland Area Council will celebrate World Community Day on Friday, November 6, at 1:30 p.m. in Paradise United Methodist Church, Sand Flat-Deer Park Road, joining with Church Women in 2,300 other communities across the country. The 1970 observance will highlight International Education Year. The theme is: "Use a Key For Tomorrow: Education."

Since 1942 World Community has been sponsored by Church Women United to emphasize corporate action for justice and peace.

Church Women are also joining with others to help improve the neighbor's chance for a quality education. Within the next five years, 80 miles of children's books are being produced in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Offerings received on World Community Day will be used to provide scholarships to women seeking journalistic training.

All through 1970 Church Women will sew on cut out garments to meet the demands for children's clothing and layettes. Through a plan for $3.00 gift certificates, Church World Service buys school supplies for underdeveloped countries, family planning resource kits distributed to Christian hospitals overseas, shoes for Head Start children in the United States. In addition blankets, medicine and fabrics are collected.

Mrs. Allan S. Paugh is chairman. Guest speaker will be Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, Superintendent of Garrett County Schools.

Women of all faiths are invited.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled for opening at its McHenry site in September, 1971. A growing interest has developed in the College. Many inquiries are being received at the interim office of the College located on Green Street in Oakland.

As a public service, The Republican will run a series of these columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, President of the College, answering those questions which the public has regarding the various phases of operation of the College.

The public is invited to address questions either to Dr. Shaw at the College, or to The Republican. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming in a subsequent issue.

What is a Community College?

The Community College is the newest institution in the field of higher education, although its forebearers, the private junior college and the post high school technical institute date back many years. The Community College, however, offers a uniqueness not present in other institutions of college level. The word, community, in its name, is of real significance regarding the role it plays. The Community College functions to reflect the needs and interests in post secondary education of the community it serves. For Garrett Community College, its community is Garrett County.

The uniqueness of the College lies in its offerings of programs which include associate degree curricula, certificate curricula, short courses, and community services. These various programs are offered for the benefit of those who desire to complete the bachelors degree at a four year college or university, for those desiring job entry training, and for those desiring adult and/or continuing education.

The big advantage of the Community College is its availability, both in location and cost, making an opportunity for continuing their education to many who could not otherwise afford it.

Dam Project Start Slated Next Spring

Construction of the $81.2 million Bloomington dam project is scheduled to begin next spring with the relocation of some 12 miles of Western Maryland Railroad company track.

Spokesmen for the Army Corps of Engineers said a start on the project was made possible by the approval of a general public works measure signed by President Nixon October 7. The initial appropriation calls for an allocation of $4.8 million for the 1971 fiscal year.

The dam will flood the town of Shaw, W. Va. The land appraisal of condemned property and negotiations with landowners are taking place. Residents normally would have at least one year in which to relocate.

No contracts for any work have been awarded but some may be completed this winter. The dam will create Bloomington Lake, a reservoir about 250 feet deep at the dam site. The lake itself will cover more than 900 acres. At its greatest width the lake will measure 1,800 feet. The normal length will be about two and one-half miles. In flood stage the lake would probably about six miles from the dam, extend as far back as Kitzmiller.

Relocation of the railroad will take place from Bloomington where it will cross the Potomac to the Maryland side, then go up an ascending grade until it reaches the dam site. Near the dam site the tracks will level off until they reach Three Forks run and then cross the Potomac above Shaw to tie in with existing tracks.

After track relocation the work would begin on the dike, outlets and tunnels for the diversion of the river. The entire project is expected to be completed in 1977. Some 200 persons will be employed during peak construction.

NOTICE

THE SIGN OF THE BROKEN CROSS IS ANTI-CHRIST AND ANTI-AMERICAN!

Do you know this symbol was called the witch's foot in the Middle Ages, and it was a common symbol of the devil? It is promoted now in the U. S. A. by the communists and its broken cross form symbolizes "down with God and peaceful existence in a complete communist world." For documented proof, send stamped and addressed envelope to:

HOMER MELLOTT
OAKLAND, MARYLAND 21550

Garrett County is a wonderful place to live, but like all places we have room for growth and improvement. If elected, I will work for and support the following:

1—SCHOOL BOARDS
School boards should be elected by the people, not appointed by the politicians.

2—WELFARE
Able bodied men should and must be made to work for their living and they must be paid a livable and decent wage for their work. Welfare should and must be limited to those who are physically or mentally unable to work.

3—INDIVIDUAL AND NATIONAL FREEDOM
International Communism is the greatest threat to our individual and National freedom. The Communists are working methodically for the overthrow of the free world and especially our beloved America. Every individual and especially all lawmaking bodies must be highly informed of their tactics. We must resist their infiltration and expose them wherever they be found. We must thwart their goal which is still to rule the world under the Hammer and Sickle.

New Bleachers Add 1554 Seats

The Athletic Department of Southern High School has installed new bleachers for the 1970 football season. The bleachers, delivered by the Snyder Tank Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., have a seating capacity of 1554 people. This combined with the 500 seating capacity of the old bleachers give the football stadium a seating capacity of over 2000 persons.

The cost of the new bleachers is $12,000 which has been borrowed from the bank.

The erection of the bleachers began back on June 4, and concluded September 4. The labor was furnished by the Community Action of Garrett County. The workers had to level the ground where the old bleachers were located. Then there were 134 footers to be poured. The bleachers had to be hauled from New York

Classes Elect Officers

Senior class officers, president, Pete Cosby; vice-president Bud Biser; secretary Kim Liller, and treasurer Dave White were the first to be elected at the yearly class elections held September 17 and 18.

The class elections at Southern High School were conducted by the Student Council, President George Tusing stated with enthusiasm, "The speeches of the candidates, the conduct and attentiveness of the audiences, and the enthusiasm of the whole school made the 1970-71 class elections one of the greatest in Southern's history."

The junior class officers elected were Laurie McCullough, president; Karen White, vice-president; Sue Ashby, secretary; and Keith Harvey, treasurer.

Newly elected tenth grade officers are: president, Shirley Rentschler; vice-president, Robin Tichnell; secretary, Shirley Warnick; and treasurer, Jeanne Kuhnle.

Ninth grade officers for 1970-71 are Roxanne McCrobie, president; Angie Mattingly, vice-president; Kathy Hoye, secretary; and Connie Mellinger, treasurer.

The new eighth grade officers are Debbie Metheny president; Marty O'Brien, vice-president; Susan Tasker, secretary; and Sherry Pensinger, treasurer.

In seventh grade, the officers elected are president Jeannie Lucas, vice-president William Stuck, secretary Dawn Tichnell, and treasurer Chuck Gosnell.

The offices held by these people are very important, considering the fact that they will be representing their entire classes as well as making decisions which will affect everyone in the class.

The president and vice-president are responsible for organizing and conducting meetings and activities of their class. The secretary must be able to take notes at each meeting and to keep these records accurattly and correctly so that they can be referred to throughout the year. The treasurer's job is to keep an account of all money transactions, and it is important that he be able to use the class's money to the best advantage.

What Causes Juvenile Delinquency?

. . . Susan Ashby

Juvenile delinquency means a misbehaving young person or just a young person in need of help.

"That hood," cries out an adult. "She's nothing but a rip-a pickup!" Says another: "I pity her parents, they are the ones that have to put up with her!"

But has anyone blamed the parents of this so-called "hood"-this "rip or pickup?" Could these parents possibly be the root cause of this verbal degradation? For example, could they have histories of coming home helplessly intoxicated by liquor and beat them, curse at them with their obscene language?

Most juvenile delinquents are usually from divorced parents. Some delinquents are merely putting on a show, doing anything for attention. Who leaves their keys in the car, so that a good teenager can turn bad? Who uses obscene language and gossip? Who criticizes teenagers today? All three are certainly used by some parents!

Parents are not all so bad. Some are so strict that when the teenager wants to go out for a date, her parents won't let her -- all too frequtntly because of a number of stupid reasons. Here are just some of the stupid reasons: "We don't know him or his parents; We don't want you to go running around with him because he has a bad reputation; He doesn't wear socks or even shoes, and his hair is shoulder length."

So when the teenager doesn't like criticism that her parents put out, she does something to get back at them: like getting drunk; stealing a car; getting pregnant; or just something to hurt them, anything!

All parents are not like the preceding examples described. Just 50% of them are; 10% of them are O.K.; and 40% just don't care!

23 Are Killed On State Highways

"The price of safety is eternal vigilance", said Lt. Col. W. H. Weber, Deputy Superintendent of the Maryland State Police in his review of the 23 traffic fatalities which occured in Maryland during the week ending October 18, 1970.

Lt. Col. Weber reminded drivers, "Danger lurks at and between every intersection. Proceed with caution while driving on the quiet residential street where every child pedestrian is a human caution sign."

"Because of an unfortunate double tragedy of this past week," Lt. Col. Weber said, "I must repeat my remarks of October 13. Let us grant that children should not be allowed to play in the streets, but we 'must' realize that they will be there whether we wish it or not and humanity 'demands' that their safety is our responsibility."

PTA Has Panel On Student Problems

"Causes of parent-adolescent friction" was the topic discussed at the Southern High PTA meeting Monday night. There was a large representation of parents, teachers, interested and concerned persons at the session.

There were small groups discussing such subjects as drug abuse, communications gap, disciplinary problems and other teenage problems. Questions were addressed to a panel consisting of Mrs. George O' Brien, moderator; Dr. Joseph Alvarez, Ruthvan Morrow, Rev. Lawrence Sherwood, Fred A. Thayer, Mrs. Phyllis Trickett and George Tusing, president of the student council.

Panel members and participants stressed basic needs of the home which included leadership, including the setting of good examples; love, respect and care for a person as a person; communication; parents, teachers and students needing to discuss problems as adults.

It was stressed that the school cannot take over the job of parents; that the school can be informative and helpful but cannot replace the necessary roots of love, understanding, self-respect and respect of fellow men which must be developed at home, beginning at an early age.

Robert Rodeheaver, principal, informed the group of past, present and future projects to inform parents, teachers and students of the potential hazards of drug and other abuses.

The business meeting was preceded by square dancing demonstration by the Mountain Top Promenaders. The refreshments were served by the Foods Service department.

BERNARD M. GUY
COUNTY COMMISSIONER
COMMISSIONER DISTRICT #1

Dear Voter:

I have talked with many of you, discussing our problems, as I traveled over the County and it has been a rewarding experience. But since it was impossible for me to meet all of you I am taking this means of speaking to you.

As a business man and a taxpayer I have been interested in our County and have been active in many ways to make Garrett County a better and more prosperous place to live. I have been a member of the Economic Development Corporation for the past seven years, also on the Advisory Board of the Potomac River Basin Project and many Civic organizations. We, of the Economic Development Corporation, have written an overall program for the County, with the combined thinking of many citizens and the guidance of professional State and local persons.

There is now a direction in which to head! Solving the problems and realizing the opportunities in the County will require acknowledgment by the people that they can do something to improve their lot, realization that they should do something about it and resolution that it is time to start, NOV. 3.

Through the efforts of the Economic Development Corporation we have already succeeded in getting new industry and will continue our efforts to do all possible to improve our County.

I am soliciting your influence and support. I need your VOTE! Don't sell your County short. We need Good Government not Bad Publicity.

POSTER CONTEST WINNER—Clara Shockley and Susan Evans of Red House school were declared winners of the poster contest sponsored by the Provisional League of Women Voters in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The prize winning exhibit is shown above. They are children of Mrs. Glenn Shockley, Bayard, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans, Gormania. Second prize went to Michael Guthrie, Loch Lynn school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guthrie, Loch Lynn. Third prize winner Philip DeWitt is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell DeWitt, Loch Lynn. Mrs. Elisabeth Thayer arranged for the contest and prize ribbons were made by Mrs. Marvin Jones.

25th Anniversary Of United Nations Observed Locally

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the United Nations is being observed locally throughout many nations during this year and especially October 24th which is the actual birthday of that world organization.

Locally an exhibit was set up in the Ruth Enlow library by a committee of the Provisional League of Women Voters and a poster contest was conducted under direction of Mrs. Elisabeth Thayer among sixth grade students.

Mrs. Dorothy Leighton, president of the league, sought information on the United Nations from the president and received it through James Keogh, special assistant to the president.

Mrs. Meade Foster, foreign policy chairman of the local league condensed the information from the president which is carried here to emphasize the importance of the organization.

She said: "President Nixon has urged that the celebration this year be used to contribute to a realistic understanding of the United Nations, its aims, its limitations and its potentialities. In speaking to the General Assembly he said, 'Our most fundamental national interest is in maintaining that structure of international stability on which peace depends and which makes orderly progress possible.' It is this progress and development of programs which contribute to peace-building that may eventually make the main goal of peace-keeping attainable.

"Because the U.N. - despite its imperfections and frustrations - continues to be mankind's best hope for peace and human dignity in our disrupted world, a better understanding of its activities should be of vital concern to every thinking American.

"What the U.N. has done in 25 years may be more remarkable than what it has not done. The East and West have moved from confrontation to negotiation, 50 new nations have become members, a declaration of human rights has been implemented, nuclear testing in the atmosphere has been banned, nuclear weapons in outer space outlawed, the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons has been put into force. Many trust territories and former colonies have gained independence, a peace force has been mounted in emergencies - Korea, the Middle East, India-Pakistan, the Congo and Cyprus are examples of these crises. So far, the U.N. has been able to prevent the big war.

"Through its numerous agencies the U.N. is hard at work attacking the problems of underdevelopment, population control and prevention of further deterioration of the human environment. Agreements on the exploration of outer space and the international control of the sea-bed beyond the limits of national jurisdiction are being hammered out.

"We are fortunate to have strong and dynamic leadership in high places in our country, who recognize the necessity of full support for this organization of 126 nation states, pledged to the peaceful solution of the ills that beset mankind. What is urgently needed is an informed citizenry, dedicated to backing up that leadership. A democracy can move only as far as public support will permit. It is for this reason that the League of Women Voters, both nationally and in our own Garrett County Provisional League, is attempting to make this a time of stock-taking of the organization, itself, and especially, of our personal responsibilities to it. This, we take it, is what the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations is all about."

Want State To Keep Old 219; Roads Discussed

An effort is being made to have a section of U.S. route 219, which is being replaced by a newer highway, from Deep Creek bridge to beyond McHenry, retained and maintained by the state, when the new road is opened.

Mark Saltzer and Lindsay Gonder discussed the plan with the County Commissioners at a meeting October 13. The Board agreed its members were of the same opinion and that the state had been requested to retain and maintain that section. A petition will be prepared by interested persons and sent to the SRC.

In other activity at the October 13 session Jasper Riley discussed the county roads situation with the board and criticized the board for the present situation. He felt recognition of the union would have to come and that the issue should have been settled by now. Commissioners Hubert A. Friend and John R. Sines did not agree.

Another group wanted the question put on the ballot. It was the opinion of some that the question could be put on the ballot only as informational material, nothing that would be binding.

The Board of Election Supervisors in a later statement said the deadline for placing any questions on the ballot expired in July.

A suggestion was made that all people requesting employment with the county be given written and physical examinations. It also was suggested that striking road workers be barred from picketing or entering on County property. Participating in the discussion were Martin Friend, Clarence Deal, Mrs. Glen Keller, Mrs. Dale Fike, Mrs. Mitchell Rush, D. T. Rush Mitchell Rush, Ralph Hoye, Brison Thomas, Jim Bowman, F. Savage.

Among the county receipts were $52,000 from the state for Community college, and $60,462.87 from the Maryland treasurer, from gasoline tax for the roads fund.

ALONE

The world never looked so empty — gray and overcast, and no one to talk to. Depressed, I stepped to the window sightlessly taking in the familiar view.

Off to the left, unremembered, was the church steeple. It thrust up out of the green trees like a white exclamation point in my mind.

Suddenly, I wanted to laugh out loud. How foolish of me to think of myself as alone! We are never alone; God has promised us that.

I thanked Him for the steeple, the visible reminder of His love, and for the whole Church which draws men together against the emptiness of the world.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

TEACH US TO PRAY!

Lesson for October 25, 1970

Background Scripture: Luke 11:1-13; John 15:1-7.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:25-31.

Rev. Althouse

A small child was teasing her mother all afternoon for some grapes. At bedtime she watched her small cousin saying her prayers and asked for an explanation of these unfamiliar proceedings. The mother explained that her cousin was talking to God, asking him to bless her family and make her a good girl. Immediately the child went into her own room and shut the door so that she might say her prayers. Upon emerging she said to her mother, "I talked to God and he said I was a very good girl—and I could have a grape."

To use God

We can overlook the little girl's childish attempt to use God for her purpose, yet at the same time we must acknowledge that there are many of us who are guilty of much the same thing. Our own concept of prayer may not be much more mature than hers. Though prayer may be assumed to be one of the key resources of the Christian life, it is also the one which many have never mastered.

We can understand the disciples' urgent plea, "Lord, teach us to pray," for we ourselves are often in the need of help and instruction in our life of prayer. Like his disciples we can learn much from both the manner and spirit in which Jesus prayed.

One thing the disciples must have learned in time is that there is no single way to pray. The prayer life of Jesus was filled with variety. He prayed in lonely places apart from the crowds, he also prayed in public. He prayed as he knelt, or walked. He prayed aloud in words and he prayed silently. His prayers were both formal and informal. He prayed prayers of praise and thanksgiving and He prayed prayers of petition. He heard God's response and there were times when there seemed to be no response. He prayed at a wedding feast and from the cross at his own execution. In Jesus' life prayer was many different experiences of communion with God.

It is important that we too, like the disciples, learn that there is no one way to pray, no one reason for praying. There are times when we pray spontaneously as a need rises within us. There are other times when we pray by sitting and thinking in quiet. There are times when we must put our feelings into words and there are times when words will simply not serve our purposes.

The divine handyman

Sometimes we will feel we need to kneel but there will be other times when we may offer up a sentence prayer as we dash to some daily task. Sometimes our emphasis will be on "telling" him, and other times we will need to sit and "listen." There are many ways and means for prayer.

Secondly, we will need to learn as Jesus' disciples learned that prayer is not so much a matter of persuading a reluctant God to do what we want him to do, but a matter of offering ourselves so that he may do with us as he desires to do. We will need to know as Jesus did that God doesn't have to be nagged into becoming concerned about our welfare. He is already concerned before we are and much more deeply than we can ever be.

When Jesus gave his disciples what we call "The Lord's Prayer," it was not intended to be a prayer to be repeated endlessly, but a model. All the essential elements of prayer are found in those simple lines: adoration, submission, petition, repentance, and committment.

Lord, teach us to pray like that!

THE AUTUMN BREEZE TURNS THE LEAVES TO GOLD

This beautiful time of year, when plants and trees are starting to change their color, reminds us that from nature have come so many of the wonderful medicines that help us to live longer and healthier lives. We always like to recall our study of Advanced Botany in Pharmacy School where we learned how these life-giving drugs were extracted from their natural environment.

When a new drug comes on the market for safe use, we, of course, read all the available literature, and this always details the source of the product. You would be surprised how many drugs in this age of synthetics and technology still are coming from Mother Earth. We stock them.

Bruce Holds Off Southern, 19 To 8

Bruce High's Bulldogs punched over a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter and went on to a 19 to 8 homecoming victory over Southern High Rams in a Tri-Valley conference game last Saturday night at Westernport.

Joe Determan bolted over from the three yard line to break the scoreless contest and later in the quarter quarterback Rick O' Reilly hit Kevin Fazenbaker with a 13-yard TD aerial. Chuck McKenzie's conversion gave the Bulldogs a 13-0 halftime lead.

Southern came back in the fourth quarter with its lone scoring drive. Rick Shaffer went over from the two and Pete Cosby ran for a two-point conversion to close the gap. Southern was intent on another td which would have iced the game but a faked-kick play on the fourth down didn't work and Bruce took over the ball not too far from the Southern goal line. Warnick went over from the one-yard line to complete the scoring. Southern now has a 3-3-1 record.

Bruce had 13 first downs to eight for Southern. Each team lost one fumble. The Bulldogs tried 11 passes and completed 5 for 52 yards. Southern attempted five passes but completed none. The Rams outrushed Bruce on the ground 131 to 119 but the total offense yardage added up to 173 for Bruce as against 131 for Southern. Bruce had only one penalty for 15 yards while Southern had four for a total of 50 yards.

The Rams will play Petersburg this Friday night at Petersburg in a PVC game.

Johnny Glotfelty, McHenry, horse; Jeff VanSickle, Accident, horse.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

Electoral College Presents A Danger to America

Close your eyes for a minute and imagine that a man is standing on the steps of the United States Capitol in Washingon taking the oath of office as President of the United States. But ye' while he takes the oath, that man and all the rest of the 200 million Americans know that another man was actually the choice of the majority of the voters. Imagine the difficulties that such a President would face as he attempted to lead the American people from the White House seat that a majority had declared belonged to another man. Imagine the personal difficulty he would feel as well as the practical political difficulties that would inevitably follow a man who was elected according to the rules of the game but was not in fact the leader of the American people.

It was to prevent this kind of modern tragedy that many members of the Senate, of whom I was one, attempted to bring some kind of electoral reform before the Senate for a vote. If the proposition had succeeded there, it would have been sent to the legislatures of the states for adoption as a new amendment to the United States Constitution. I believe the fact that the Senate did not vote on this matter represents a real danger to the country. In the past several years, several of our Presidents have been chosen by less than a majority of the vote. President Nixon received substantially less than a majority of the vote but because the presence of the third party candidate, he was the winner of more votes than any other contender. So we can clearly say that President Nixon is the popularly elected leader of the nation. But with the advent of a third party movement and with the splintering of American public opinion it is more and more likely that a close three-way election could develop in which a majority of the electoral vote would be cast for a candidate who was not the people's choice, Such an event would be a disaster for the Republic.

It is shameful that the rules of the Senate prevented a clear cut vote on this issue. Electoral reform is undoubtedly going to be one of the crucial decisions that the American people will have to make in the decade of the Seventies. Reform of the Electoral College has been discussed and debated for many years. It has been requested by President Nixon. This issue must be settled now if we are to have a sane and sensible future for our government. I shall continue to press for reform in the procedure for electing the President of the United States.

FOOTNOTES: In his television address on Indo-China, President Nixon indicated that the United States will demonstrate a flexible stance in seeking to bring a successfully negotiated settlement to this long war. Particularly encouraging was his offer of a standstill ceasefire, similar to a proposal I advanced last June, and his offer to negotiate a withdrawal timetable, an element which I have long felt to be essential to any final solution. Perhaps more important than any specific was the atmosphere of flexibility which I hope will be recognized . . . The House passed on a voice vote the bill cosponsored by Reps. J. Glenn Beall and Gilbert Gude and myself to establish a Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Historic Park along the Potomac River from Washington to Cumberland. I have urged the Senate Subcommittee on National Parks to hold a prompt hearing so the bill can be acted on by the Senate before Congress adjourns. . . . The Senate passed unanimously a comprehensive drug abuse prevention and control bill which I supported in committee and on the floor. President Nixon has nominated State Senator Louis Gore of Potomac, a U.S. member of the Executive Board of the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization, with the rank of ambassador. . . . An amendment I offered to the legislative reorganization bill which would have provided for the election of Senate committee chairmen and ranking minority members was defeated, 23-44. I supported passage of the final version of the reorganization bill.

Rams To Play Vikings At Petersburg

Coach Frost's Southern Rams will travel to Petersburg, W. Va., this Friday night to play the Vikings.

The Rams, having previously lost their quarterback, Ruffy Ridder, will be displaying a strong offense this Friday with his return. Southern presently holds a 3-3-1 record.

Petersburg, after losing their last two games to Hampshire and Keyser, will be suffering the loss of two major players, Porter and Moomaw. Porter is out with a sprained ankle, while Moomaw is suffering from a head injury. Petersburg now holds a 4-2-2 record.

In 1969, the Rams toppled the Vikings with the score of 28-0. Petersburg will host the Rams on their newly acquired football field, which was dedicated at the Hampshire game.

Game time on Friday, October 23, will be 7:30 p.m. Transportation for Southern students will be provided by a GAA sponsored bus for 60 cents per student.

Tonight's game, which will cost 50 cents, will begin at 7:30.

By Charles McC Mathias

NATO's Future A Bulwark of Peace

One of the principal purposes of President Nixon's most recent trip to Europe was to discuss with European leaders the continuing need for the presence of American troops on the continent of Europe. We have maintained a large military force in Europe since the establishment of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization 21 years ago to form a bulwark against further communist expansion and to provide for security and stability within the western world.

On his trip, the President reaffirmed the Administration's position that it would not withdraw any large number of American soldiers without consulting with our European allies. He also indicated that we would maintain, and if necessary, increase the effectiveness of the 6th Fleet which operates in the Mediterranean to protect the southern flank of NATO. The President correctly emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the nations of the Atlantic community. And, he re-enunciated one of the key features of American foreign policy: The western world must give the highest priority to its own security and through its own security to the stability of the developing world and the peace of the entire globe.

I have been very much concerned with the question of American relations with NATO. We must give early attention to the question of troop levels in Europe in the new Congress.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has introduced a resolution calling for a sharp reduction in the number of American troops in Europe. Fifty-two other senators have co-sponsored that resolution. There are strong arguments that can be made in favor of it. The military establishment in Europe, including related support forces and installations in the United States, costs us about $14 billion a year and about a billion dollars in net exchange losses. This is a serious fiscal problem for the American government and the American taxpayer.

But the other side of the story is the enormous cost that we would face if we lost the stability of the Atlantic region, if we lost the sense of security which has enabled Europe to recover, which enables us to do business with Europe and which enables a better life to be lived by all of the people of this community.

Because of this, I have introduced a resolution in the Senate which calls upon our European allies to join us in a collective decision as to what is needed, what can be afforded, and what an equitable sharing of the future costs will be. If this resolution is adopted by the Senate and taken seriously by our friends in Europe, I think it can contribute significantly to establishing the future profile of the Atlantic community, one of the most important factors for peace, and for our own security and prosperity.

FOOTNOTES: The Senate has approved, with my support, and the President has signed a comprehensive bill to tighten federal controls on organized crime and provide for more effective federal prosecution of those who illegally use explosives. . . . Congress also gave final passage to a major drug control bill, providing stiffer penalties for professional drug peddlers and expanding treatment programs for addicts. . . . A third major anti-crime package, which I have been closely involved with would authorize more than $3 billion over the next three years in federal aid to state and local law enforcement agencies. This bill will be considered by a conference committee to iron out minor differences between House and Senate, but final action is expected shortly after Congress reconvenes next month. . . . Congress has completed action on the bill which I supported to establish a national railroad passenger corporation to operate railroad passenger service. . . . The Senate has confirmed President Nixon's nomination of James R. Miller Jr. of Rockville to be a judge of the U.S. District Court for Maryland. I was pleased to introduce the new judge at his hearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee prior to confirmation. . . . The Senate also confirmed the nomination of State Senator Louise Gore of Potomac to be a U.S. representative of the 16th General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. The Senate Interior Subcommittee on National Parks has agreed to schedule hearings after Congress reconvenes Nov. 16 on my bill to establish a Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

What Made Joseph Great?

"See, I have set thee over all the land of Egypt" Genesis 41:41.

Joseph had all the chance of being a spoiled boy, but he became freat. Why? Why? His father showered favoritism on him which would have destroyed many a lesser boy. One saving thing is that he was sold into Egypt as a slave and got over being spoiled.

Why? Joseph was a dreamer. Hardly ever does one become great without thinking, planning, and dreaming of better things to come. Joseph evidently daydreamed some or he would hardly had his night dreams of his brothers' sheaves bowing down to his; or the sun, moon, and stars bowing down to his star. It is alright to daydream good things if you do something to make your dreams to come to pass. Joseph didn't know what to do, so he did everything the best he could.

Joseph became an efficient worker. Potiphar, his master in Egypt, turned his business over to Joseph and it prospered. When Joseph became a prisoner, the keeper of the prison soon turned the care of the other prisoners over to the care of Joseph. Joseph did more than care for the physical needs of the prisoners. He listened to them and helped to take care of their problems too.

Joseph was honest. Nowhere does the record tell of any dishonesty on the part of Joseph. In fact, honesty is a necessary ingredient of success and getting along with other people.

Joseph was pure in sexual morals. He was pure in the face of a great temptation. He finally fled from the temptation saying "How can I do this great wickedness and sin against God?" This type of depth in character pays off.

Joseph could forgive his brothers for the wrong they did to him by selling him into Egypt. By being willing to forgive, he freed his mind and heart to be on the way to give his total energy to more important things. Nursing an anger or grudge is hard on a person. Many times it makes one small when he ought to be great. Joseph did, as later the writer of Hebrews said, "Let us lay aside every weight, . . . which does so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." In this case one natural weight for Joseph would have been anger and grudges against his brothers and against God.

But more basic yet, Joseph had faith in God so deep that in the hour of great loss, in the hours of temptation, and in the hours of uncertainty it did not fail him. Later he came to see that in all his troubles, God was leading the way to better things.

Dreams, efficient hard work, honesty, purity, forgiving, and faith in God that is deep - - - - - These six, I recommend to you.

OCTOBER 22 - 28

Saturn and Mars are the only planets to be easily seen this week. Saturn rises about an hour after sunset. It is in Taurus. Mars rises about two hours before sunrise. It will be very close to the moon on Tuesday morning. Mars is moving into Leo.

The asteroid, Ceres, will be in line with the earth and the Sun on Saturday at 9:00 a.m. This alignment of celestial objects is called an opposition.

Mercury will be in line with the earth and the Sun, but on the opposite side of the Sun from the earth. This alignment is called a superior conjunction. It will occur on Tuesday at 5:00 a.m. The asteroid, Vesta, will also be in conjunction with the Sun at the same time.

Sunrise today was at 7:34 a.m. Sunset will be at 6:30 p.m. Next Wednesday sunrise will be at 6:41 a.m. and sunset will be at 5:22 p.m. Day length will have shortened by fifteen minutes during the week. Note that during the last four days we will be back on standard time.

The moon continues to wane as the week passes. It will be near the star, Regulus, on Saturday. Moonset ranges from 3:05 p.m. today to 4:18 p.m. next Wednesday. On Saturday at 6:00 p.m. the moon will be 251,600 miles from the earth. This is the farthest the moon will be from the earth during the month.

Kindergarten classes from Keyser will visit the planetarium on Monday and Tuesday to study the night sky.

On Wednesday Mrs. Blake's class from Dennett Road school will study the Solar System. Miss Miller's 9A class from Northern will study distance measurement to stars on Wednesday too.

CHIP DUMPER—Westvaco Corporation's Luke mill has recently installed a hydraulic chip dumping unit which can handle and empty a complete tractor trailer containing 20 tons of wood chips in three to five minutes. The unit is now operating in the Savage Woodyard of the company where chips are being received regularly by tractor trailer. Chip suppliers are located in many West Virginia and Maryland counties surrounding the Westvaco operation. Suppliers are principally sawmill operators who formerly burned slabs. They now debark the wood and chip the slabs which serve as a marketable product for that portion of the log they formerly burned. Westvaco's total pulpwood purchases of chips and roundwood amounted to $9 million last year. Garrett County producers received over $760,000 of this figure.

Northern Blanks Mountaineer 24-0

Bob Schmuck scored two touchdowns, one on a 72-yard punt return, sparking Northern High school Huskies to a 24 to 0 triumph over Mountaineer of Davis last Friday night at Accident.

Schmuck, whose break-away punt return gave the Huskies a 12-0 advantage late in the opening quarter, scored his team's initial touchdown in the opening moments of a play on a 13-yard run.

Northern, behind a staunch defensive effort, spearheaded by Dennis Glotfelty, Tim Galica and Kenny Gilpin, stymied the West Virginians, holding them to only 46 yards along the ground and permitting only two of 12 passing attempts.

The Huskies tallied twice in the second quarter on Rick Brenneman's 40-yard run from scrimmage and on Rick Wakefield's five yard run. Glotfelty, playing defensive end for the Huskies, made ten unassisted tackles and assisted on many others. Galica and Gilpin, playing the tackle positions, roamed the Mountaineer offensive backfield at will, permitting few gains.

Northern picked up 236 yards along the ground and completed six of 15 pass attempts. Northern had 15 first downs to 7 for Mountaineer. Northern had two passes intercepted.

Mountaineer punted seven times for an average of 24 yards. Northern punted twice for an average of 25 yards. Northern fumbled four times compared to two for Mountaineer. The Huskies were penalized eight times for a total of 80 yards. Mountaineer was penalized three times for a total of 25 yards.

The Huskies will meet Moorefield high on the home field next Friday evening, October 23.

THE RESTLESS ONES

Education Week Will Be Observed

The dilemma of today's schools and the need to "shape schools for the 70's" will be the focus of American Education Week to be observed in the country October 25-31.

Once a year, since 1921, schools throughout the nation have opened their doors during American Education Week for the public to come in and see first-hand what goes on inside the classroom.

The Southern High Student Council and Future Teachers of America are urging all citizens of the country to take this opportunity to visit the schools. Visiting hours are from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M October 26-30. During this time there will be a nursery in the library to take care of the parents' younger children. There will also be student guides on hand to give parents special tours of the school.

From 9 A.M. to 10:30 A.M. Tuesday and Thursday and from 1:30 P.M. to 3 P.M. Wednesday there will be a special assembly in the cafetorium where parents may speak with school officials and student representatives from various programs available in the school.

Interested parents and citizens may also ask questions at the schools, of the school board, and of other officials, and suggest recommendations. They may also find out who supports and who suppresses educational advancement.

American Education week is sponsored by the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education. This national observance serves to increase public understanding and support of the schools. This year's theme, "Shape Schools for the 70's," gives impetus to local efforts to find ways for more people to become involved and work together in combining resources and programs to give students the best possible preparation for life in today's world.

Beware of Campaign Promises

The promises made by a political candidate during a campaign often are forgotten after election day. But we have to live with these forgetful people, whom we have elected, for the next four years.

In Garrett County, we now have a problem with our County Roads employees. It is a serious problem, and one which deserves the immediate attention of our public officials as well as all our county citizens. If there is a quick and easy solution to this problem it has not yet been mentioned.

Therefore, we should be cautious about voting for anyone who says he will settle the dispute immediately. It is irresponsible for a candidate to make such a statement without knowing all of the facts.

Let us not forget that the County Roads Department is but one part of our county government's responsibility. Our fine school system, our hospital, our libraries, our community college, our law enforcement agencies, plus many other important agencies come under the jurisdiction of our elected county officials. Therefore, we need men in office who can not only settle the present County Roads situation, but who can also deal effectively with the day-to-day problems of county government.

Past experience has shown that our greatest progress has come as a result of the dedicated efforts of Republican officials. I urge you to put aside whatever "pie in the sky" campaign promises you may have heard, and join me in electing responsible public officials. Let's all vote the straight Republican ticket on November 3rd.

Sincerely,

Homer L. Bennett,

Chairman, Republican State Central Committee

Your Vote Counts . . . .

The will of the people cannot be measured by the level of street demonstrations but it can be measured by the interest manifested in voting. Citizens have that opportunity once again on Tuesday, November 3.

It ought not be necessary to urge citizens to vote. They should realize it is a responsibility and a privilege of a free people.

We shall, instead, feel that people will carry out their duty. What we urge this year is that the percentage of voting reach 80 percent of the registered vote. It will demonstrate, better than anything else, the aroused interest in the future of our country. Let's see a bang-up vote of the silent majority.

3 Counties To Lose Some Legislators

State Senator Ronald C. Brubaker of Washington and Allegany counties, in a speech last week in Cumberland on reapportionment, explained that it would reduce the representation in both houses of the legislature for the three western Maryland counties.

Presently there are three senators representing Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties and with the projected population figures, this representation will probably be reduced to two, with Washington county having one, Allegany and Garrett counties sharing another.

There are presently nine members of the House of Delegates representing the three counties and this will probably be reduced to six or seven. A proposed constitutional amendment, if passed, would freeze the size of the legislature at its present level of 43 senators and 142 delegates for the entire state.

To Keep Account Of Farm Accidents For Safety Council

Mrs. Cecil Bittinger, Oakland, has been named Safety reporter for this county through the County Farm Bureau, for the National Safety council. Mrs. Orval Glotfelty, Bittinger, was named co-chairman.

The National Safety council, in an effort to have factual information on causes of farm accidents, asked the cooperation of the Farm Bureau Women's committee in securing detailed information of injuries caused by forage harvesters, hay balers, homestead falls or by horses.

The information received from this area and from other states on other types of accidents, is to be compiled for an accurate picture of farm accidents. In this way the farmer may avoid some of the causes of accidents on the farm. The data will be gathered from November 1 to October 31.

Farmers are asked to cooperate by reporting accidents to either lady, if the accident caused an individual to lose a half day from work, play or school or if it required medical care; if it happened on a farm of 10 acres or more which sold $50 of produce or less than 10 acres which sold more than $250; if it happened to a family member, guest or visitor. Farms hiring out horses or having horse shows are included, according to Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle of Friendsville, chairman for the Women's group of the county Farm Bureau.

Guthrie Charged With Murder At Monday Hearing

Was Arrested In Nevada Oct. 17 With Stolen Automobile

Walter Herbert Guthrie, 20, former resident of Hazelton, W. Va., near Friendsville, was charged with first degree murder Monday in Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney's office in Oakland. He was held without bond and returned to the Garrett County Jail, as the result of the stabbing death of Merle Edward Aul, 46, of Baltimore who was found October 13 by a truck driver in the Keyser Ridge area, along U.S. route 40.

Magistrate Maroney, who conducted the preliminary hearing, said that Guthrie would be bound over for action of the Grand Jury which isn't scheduled to meet until the March term. The man may seek an immediate trial as he has that right.

Guthrie, according to Cpl. R. E. Ruppert, of the Maryland State Police, is a native of Hazelton but had resided recently in Baltimore. He had traveled frequently between the two places prior to the incident.

Guthrie, who was returned to Oakland from Fallon, Nevada, early last Thursday morning, is charged with the October 13 stabbing death of Mr. Aul.

It was determined when found that the man had been stabbed numerous times in the chest and abdomen. He had been headed for Clearfield, Pa., where he was planning to place his father in a rest home. It was not known where he had picked up Guthrie as he had left home alone.

Guthrie was arrested in Nevada while in possession of the automobile of the murdered man.

Hallowe'en Plans Complete By Lions

The annual Hallowe'en celebration, scheduled for Saturday evening, October 31, in Oakland is expected to attract its usual four to five hundred persons. Sponsoring group is the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club.

The parade is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock with Lewis R. Jones as parade chairman. The parade will form as usual at the top of the Court House hill on Fourth street and proceed to Oak, thence to Third, then to Green, and through the business district, making the circuit twice for the convenience of the judges.

Judges will award prizes which are on display this week at the Sears store window. The prize committee chairmen are J. Thomas Cain and Emile Germain. Following the parade there will be a cake walk, Dr. H. R. Gibson, chairman; food stands, William Naylor, chairman; several concessions under chairmanship of J. S. Cooper, Tom Kuhn. There will also be amusements at the fire hall with Dr. Jack Liller, chairman. Others in charge of various activities are Irvin Rudy, Jr., Paul DeWitt, Bob Daugherty, Jim Crabtree, Max Messenger.

The stands will be erected and taken down by a committee headed by Tom Doyle and Dave Cosgray. A television set will be given away, with James Nordeck in charge. Harold Trickett is in charge of sound equipment.

A portion of Second street will be roped off for the occasion.

At the regular meeting Monday night Lions members heard Dr. Luther Shaw, president of the Garrett Community college, outline the plans for its operation. The club planned its fruit cake sale for November 9.

Recognition Letter Earned By Bowman

A letter of recognition from the United States Navy was given to James L. Bowman, who was recently promoted to petty officer third class as an aviation fire control technician. He had been classified as an Airman.

He was congratulated for superior scholarship achievement by completing an intensive 20-week course in the avionics technician school in Tennessee, in sixteen weeks.

He now returns to the Naval Air Technical Training center in Millington, Tenn., near Memphis, to attend a second school there of an additional 20 weeks.

The letter stated: "In completing this accelerated course of instruction you demonstrated your superior ability, furthered your own education by hard work and conscientious effort and did so at great savings in manhours and training time. Your efforts have helped this school to provide urgently needed manpower with the necessary skills and knowledge to maintain operational avionics equipment. This achievement reflects great credit upon yourself and the Navy and Marine corps team.

Bowman completed the prescribed course of study at the center in Millington and now returns there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bowman, route 1, Oakland. In the service since January, 1970, he took his basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training station at Chicago.

Suggestions Made For Pupil Safety In Winter Travel

Attempts to make school bus service as convenient and safe as possible during severe weather will be made by the Board of Education, it was announced this week.

The board indicated it would attempt to keep schools open with as many pupils present as could safely be transported to them. The board admitted that in times of severe weather, the bus service would not be as reliable or consistent as it usually was and in some cases routes or portions of routes would not be served. The members said the paramount consideration in a decision to traverse or not to traverse a route would be the safety of the pupils concerned.

Certain plans were agreed upon cooperatively by the Board of Education staff and the Executive committee of the county School Bus Operators' association to make the service as convenient and safe as possible. They are subject to change as experience is gained.

The board said it was hopeful that services to the county roads would be restored before severe weather arrives but if they aren't the board would attempt to keep schools open with as many pupils present as could be safely transported.

In threatening or bad weather bus operators are to be available to receive messages through their homes or make arrangements for substitutes to be alert; that parents should have their children provide bus operators with their telephone numbers;

Christmas Club Checks Increase Over Last Year

The 1970 Christmas Clubs for the county closed last week with the total deposits amounting to $327,071.50. This figure represents the results from both the Garrett National Bank and the First National Bank, as well as their branches.

An increase of $3811.50 was reported over last year's total for the Garrett National Bank, establishing a final overall deposit of $137,071.50. The First National Bank also increased its deposits by $60,000.00 over the last year making a total of $190,000.00

Both banks had a rise in the number of depositors as compared to that of last year. The combined memberships for the banks consist of 3,456 members.

Checks will be mailed to the Christmas Club members in the early part of next week.

The 1971 Christmas Clubs are now underway. Deposits range from as little as 25 cents to as much as $10.00 per week. The amount of the deposit is left up to the individual member.

"Road Repair Work Is Heavy"–Smith

Despite prospects of the settlement of the road workers strike, acting engineer Clayton Smith declared last Friday he wasn't overly optimistic about getting the roads in shape before the first snowfall.

"It'll take almost that long to get the equipment into shape," he remarked, "but when we finally get to work we'll do our best to get to as many roads as we can before the snow."

None of the road repair machinery has been started since April 7, the day the long strike began. All of the graders, trucks, etc., have been idle at the three garages in Grantsville, Accident, and Oakland, their tires flattened early in the union dispute by striking employees, it was stated.

Smith said the first thing on the schedule was to get machinery in shape. In order of their importance Smith also listed the work that must be done in preparing for winter—filling potholes, erecting snow fences and correcting the causes of the potholes.

Mr. Smith said he didn't know how many workers would be returning to work, should the union gain recognition through the interim commissioners. He pointed out he couldn't get started contacting employees until he knew something definite.

It was indicated only 50 of the original 150 employees would return to work at all. The others had taken jobs elsewhere.

Mr. Smith said the cost of the strike would be almost impossible to figure—deterioration of equipment, new tires for most of the fleet of vehicles, lost wages, additional cost of transporting repair material that the roads department could have manufactured itself but can't now due to the time element.

Access Road Cost Is Set At $183,000

The only bidder on the access road into the new Bausch and Lomb plant from State route 135, was from Orrie Sensenbaugh, Cumberland, and the amount was $183,000. Total cost was estimated to be in the neighborhood of $200,000. The road advertised is approximately 1,000 feet in length with a cloverleaf called for.

Col. J. Haig Jackson, executive director of the county's Economic Development corporation, told the County Commissioners that application for additional funds had been made to Appalachia. The County Commissioners agreed to provide its share of the increased amount needed.

The Commissioners received a petition listing 131 names asking the State to retain portions of old route 219 that will no

Rate Increase For Hospital Disclosed

The Board of Governors of the Garrett County Memorial hospital has announced a raise in room rates, effective November 1. The increase, the second in about one and one-half years, will mean approximately $5 per day on the average, it was stated by Merritt Feather, hospital administrator.

The increase was necessitated by rising operating costs, it was pointed out. The following schedule was revealed:

Semi-private accomodations, $34, $36 and $38; wards and pediatrics, $30; Newborn infant, $8, newborn infant after mother is discharged, $10; private rooms, $42, $43, $45; intensive care, $60; recovery room, $48. The two latter will take effect when the new wing is in operation, which is expected to be within a period of two weeks. There will be a charge of $5 for the emergency room.

Teachers Confer On Negotiations

Emphasis on negotiations was the concern of a leadership training conference held by the County Teachers' Association at Nemacolin lodge, Deep Creek Lake last Saturday. All GCTA officers, members of the negotiating team and faculty representatives from nine schools were present.

The negotiation package was presented, the proposals being selected following a survey of the county teachers, which would improve the educational environment of the county.

Representatives from the Maryland State Teachers' association addressed the group. Tom Shaffer, field representative, discussed importance of public relations in negotiating. Bob Haugen, district representative, spoke on "How Negotiations Work," explaining responsibility of the teacher in the process. Frank Masters spoke of the role of NEA relating to the local association.

William Crone, president, announced plans for the GCTA banquet to be held on Saturday evening, November 7, at 6:30, at the Wisp.

Board Resigns; Others Named, Not Certified

Doubtful If Governor Will Confirm Until After Election, Claimed

Action to get the County Roads in shape for winter weather was no nearer a solution this morning than two months ago, in spite of efforts of citizens and some members of the Republican State Central committee to break the deadlock and get some action started.

It was indicated in last Thursday's issue that the County Commissioners probably would resign in an effort to clear the way for a settlement with the county road workers. The Commissioners submitted their resignations, contingent upon the appointments of three replacements upon recommendation of the Republican State Central Committee, and the persons qualified.

The committee named N. Ross Selby, Friendsville, Dr. Ralph Calendrella, Kitzmiller; and Thomas Butscher, Oakland, and the recommendations were sent by certified mail to the governor. The Governor's office at first revealed that the recommendations had not arrived, but finally admitted they had come Saturday morning and that prompt action would be taken. However by Wednesday evening, nothing had occurred. A call to the governor's office on Wednesday to the legal officer and chief legislator, revealed that the governor had turned over the papers to him but that he had not acted.

Mr. Butscher said last night that he had heard indirectly the governor planned no certification until after the election on Tuesday.

This had been contrary to negotiations with the governor earlier last month when the move had been made originally to give the county a chance to have a month or more of autumn weather to fill potholes, get up snowfences and get the machinery in working condition which had been allegedly damaged by striking road workers.

It was pointed out this morning that the election is just a few days away, and that the newly elected county Commissioners will be able to qualify and be certified within another week. They will be able to succeed the old commissioners as soon as they are certified.

There were reports also that some citizens of the county, both Republican and Democrat, who had recommended to the governor that no action be taken, that an appointment of three men at this stage of the controversy would be useless.

County Commissioners Hubert A. Friend and John Ross Sines were approached originally September 23 and at that time Commissioner Allen S. Paugh said he would resign if they did.

They said they offered to resign so constructive progress could be made. They said they believed the majority of the citizens of the county were opposed to union recognition and had requested a question of union recognition to be placed on the ballot but it was learned this was too late to be done.

We Must Not Isolate Ourselves

It has been stated by leaders in the other party that "controlled progress" is important to Garrett County, and that Garrett County's "controlled progress" is due to the leadership of the other party.

If "controlled progress" means letting our roads go to pieces, opposing progress in education, complete indifference to the problems of the aging, mentally ill and handicapped, then we must agree that the other party has been responsible.

On the other hand, the Democrat Party believes that real progress is measured by the prosperity, happiness and general well being of all our people.

We are living today in a different world than we have ever lived in before. Garrett County cannot isolate itself from this changing world.

BERNARD M. GUY
COMMISSIONER DISTRICT #1
PULL LEVER NO. 16B

Dear Voter:

I have talked with many of you, discussing our problems, as I traveled over the County and it has been a rewarding experience. But since it was impossible for me to meet all of you I am taking this means of speaking to you.

As a business man and a taxpayer I have been interested in our County and have been active in many ways to make Garrett County a better and more prosperous place to live. I have been a member of the Economic Development Corporation for the past seven years, also on the Advisory Board of the Potomac River Basin Project and many Civic organizations. We, of the Economic Development Corporation, have written an overall program for the County, with the combined thinking of many citizens and the guidance of professional State and local persons.

There is now a direction in which to head! Solving the problems and realizing the opportunities in the County will require acknowledgment by the people that they can do something to improve their lot, realization that they should do something about it and resolution that it is time to start, NOV. 3.

Through the efforts of the Economic Development Corporation we have already succeeded in getting new industry and will continue our efforts to do all possible to improve our County.

I am soliciting your influence and support. I need your VOTE! Don't sell your County short. We need Good Government not Bad Publicity.

Board Resigns

The conclusion of their resignation was "effective when the new appointments have been made by the Governor, and the Commissioner appointments qualify." Legally the governor cannot make any appointments until the other commissioners have actually resigned, which they did not do.

Mr. Selby, one of those named, belongs to the GOP committee, having been named at the primary election. Mr. Butscher is manager of the local radio station, and Dr. Calendrella, is a retired Kitzmiller physician.

In the midst of the confusion it was told that Governor Marvin Mandel was scheduled to appear briefly in Oakland on Saturday morning and that he would like about fifteen minutes of radio time before returning to Baltimore. The subject of his remarks was not known by B. O. Aiken, Accident, who announced his coming. "It could be political, it could be about the roads and Commissioners." In a telephone conversation with Mr. Aiken last night he said a drug problem had come up in Baltimore and it might be that the governor would not appear at all. He was expecting a telephone call today in this regard.

Unofficial Word

There was an unofficial word this morning that the appointed commissioners would be officially qualified on November 4 and that Mr. Butscher would receive a telephone call this morning from the governor on the matter.

It was also unofficial that the road workers, on the strength of the governor's action would be willing to sit down and negotiate immediately.

Access Road

longer be a part of the highway after present construction is completed. Request already has been made to the State Roads commission.

The Commissioners gave the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club permission to erect a Christmas tree on the Court House lawn.

Thomas Hetz, Board of Supervisors of Elections member, advised that the request for placing the question concerning the county roads problem on the ballot could not be done as limit for filing such requests was in July.

Dr. Elmer L. Hill, acting health officer, discussed the need of a full time health officer for the county and suggested the Commissioners ask for a full time health officer with the county to provide additional funds. A qualified man is available, the Commissioners were told. Commissioners Sines and Friend felt this matter should be left for attention of the new board.

The Commissioners discussed with the Sanitary commission the discharge of sewage from Bausch and Lomb plant, renewal of note now due and funds to be received. Sewage facilities are being delayed by lack of funds. Federal funds are expected in a short time.

Suggestions

that parents should not unnecessarily tie up their telephones for long periods; in case a driver is unable to traverse a portion of his bus route he will make every effort to inform parents.

Drivers are to organize a communications network to keep each other and the Board informed on road conditions and to advise when schools need to be closed or dismissed early. Bus operators are to give pupils their telephone numbers and parents are to call driver in case of deteriorating weather conditions.

Operators are to confer with route parents about special conditions affecting the route and about what assistance is available from area residents in case of need. PTA presidents and principals are being urged to invite bus operators to meetings to discuss bad weather plans. Operators are urged to keep gasoline tanks full in case of delays on their runs.

Other suggestions are made for the operator in using his best judgment about his route, about parking his bus. Contractors owning Caterpillar tractors are to be alerted and bus operators will be supplied with a list.

Parents were advised not to take chances and to keep children home in bad weather if necessary. If necessary to close a regional school all schools will be closed in that region. Care should be exercised in dressing children warmly and not to leave small children waiting alone for a bus unless there is a shelter.

Information about school conditions will be heard over the Frostburg, Keyser, Uniontown and Oakland radio stations, according to Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, county superintendent of schools.

Homemakers Study "Use Of Drugs"

Homemaker clubs will be studying the Use of Drugs at their meetings during November.

Dates were announced by Mrs. Freda S. Denison, extension agent.

November 2, Grantsville club, 1:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs Harvey Gortner.

November 3, Casselman Valley club, 8 p.m., home of Mrs. Fran Stieringer.

November 5, New Germany club, 1:30 p.m., home of Mrs. Harry Hummel.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

Won't Someone Listen???

On attending the PTA of Southern High school last Monday night, I found myself very disappointed in quite a number of the parents of our community. No, not all of them; only some. But these few could be deadly; they could be the few that are causing some of our young adults to cop out.

A teacher at Southern read an article that was written by a WVU student journalist which stated:

"Anger, disillusionment, distrust, drugs, sex, dropping out and copping out are all attempts to find answers to the questions 'Why have you been deceiving us? Why did you tell us one thing and live another? Can't you see that by your own rule book, you are in the wrong?' "

It wasn't the article that shocked me, but the reaction of some of the parents seated near me. They sat there shaking their heads and whispering that it is basically the child's fault, or partially the school's fault, but certainly not the parent's fault!! Parents like to hear that someone else is responsible for the actions of their children. But, "there is always the danger that a politician may begin to believe what he says. In this case, I think it would be quite unfortunate if you did.'

These parents who refuse to admit that possibly they could be the cause of their child's desire to leave society are only fooling themselves; no one else. But besides this self-deception they are unconsciously aiding the downfall of an entire generation.

They wonder why their children don't respect them as their parents taught them to do. What reasons have a large number of parents given their children to respect them? They lecture about the potential dangers of marijuana, yet billions of dollars are spent daily on alcohol and cigarettes! And how about today's commercials on television? The majority of products advertised use what as their desired effect? Sex appeal!! Is it any wonder the youth of today have somewhat lesser morals?

Oh, I could go on and on with many examples. But would it do any good? Won't society open their eyes to what is really happening to my generation? We do need help, but to whom can we safely turn? We can't do it ourselves!!

"To ignore us, to jeer at us, may be profitable for you today. But it will be misery for America unless someone in power starts listening soon." 2. 1. New York Times, Sept. 26, 1970; by Anthony Lewis.

Suggestions Given For Safe Mailing

Postmaster Guy Wm. Hinebaugh at Oakland listed four tips on how the residents of the area can help meet tight Christmas budgets this year by careful mailing of cards and parcels.

For the most effecient mailing, Mr. Hinebaugh suggested the following:

1. For servicemen overseas, "Sam" (Space Available Mail) Christmas parcels can be sent until November 20 for only the domestic parcel post charge involved from Oakland to East or West Coast. Parcels up to 5 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth are accepted.

2. Larger parcels (up to 30 pounds with the same length and girth limitations) can be sent as "PAL" (Parcel Airlift) mail, provided they are mailed by November 27. The charge is $1 per parcel, plus the regular domestic parcel post postage.

3. For all packaging, invest in good quality, sturdy wrapping materials.

4. Use Zip Code as a tool in mailing. When it is used consistently on parcels and cards, Zip Code helps prevent errors in delivery and expedites handling. ling.

"The key to effecient Christmas mailing," Mr. Hinebaugh commented, "is to mail early and carefully. Clear addressing, with the Zip Codes, proper packing and early depositing can prevent most problems and provide the greatest value for money spent for postage."

ELECT
FOR County Commissioner
Commissioner District No. 2

Reasons for Thought and Consideration

1. It is a proven fact that experience is outstanding in any successful operation. Four years of good progressive county government was realized when I was your commissioner from 1962-1966.

2. The ability and knowledge to accept and consider both sides of all problems before making a conclusive decision is of utmost importance.

3. The economic structure of the county has been damaged by those who are only concerned of grudgery and get even policy which only enhances the "prospective for the future."

4. The road department strike at present is our major problem and in my opinion can be handled feasibly and legally to return the men back to work. I have negotiated with these men before and feel capable of doing so again. Let us not forget "they" are the basic backbone of our entire economic structure in the county.

I will be unable to contact all of you personally before election day but I hope you will pause a few minutes and think over my previous record as Commissioner and then on November 3 act accordingly.

Your sincere support and vote can mean the solution of returning our good county of Garrett back to "normal."

Pointer Number 17B is a good "point-er" to remember on Election Day, November 3.

Your trustworthy nominee for County Commissioner,

EARL E. OPEL

Voters To Decide Fate Of Eleven Ballot Questions

Voters next Tuesday will have the opportunity to vote on nine proposed constitutional amendments, a question about a constitutional convention and a statewide referendum.

Question Number one concerns the establishment of the position of lieutenant governor. A vote in favor means provision for an immediate and definite transfer of power in event of the death, resignation or incapacity of a governor. A vote against means no provision for lieutenant governor with qualifications for governor remaining as at present.

Question number two concerns establishment of a district court with statewide jurisdiction to take the place of the present justices of the peace. A vote in favor means provisions for a uniform system for lower courts throughout the state. A vote against means retaining the present system of lower courts.

Question three concerns changing method of choosing judges of court of appeals, special court of appeals, circuit courts and supreme bench. Proposed change would be for governor to choose judges with consent of Senate. A vote in favor means judges would be appointed by the governor. A vote against means retaining the present procedures for selection of judges.

Question four concerns extending length of session of General Assembly. A vote in favor means decreasing time between election of governor and assumption in office, extending session. A vote against means retaining the present procedure.

Question five concerns reapportionment of general assembly. A vote in favor means providing constitutional provisions for apportionment and mandatory reapportionment after each decennial federal census. A vote against means the state constitution would not contain a valid provision for apportionment.

Question six proposes changing residence requirement for voters to six months. A vote in favor means residence requirements would be lowered to six months in the state and in counties to closing of registration books. A vote against means residence requirements for voting would remain as at present, one year in state and six months in county.

Question seven concerns reorganization of executive branch. A vote in favor means right to reorganize executive branch extended to the governor. A vote against means retaining present system.

Question eight concerns an alternative method for a county to obtain a charter. A vote in favor means County Commissioners would initiate charter procedure without being petitioned to do so. Petitioning process would be simplified. A vote against means the alternative procedure would not be added to the constitution.

Question nine proposing adding to declaration of rights that "nothing shall prohibit or require the making reference to belief in, reliance upon, or invoking the aid of God" in any governmental document, proceeding, activity, ceremony, school, institution or place. A vote in favor would add this new section to the declaration of rights. A vote against would retain present language.

Question ten concerns advisability of calling a constitutional convention for altering the present constitution or framing a new one. A vote in favor means calling for a Constitutional Convention. A vote against means no convention would be called.

Question 11 concerns a community development administration. A vote in favor means Maryland would have a state agency to help local governments and private industry develop new and existing communities designed to include a substantial number of homes for families of limited and middle incomes and to obtain Federal funds for community developments. A vote against means Maryland would have no state agency working to solve the problem of the housing shortage. This petition for referendum has been challenged by the courts.

The victory was the fifth of the season against two losses and two ties for Coach Beams' gridders. Southern's record now is 3-4-1.

The first important improvement in winter tire design in over 20 years!

America's most widely copied winter tire is
All New for 1970!

What's so much better about it?
The new "asymmetrical" design has three different patterns across the tread: (1) open traction pattern on one side to dig in and pull through mud and snow; (2) stable traction pattern on other side prevents bogging down in deep snow; and (3) center "Z" bars give much greater mileage. You get 40% more pulling power in loose snow.* This unique tire can be used on drive wheels only, or in all four wheel positions for greater stopping traction and steering control.
The new "asymmetrical" Firestone Town & Country tire provides positive handling, long wear and a smoother, quieter ride on any road...wet or dry...even at turnpike speeds. Come in and see it today. We believe you'll agree...it's the finest winter tire you can buy!
All comparisons relate to conventional Firestone Town & Country tire.*

8 ROWS OF STUDS INSTEAD OF 6
This new "asymmetrical" Town & Country tread design permits the placement of 112 ice-gripping studs instead of 84 for greater security on ice. Put them on drive wheels only, or all 4 positions and say good-bye to winter driving worries!

Firestone Town & Country®
Asymmetrical All-Position WINTER TIRE
A completely new concept in winter tire design...to give you better STARTING, better STOPPING, better STEERING and better MILEAGE than conventional Firestone Town & Country tires...America's favorite!

VOTERS OF Garrett County
Think For Yourselves

In this election, let's vote for the man — not the straight Party ticket. Voters, remember this — when you vote a straight ticket, you are totally discarding the individual qualifications of the candidate — can you in all fairness to yourself, your County and your Country blindly vote a straight Party ticket knowing that there are better qualified men running on another ticket?

It is our population and geographical location that give us the blsssings of a low crime rate, less pollution, lower taxes and no riots. No one party can take credit for any one of these any more than it can take credit for a beautiful autumn scene or our God-made mountains.

We urge you to give the CANDIDATE your vote — not the party. God gave you a brain — USE IT.

Tom Doyle

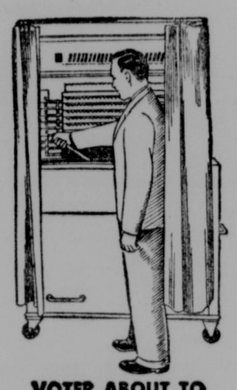
1. Move the Red Operating Lever to the right. ('till bell rings.)

2. Turning down a Voting Pointer over the name of each candidate you wish to vote for. LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.

3. Move the Red Operating Lever to the Left.



VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, and left down.

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

In an office to which more than one candidate is to be voted for, you can turn down the proper number of voting pointers, but no more, even if one is directly under the other.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. You can make as many changes as you desire while the operating lever is at the right side.

No one will know how you have voted, because the movement of the Red operating lever returns the voted voting pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

Freeway To Cause Mink Farm Move

When the Freeway is constructed from Keyser Ridge to the West Virginia line, toward Morgantown, a mink farm will have to go, according to Glenn Sines, Friendsville who has such a farm right in the path of the proposed highway. He told the State Roads commission about his troubles at a recent meeting in Cumberland.

His plight was reported by Kathy Kraus, a staff correspondent for The Sun, Baltimore.

The reason the minks will have to go is this: the minks' ears will be too sensitive to the sound of construction and afterward to the "whishing" of cars when they replace the construction.

The SRC was told that the mink farm as well as 20 families living in the town of Friendsville would have to be relocated because of the four-lane highway. Mr. Sines' minks, all 1,800 of them, currently reside in shelters which the 57-year-old carpenter built himself on 2½ acres of land near the town.

Mr. Sines claims that no one has officially told him his land will be taken for the road, but he said, "I think it will be partially affected, judging by the stakes." Even if some acreage remains the mink cannot. According to Mr. Sines, lights and sounds affect the animal's breeding cycle. He says he is too old to move the minks to a different location as it would be too much trouble to go building shelters all over again.

Mr. Sines got into the mink business about 14 years ago when his son, Marvin, now 30, brought home an advertisement from a Virginia newspaper about breeding minks.

Mr. Sines started with two mink. Today the Sines' farm has 1,800 minks, in colors of blue, black, lavender, brown and palomino. Each pelt can be sold anywhere from $3 to over $30.

The commission had met to discuss the National Freeway and found several unique problems. The mink farm was one. Another was the 20 families which must be relocated before the state can tear down their homes. Only two houses are supposedly for sale in Friendsville. Another problem is mineral rights.

The National Freeway is a 42-mile stretch between Cumberland and the Maryland-West Virginia line near Bruceton. The federal government is providing $54 million for Maryland's share. The freeway is expected to be completed late in 1975. The state has to provide an amount equal to the federal sum through revenue from gasoline and other taxes.

SENSING THE NEWS

American Perspective

On the Cumberland Plateau, Tennessee — In this region of flat-topped mountains and V-shaped valleys, the traveler discovers anew the magnificent land that lured early settlers from the eastern seaboard. It is a refreshing land, not only in terms of climate but intellectually.

Nowadays, the headlines tell of urban and environmental "crises." The public is bombarded with messages concerning the population "explosion." The beautiful open lands of eastern and middle Tennessee are a reminder that much of America is still unspoiled and uncrowded. Any American who truly longs for natural beauty and privacy can find it in these hills and valleys. This Tennessee region constitutes a rebuke to those Americans who downgrade their country and describe it solely in terms of ugliness and confusion.

No doubt people today need constant reminders that the crowded megalopolis of the Northeast isn't the sum total of America. The strife-ridden big city is a real and disturbing part of the national scene, but not the only part. In many other regions there is a harmony between God's and man's handiwork, between the physical environment and the way of life of the people. An automobile journey through the Tennessee countryside results in clearer perspective on the realities of of the public. A stable existence persists to a much greater degree than a reading of Life and Look would suggest.

The distorted view of American realities stems in large measure from the fact that the networks and magazines are published in metropolitan centers where the breakdown of sound values is most pronounced and where the fads of a small segment of the population are regarded as the wave of the future for all elements in the country.

Though the networks and slick magazines are powerful instruments for projecting the values of the confused view to the country at large, they are not capable of absolutely transforming the national character and outlook. Regional accents and viewpoints prevail. The American people -- in Tennessee and elsewhere -- are wise enough to know that a picture on the TV tube cannot encompass or fully represent tthe reality of America or the world.

In the 1920's and 1930's a group of scholar-writers at Vanderbuilt University in Nashville, Tenn., dubbed themselves the "Agrarians." They counseled people in their region to return to the land and the traditional values. Ironically this state -- the home of the "Agrarians"-- became the founding place of the atomic age. At Oak Ridge, west of Knoxville, began mankind's march into the atomic age. But the land around Oak Ridge is almost as unspoiled as it was in 1796 when Tennessee became the 16th state in the Union. Atomic energy has not cancelled the validity of the independent spirit that always has characterized this state.

Neither Tennessee nor any state of the Union will return to a wholly "agrarian" way of life. But the emphasis of the literary "Agrarians" on an ordered mode of life was not futile. Many people in this country, while desiring a strong industrial economy, are aware of the need for balance in their communities and personal lives. They still admire the self-reliance of the pioneers and regard this quality as essential to a modern people. They have kept their faith in America and its promises.

At a time when one hears incessant criticism of the United States and its way of life, it is important to bear in mind that America the beautiful still exists and that the vast majority of its people still uphold American principles and traditions.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

President—National Education Program

Searcy, Arkansas

One of the oldest and most respected private Washington news services is warning its nation-wide clientele that inflation is here to stay and that today's dollar will be worth only 50 cents in 10 years. It ls a "hard-nosed" prediction based on the realities of American politics. It should be frightening to every citizen because inflation is not a sound or safe way of life for government or individual. It is dangerous. When the factors creating inflation are controllable by government, and government leadership is swayed by political expediency, inflation can lead to national financial panic—even national disaster.

The Federal government continues to spend more than it receives, and the Nixon Administration, as have the others before it, has failed to persuade labor unions to stop forcing wage increases for which there has been no corresponding rise in productivity. These two factors are crimping the living standard of every American—through the resulting inflation. It is the old story of politicians bowing to pressure of minority groups. Democratic and Republican administrations have been doing it more and more, and with constant acceleration since 1930.

The reason is that the majority of American citizens do not participate in their government. Most Americans, during the last 50 years, have not written a single letter to a Congressman or to the President, nor made a single "demand" for services. And when Congressmen are confronted with a "demand" from a pressure group they hear scarcely any opposition to it from their other constituents, so they rationalize that it is a "public demand," and grant it—the cost of government goes up, usually on deficit spending.

So—inflation could be ended quickly if a majority of Americans told their Senators, Congressman and the President to (1) balance the budget and (2) persuade industry and organized labor (both of which are minority groups) to cease establishing wage rates each year higher that the improvement in man-hour productivity justifies. The Washington private news service is of the opinion the unorganized majority of the American public is too preoccupied, too apathetic, to make such logical demands.

More non-pressure group Americans are writing their Congressmen and the President today than ever before. Millions have been awakened to some of the dangers existing in present national trends, and are beginning to participate in government. But not enough citizens are involved—not by a long shot. Twenty million active citizens writing one letter a week could halt the nation's careening toward disaster in many forms—inflation, breakdown of law and order, moral decay, disintegrating internal security, weakening national defense posture, etc. This is the most urgent challenge to a free people since our nation was founded.

The Federal Budget for the 1970-71 fiscal year is $205 billion. At present tax rates receipts won't cover that amount. So government will borrow from $5 billion to $10 billion to make up the difference, and that much thrust of inflationary spending will keep inflation "hot." The National Debt rises, of course, as it has been doing year after year. In the last 15 years of unprecedented prosperity, the National debt has been increased more than $100 billion.

If Federal government finances could be placed in the hands of an utterly unpolitical director and staff, and if the operation of the various governmental services could be placed under the management of capable people not subject at all to political pressures or political expediency, Federal spending could be gradually cut at least 25 percent, and finally much more—with the entire nation and all its people benefiting

Open Letter to the people and voters of Garrett County

As this campaign draws to a close, and since it's impossible to greet each one of you, I am taking this means of communicating with you.

As our county enters the decade of the spirited seventies, we are blessed with industrial, economic and social growth. The impact of the Bausch & Lomb industrial plant at Mt. Lake Park, the impact of the Community College at McHenry and the continuance of the National Freeway through the northern part of our county will be accompanied by allied industries and businesses. This is good, and as it should be, however, we will be faced with new challanges and ever-present problems in government.

Therefore, I am asking you to support and vote for me in the General Election on Tuesday, November 3, to help resolve these problems in a youthful, responsible, coordinated approach.

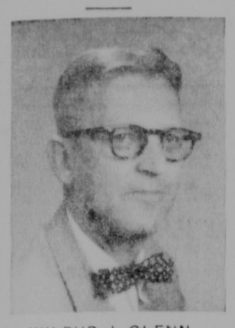
I am a native Garrett Countian, born, raised and educated in Garrett County. I have conducted my own campaign and financed my own campaign. I am fully aware of the sobering responsibilities that are connected with the office that I seek, and the only promise I make to you is that, if elected, I will do my utmost to serve Garrett County well.

Thank You,

DeCarsey Emroy Bolden

—By Authority of the Candidate

DIED



WILBUR J. GLENN

Wilbur J. (Pappy) Glenn, a classroom teacher and administrator in Maryland schools for 41 years, and a former resident of Friendsville, died October 19 at North Arundel hospital after a brief illness.

Funeral services for Mr. Glenn, who was 67, were held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Singleton funeral home in Glen Burnie with interment in the Smithsburg cemetery in Smithsburg.

Born and reared in Smithsburg near Hagerstown Mr. Glenn was graduated from the University of Maryland in 1923. His first teaching position was at Surrey school, known as the old Surrey Boys school, in Hagerstown. In 1927 he went to Friendsville Elementary and High school where he stayed until the early 1950's.

In 1953 he moved to Anne Arundel county and taught at Arundel Senior High school for about three years. He then went to Odenton Elementary school and served as its principal for nine years before retiring in 1965.

In addition to education work Mr. Glenn was also interested in business. While in Friendsville he was a bank trustee and at one time operated a limestone quarry and water company. He also did bookkeeping work for businessmen and contractors as well as individual income tax work, something he continued to do after retiring from the educational field.

In earlier years he golfed and hunted. He was a member of the Odenton Kiwanis club, Masonic order at Oakland, and the Ali Ghan Shrine of Cumberland.

He is survived by his wife, Evangeline R. Glenn, a music teacher at Richard Henry Lee elementary school in Glen Burnie; three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Coakley, Severn; Mrs. Geraldine Placos, Laurel; and Mrs. Bonnie Bollie, Ellicott City, also a brother, Ira Glenn, Smithsburg; five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved Husband, Dad, and Granddad, Charles A. Barkman, who passed away seven years ago October 28, 1963.

Seven years ago God took you away from us and we miss you more each day.

There are still silent tears for we loved you so and heartaches for you, my Darling.

I stand by the window watching evening's stars and longing for you, my Darling, and I am sad and lonely for you.

My Darling, I wish you could be here to see your little granddaughter, Carol.

But in our hearts we know God needed you more and gave you rest from your pains.

Some day we will be together.

No one can ever fill your vacant place in our hearts.

Sadly missed by his wife Betty, daughter Carol Ann, Granddaughter Little Carol.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican will run a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming in future issues.

What is the basis for control of the Community College?

In Maryland, the community colleges come under the jurisdiction of the Maryland State Board of Community Colleges, which sets up the general regulations under which the community colleges operate. The specific control is vested in the local College Board of Trustees. Its members are comprised of the County Board of Education. However, the College is considered a separate entity with its own objectives and mode of operation apart from, but working in cooperation with, the local schools. As the size of the college operation has grown, the Community College Boards of Trustees in the state have typically become separate in personnel from the local Boards of Education.

The local Board of Trustees is comprised of Mrs. Diane S. Thayer, Chairman; Mr. Clinton W. Englander, Vice-Chairman; Mr. Ralph H. Beachley; Mr. Robert F. Diehl; and Dr. H. Robert Gibson, Associate Members. Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, Superintendent of Schools, serves as Secretary-Treasurer of the Board.

Truckers Injured

Two coal truck drivers were injured October 20 after they collided on W. Va. Route 42 near Mt. Storm.

Allen Dale Kile, 18, Petersburg, W. Va., was taken to Grant County Memorial hospital and underwent knee surgery. The othre driver, Arthur O. Hawk, 47, Elk Garden, was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland.

According to police at Petersburg, Hawk, who was driving an empty dump truck, was crossing the highway when Kile, who was driving a tractor-trailer loaded with coal, north on 42, struck the Hawk vehicle. The dump truck turned over in the highway while the tractor-trailer plunged down an embankment and overturned.

BAUSCH AND LOMB DISPLAY—This photo shows only a portion of the Bausch and Lomb display that is in the window of the Ruth Enlow Library on Second street in Oakland. Some of the machines used in the manufacture of ophthalmic lenses and photos of other division plants were set up in the exhibit which was made ready for the autumn glory visitors the week-end of October 9, 10 and 11. Some of the stages of manufacturing are shown along with a picture of the new plant now under construction east of Mt. Lake Park. The three instruments in the window include a vertometer for checking lenses, a valsonic cleaner and a heat treating unit for making a lens resistant to heat. The display was organized by William P. Kellam, Jr., director of corporate communications.

Oakland Bus Run Ordered Retained

The W. Va. Public Service Commission has approved new time schedules for Mountaineer Bus line of Morgantown, but has specified that the firm must continue three runs which it had hoped to discontinue.

The PSC acted on a request submitted Aug. 14 by the firm to revise its schedules effective Aug. 16. The effective date was postponed until December 11, following a PSC hearing in September.

The commission authorized the bus lines to immediately implement its proposed new schedule but to retain an 8:45 a. m. trip between Morgantown and Oakland, a trip from Morgantown to Cassville, and an afternoon trip from Morgantown to Kingwood. The bus line had indicated it wanted to drop those three runs.

Residents of Terra Alta and Reedsville had protested the proposed dropping of regular runs to Oakland and Kingwood.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sharps of 564 South Third Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Velna Sue, to Mr. James Louis Rowlands, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Rowlands of Fairfax, Virginia.

Miss Sharps is a graduate of Southern High school and attended Towson State college. She is employed by C and P Telephone Company in Arlington, Virginia. Mr. Rowlands is a graduate of Fairfax High school and Northern Virginia Community college. He is employed by Coastal Electric Corporation in Fairfax, Virginia. The wedding will take place in December.

Northern Hi Edges Moorefield 30-22

Rick Brenneman weaved 52 yards for a fourth period touchdown after scoring on a five-yard run in the third quarter, sparking the Northern High Huskies to a 30-22 triumph over Moorefield last Friday night at Northern. He also tallied on a pair of two-pointers following his TD's.

Quarterback Steve Myers whose 62-yard pass play to Schmuck set up the Huskies' 1st period TD, also scored on a two-yard run in the second stanza as Moorefield took a 16-14 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

Buddy Park's four-yard run followed Larry Eye's 21-yard touchdown pass to Rick Hawse, pushing the Yellow Jackets into the lead.

Brenneman's 2 touchdowns in the second half pulled the Huskies away, and a six-yard scoring jaunt by Moorefield quarterback George Hott came too late.

Moorefield was penalized some 156 yards on 12 detected infractions as Northern gained 193 yards rushing to 113 for the visitors. Northern's left guard Don Richter and right tackle Kenny Gilpin were both lost in the opening stanza with broken arms.

Moorefield's Hott completed five of eleven pass tries good for 77 yards while Myers' only completion in eight tries was his 62-yarder to Schmuck. Each team had ten first downs, with Moorefield having 6 on rushing compared to 8 for Northern.

The Huskies, now 4-4 on the campaign, entertain Bruce High of Westernport on Friday evening on the Northern gridiron.

Young Pedestrians Killed On Streets Cause For Alarm

Lt. Col. W. H. Weber, Deputy Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, reviewing the traffic fatalities which occurred in Maryland during the week ending October 25, said "The number of young pedestrians killed on our streets and highways in recent weeks is cause for concern."

"We must," said Lt. Col. Weber, "teach the children safety while not forgetting to practice it ourselves. We must instruct them to play where there is safety, health and fun."

Lt. Col. Weber urges all parents and teachers to constantly remind young children to "play on the sidewalks, not in the street" and when crossing streets and highways to "look both ways for safety, then walk, do not run."

We'll take on any dealer in town with our new Sportabout.

The 1971 Sportabout

The Sportabout is styled more along the lines of a sporty car than a station wagon.

It has a rear lift-gate and 58.3 cubic feet of cargo space, yet it's small enough to park and handle easily.

Now you might get the idea that the Sportabout costs a lot of money. It doesn't.

In fact, we don't think you can find a better car for the money anywhere.

If you had to compete with GM, Ford and Chrysler dealers, what would you do?

Now there are two "snaggletooths" in the family. What fun Jerry had trying to duplicate his own toothless grin!

I smiled, remembering his first "jack-o'-lantern" and how he had howled with fright at the eerie smile of the funny-faced vegetable. Jim and I had to work hard to convince him that "jack-o'-lanterns" were fun. Now, just a few years later, the "jack-o'-pumpkin" is one of his special delights.

How easy it is to shape the attitudes of a little child. It seems to Jim and me that Jerry is like a sponge, soaking up thoughts and ideas from the things we do and say. His points of view reflect our own.

That's why we know how important it is for all of us to go to church every Sunday. It was there we learned the love for God that enriches our every day. We want this dominion and joy to become a part of Jerry's life, too.

ARE YOU A RELATIVE?

Lesson for November 1, 1970

Background Scripture: Acts 2:44-47; Galatians 6:1-10; Ephesians 2:19-22; Colossians 3:12-17; 1 John 1.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 2:14-22.

Ephrata, Pennsylvania is a pleasant town on the main highway between the cities of Reading and Lancaster in the heart of the so called "Pennsylvania Dutch" (German) country. Perhaps you have read of or even visited the famous "Ephrata Cloisters," the restored historical site of the pre-Revolutionary War religious community.

Rev. Althouse

A Reputation For Trouble

During the Revolutionary War there lived in Ephrata two men who were well-known to everyone in the town. One of them was greatly liked and highly respected. He had suffered a great deal of injury and difficulty from the second man who was notorious for his meanness and worthlessness.

It was a great relief when the second man enlisted in the Continental Army. Perhaps he would finally amount to something, they thought. Instead, however, he got into as much trouble in the army as he had in Ephrata. In time, he committed a very serious offence, was arrested, convicted, and sentenced to be hanged.

The people of Ephrata soon learned of the disgraceful conduct of their townsman and his scheduled execution. Some said it would be a good thing for both the town and the army. No one seemed to be able to manage much sympathy for the man who had caused everyone so much pain and trouble.

"My deadly enemy"

No one—except the man who had every reason to hate him most. The respected citizen who had so been wronged by the man set out and walked some sixty miles to Washington's headquarters. When he arrived at the camp, of the Continentals, he requested an interview with General Washington. The interview was granted and the man pleaded for the life of the convicted soldier.

Although the General listened carefully and with much interest, when the man from Ephrata had finished his appeal, Washington expressed his regret that he could not grant the man's earnest request. Not only had the man committed a serious crime deserving the sentence of death, but the maintenance of discipline in the army required that the sentence be carried out.

Noting the sincere disappointment in the man's face, General Washington asked, "Are you a relative of this man?" "No," replied the man sadly. "Then are you his friend?" asked the General. "No," answered the man, "that man was my deadly enemy!"

He who had received only injury and abuse was prepared to give kindness and mercy in return. Why would any man do this? Do you think it was because he suddenly developed a strong liking or affection for his former enemy?

To restore the tresspasser

No, the answer is more to be found in Paul's admonition to the Christians at Galatia: "Brethren, if a man is overtaken in any tresspass, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness" (Galatians 6:1). The natural response to one who has wronged us is to respond with bitterness, but Paul calls us to follow the example of Christ who, though he was abused and wronged by many without just cause, continued in his concern for the souls of those who had wronged him.

"Are you a relative?" Washington asked. If I call God my Father as I know he is the father of all other men, I must answer, "Yes!"

WE ARE GLAD TO OBLIGE

Because a pharmacy is intimately involved with health, the service it must provide goes much beyond any possible profit motive or advantage over a competitor. The best example of this pharmacy ethic is the cooperation between ordinarily competing pharmacies when time is an urgent factor.

Although we usually have most prescribed drugs in stock, or can get a medicine delivered to us the same day, we occasionally must have it that same hour. When this happens we will ask another pharmacy to "oblige" us and let us borrow from him the needed drug until we can replace it. Other pharmacies will follow the same procedure in getting an urgently needed medicine from us. The health of the customer must always be the primary concern of every pharmacist.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

News Briefs

The first grading period will end this Friday. Report cards will be given to students on Friday, November 6, to take home to parents.

Band

The Southern Senior High Marching Band will travel to Hagerstown this weekend to march in the Annual Mummers Parade. The parade is one of the largest held in the state of Maryland.

The band will be wearing its new uniforms and will play "Hey Look Me Over". Earlier in the year the band received a superior rating at the Forest Festival and placed third out of the fifty bands attending.

Homecoming

Juniors and seniors voted for king and queen of the Annual Homecoming event this week.

Girls on the court include Debbie Gatian, Tammy Hayden, LuJean Liller, Paula Railey, and Susie Rebele. Boys are Tom Bosley, Pete Cosby, Tom Hayhurst, Terry King and George Tusing. Eleventh grade representatives are Karen McHenry, Rick Shaffer, and George Zimmerman. Representing the sophomore class is Mary Lynn Gibson.

Candidates are chosen from the Girl's Athletic Association and the Varsity Club.

The names of the king and queen will be announced at the bonfire which is to be held on November 5.

Thirteen children, between the ages of three and four, began playschool at Southern last week. Purpose of the program is for the children to become acquainted with and learn to play with children of their own age.

The typical day lasts two periods and includes such activities as art, free play, games in unison, and story-telling. The program will run until the week before Thanksgiving.

Magazine Campaign Success

This year the students at Southern surpassed their magazine goal of $5,000.

Bill Grant, Joe Delsignore and Terry Wolf were the three top salesmen. Vonda Loughry, freshman, won a tape recorder. The jackpot prize was never given away because none of the students named had sold magazines.

The seventh grade was the high selling class with 7-A as high homeroom selling over five-hundred dollars worth of magazines.

Seventh, eighth, and ninth grade classes were all awarded one-hundred dollars to their treasuries for each selling over one-thousand dollars.

Student Council Convention

Elizabeth Sharps, junior; Dwight Harvey, senior; and Mr. Winters, advisor, are attending the Student Council Convention being held in Silver Spring this week.

They will be voting delegates to the convention which is scheduled to last from Thursday afternoon to Saturday.

Rams Lose

The Petersburg Vikings defeated the Southern Rams last Friday by a score of 15-6.

The only Southern touchdown was scored through a drive by Pete Cosby in the third quarter. The game was played at Petersburg.

American Education Week

Response to the 1970 American Education Week at Southern High School has been extremely poor.

The program sponsored by Southern's student council gives parents the opportunity to observe classes and to learn more about their child's curriculum. During the week, students representing various school oriented groups and clubs were available for questioning in the cafetorium.

The student council is pessimistic concerning future programs since Southern has not had a very responsive turnout in past years either.

Rams Travel To Howard

The Southern Rams will travel to Ellicott City this Friday to play against Howard High School for the first time. The Howard and Southern athletic departments plan to have away and home series with Howard playing here at Southern next year.

Universities and colleges are tightening rules to prevent campus riots and turmoil.

WE HAVE BUYERS FOR HOMES, FARMS AND UNIMPROVED LAND.

Fellow Citizens of Garrett County:

Permissiveness in our day has brought us to an all time low in moral standards and conduct, and an all time high in crime and violence. If elected,

1. I will oppose the ultra-liberalizing of our abortion laws, the State should not and must not be a party to mass murder of the defenseless and innocent. There are many homes where an unwanted and unloved innocent baby would be welcomed, loved, cared for and protected. The best way to handle aborption is to raise our moral standards.

2. I will support legislation to curb all riots and student uprisings in the streets and on the campus. The laws of our land must be adhered to by everyone.

3. I will support stronger and stiffer penalties for driving while drinking. According to The National Safety Council, more than 28,000 lives were lost in 1969 due to drinking while driving. We cannot tolerate this useless murder on our highways.

Seven Juvenile Cases Heard In Circuit Court

One criminal and seven juvenile cases were heard in Circuit Court before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. last Friday.

James W. Hayhurst, Mt. Lake Park, who was charged with breaking, entering and burglary of the Garrett County Liquor store on September 22, and who was convicted on October 1 and sentenced to the Commissioner of Correction was returned here for a re-trial on October 23. The sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for a four-year period. In the r[illegible] time he was committed to the Springfield State Hospital to be treated in the Alcoholic Rehabilitation unit for alcoholism for a time deemed beneficial for him. When released from there he is to return to the supervision of the Maryland Department of Parole and Probation.

Dorothy Alice Tasker, Deer Park area, was charged with willful act of omission, causing her two children, one 6 and the other 7 years of age to be adjudged negligent. The specific charge was that she abandoned the two children on October 10 near Deer Park. Judge Hamill found the children to be neglected. At a trial on October 23 Mrs. Tasker was found guilty of abandoning the two children. She was sentenced to one year to the Department of Correction. The sentence was suspended on condition she be of good behavior and stay home with her husband and children. She was placed under jurisdiction and supervision of the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services for a period of one year.

Lillian Ayres, McHenry area, was charged with abandoning her four children in September, 1963. At a trial on September 19, 1963 she was ordered to pay the Garrett County Welfare Board $36.00 per month for the upkeep of the children and placed under the supervision of the Maryland Department of Parole and Probation. At a trial last Friday she was charged with contempt of court by reason that she failed to comply with the court order of 1963. She was found not guilty.

Two males, nine and 12 years old, Bray School Road, were charged with being delinquent. The specific charges were violation of probation by reason that they continuously harassed and threatened Bill Mayles with bodily harm. On the 9-year old, Judge Hamill ordered continuous probation. The 12-year-old was also charged with violation of probation and in addition, that he is ungovernable at home by reason that he refuses to obey his mother and fails to attend school regularly as required by Maryland law. The court ordered him committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys until discharged by due process of law.

Three males, two 16 and one 15 years old, Baltimore, were charged with being delinquent. The specific charges were escaping from the Lonaconing Forestry Camp on October 12. Judge Hamill found them to be delinquent and they were sentenced by the court to be recommitted to the Maryland Training School for Boys until released by due process of the law.

Don't Change Horses ...

Don't be too quick to change the voting habits of a lifetime. Most of us in Garrett County are Republicans, and most of us have voted the straight Republican ticket more often than not. By the latest count, Republicans outnumber Democrats in voting registration 5236 to 3341. It is obvious, therefore, that a Democrat cannot be elected without Republican votes.

To get Republicans to "switch over" or "cross sides," many Democrats will promise anything and lead you to believe that a vote for them is a vote for progress, prosperity, and instant solution to all our problems. THIS IS PURE NONSENSE!

If the Democrats were such wonderful problem solvers, there would be no problems in the counties which they control. One needs only to look at the history of crime in the streets, pollution, civil disorders, high taxation, drug abuse, riots, looting and slums...all have been great problems in Democratic areas for many years. None of these problems has yet been solved. Is there any reason to believe they can solve our problems?

Before you vote, I urge you to compare Garrett County and its Republican officials with other counties and their Democratic officials.

Don't change your voting habit and your way of life for a few irresponsible campaign promises.

Vote the straight Republican Ticket on November 3rd.

Sincerely,

Homer L. Bennett,

Chairman, Republican State Central Committee

Younr writer has neither, but would like to urge that you think about an issue closely akin to western Marylanders. Supporting efforts will not wait, for late action will avail us nothing of value.

When wilderness leaves a natural area and it is exploited for full scale living and community action, that area never again passes into its natural state of bliss for the enjoyment of those living in that space of time. Just as old farms with no mowing or fertilization pass into pastures of weeds instead of reverting to the magnificent forests from which many of them came, so old rivers used to high capacity by people cannot approach the former state of existence which they once proffered. You have read, I am sure, that Maryland is developing a Scenic Rivers system; she is also considering additional rivers for inclusion in a program for preservation of natural values. Of immediate notice are the Casselman and Savage River in our country, and in the future several others. This plea then is to write to Senator Aiken, well-known for his endeavors in conservation, and any other person or agency that will advise. Since our new legislators will be elected, let them know that Garrett's beauties should be kept; we are as picturesque as the Cheat in West Virginia or the Colorado in Arizona. Someone once remarked to a farmer that one cornfield in Maryland looked the same as the other, but anyone who knows the crop never would accept this. It is the same with rivers. The bend of the Casselman at thte stone bridge at Grantsville has its own special appeal; so does the Savage at a particular isolated spot on the Green Lantern Road where it exhibits what I term the upper river (rapids) of Savage.

Anyone who fishes or just walks can tell you of the peculiar joy in finding by a special stream the very spot in which he was before, with trees bending invitingly or swirling water heading in a new direction. These are not just areas for a yearly picnic or where a child may yell and clearly hear only his echo, but the deeper places where one may sit on the bank or commune with the green abiding silently around him and take time to descend to the basic questions of "How can I be something?" and "What does it all mean?"

This, then is the time to hold what we have. The value of our scenic rivers must not slip away from us as did the recognition of our production of apples in Washington County and of maple syrup in Garrett County. Someone else has already usurped our claim to these.

Just last week the Books editor of Time acknowledged the beauty and fame of our highland region as a place removed from tension when he wrote in his article on Solzhenitsyn, the Russian novelist, "American readers often smugly assume that anyone who objects to Communist oppression would like nothing better than to migrate, tomorrow, to western Maryland." How Mr. Foote knows this, I do not know, but I salute him. Sigrud Olsen is citing the same type of solace as he says, "The real significance of wilderness is a cultural matter. It is far more than hunting, fishing, hiking, camping, or canoeing; it has to do with the human spirit. And what we are trying to conserve is not scenery as much as the human spirit itself." Please, let us keep our beautiful section of Maryland for some spiritual reincarnation.

Giving Away Sovereignty
... Dwight Harvey

"Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed," states the Declaration of Independence. The United States government received its initial consent with the ratification of the Constitution.

In other words, the people originally held sovereignty over themselves. With ratification they gave up part of this sovereignty to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the government provided for in the Constitution.

At every election, then, the people of the United States hand their right to rule themselves over to a select group of men. If a person doesn't vote he is giving up his right to govern himself to someone he had no hand in choosing. For the next few years he will be ruled by someone chosen without his consideration. If this same person were to have his right of self-rule stolen by a dictator he would probably be considerably upset. Yet he will not go to the polls to prevent just such a situation from occurring.

In most national, state, and county elections a substantial percentage of eligible voters do not vote. These are the ones who have senselessly let their right to sovereignty be taken from them. If they complain when government tramples them or ignores them, they have themselves to blame first.

There is only one recourse for these people and indeed for all of us. Vote on November third.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 94. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., NOVEMBER 5, 1970 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 36

Man, Not Party . . . .

Tuesday's election gave every indication that the voters this year were voting for the man and not the party. We say this for several reasons. This was the trend nationally, as well as in our own county.

The totals in Garrett county showed citizens were voting for the persons they considered the most qualified for their jobs. They named three Democrats for the office of County Commissioner, probably the first time in history that three of the minority party in this area had been elected. On the other hand they repudiated B. O. Aiken, Democrat, who had held the office of Delegate for the past four years by naming DeCorsey Bolden, a Republican. They gave whopping majorities to J. Glenn Beall and George R. Hughes, although Hughes was defeated by majorities in the home areas of his opponent in the sixth district. A Democrat sheriff apparently is elected, in an extremely close race, pending the outcome of the counting of the absentee ballots. There have been numerous Democratic sheriffs in previous years. Statewide Democratic aspirants fared well in this county, Goldstein gaining a slight advantage over his Republican opponent. Governor Mandel only lost this county by a hundred votes. Republicans were supported heavily in other contests.

There was a lot of ticket splitting which shows that people were not concerned with party lines. The most encouraging sign is that from 70 to 75 percent of the electorate went to the polls to cast their ballots. Compared to a little over 50 percent vote in the primary, this is wonderful. We expressed the hope last week for 80 percent but we are happy with the result.

Large Vote For Gov. Mandel Is About 2 To 1

Carried Baltimore City, Every County Except Garrett

Maryland voters handed Gov. Marvin Mandel an overwhelming vote of confidence in Tuesday's election, giving him one of the more one-sided gubernatorial victories in the state's political history.

Mandel carrying Baltimore city and every county except Garrett, defeated Republican C. Stanley Blair almost two to one. He lost Garrett county by only 100 votes, getting 2,784 votes compared to 2,884 for Blair. The American party candidate, Robert W. Merkle, got 110 votes in this county.

Also swept into office with the governor were Blair Lee as lieutenant governor; Louis L. Goldstein as comptroller and Francis B. Burch as attorney general.

Complete but unofficial returns gave Mandel 623,744 votes to 313,217 for Blair. Merkle polled 19,348 votes.

Final but unofficial results in other races were:

Lieutenant governor: Herbert Miller, R., 266,916; Lee, D., 494,334; and Elbert Miller, Ameri-

BOMB BLAST RIPS BRIDGE—The Salt Block bridge near Sang Run, on the White Rock road, was blasted to bits late Sunday night and authorities are continuing to investigate the violence. It was hard for authorities to figure what anyone could gain by such destruction when there were indications the strike with road workers would be settled within a few days. Clayton Smith, acting roads engineer, said damage was total although repair work would not be expensive since the abutments were not damaged. Investigating were the sheriff's office and the state police.

D. E. Bolden Defeats Aiken For House Seat

Three Democratic Commissioners Named By Large Margins

Four county offices apparently went to Democratic candidates as a result of heavy balloting in Tuesday's election, three candidates for County Commissioner winning by substantial margins, the office for sheriff still in doubt until the 132 absentee ballots are counted this afternoon.

Democratic Delegate B. O. Aiken, Accident, was defeated in his bid for re-election to the House of Delegates by Republican DeCorsey E. Bolden.

There was over a 75 percent vote in some precincts but balloting was only around 50 percent in others, making an overall picture of some 67 percent of the electorate going to the polls in rainy, foggy weather.

In the contest for sheriff, Republican incumbent James E. Frantz received 2911 votes to 2949 for John F. Browning, a former member of the state police. The absentee ballots will determine the winner.

Bernard M. Guy, Earl E. Opel and Wayne B. Hamilton were named as the three county commissioners, Guy receiving 3321 votes to 2409 for William E. Fitzwater; Earl Opel getting 3731 to 1998 for Samuel Thomas; and Hamilton receiving 3579 votes to 2181 for Edward Tasker.

County-wise the Republican state and national candidates fared well except Louis Goldsteins's opponent, Harold E. Cross. Cross got 2414 votes compared to 2478 for Goldstein.

In the contest for governor Republican C. Stanley Blair received 2884 votes to 2784 for Marvin Mandel. Robert W Merkle received 110.

For lieutenant governtr Republican Herbert J. Miller, Jr., received 2534 votes and Blair Lee III polled 1997. Elbert G. Miller received 151 for the American party. Thomas M. Anderson, Jr., got 2178 votes for attorney general while his opponent incumbent Francis B. Burch tallied 1921.

J. Glenn Beall, Jr., was a big vote getter with 4601 votes to 1145 for Joe Tydings and 73 for Harry Wilder.

George R. Hughes, Jr., also was given a big vote in his race for Congress. He tallied 3669 votes to 1351 for Goodloe Byron. Audrey B. Carroll received 93.

All three Republicans were named to the Orphans' Court judgeships, two of them having been re-elected and Bray having served previously. Elza E. Bray got 3014 votes; Harry P. Collier, 3059, and Roy Turney 3259. Defeated Democratic candidates were Margaret L. Coffey, 1538, Walter Fratz, 1683; and William H. Welch, 1861.

Four county office seekers were unopposed. State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer received 3663,

Dynamite Blast Destroys Bridge

Authorities Pick Up Two Youths, But They Are Not Charged

The small bridge over Salt Block Run on the Sang Run-White Rock road was blown to bits late Sunday night. The bridge is some six miles south of Friendsville and near Sang Run.

A large charge of dynamite apparently was used. Authorities were hesitant to blame the incident on the striking road workers who are still officially on strike.

Authorities were continuing their investigation and on Tuesday picked up two youths, who resided in the area, for questioning. They were not charged because of insufficient evidence. One was released yesterday and the other was held for army police as he was absent from the army without leave.

Clayton Smith, acting roads engineer, said damage to the wooden deck of the bridge was total although repair work would be inexpensive since the abutments were not damaged by the blast.

Sheriff James E. Frantz said no one lived along the dirt road and there was no explanation for the blasting other than it may have been a late Hallowe'en prank. Tfc. Donald Tucker, criminal investigator for the

Voters Approve Four Amendments

Maryland voters approved four amendments in Tuesday's voting.

One amendment will give the state an elected lieutenant governor, for the first time in over 100 years.

An amendment to permit prayers in public schools won approval of the voters.

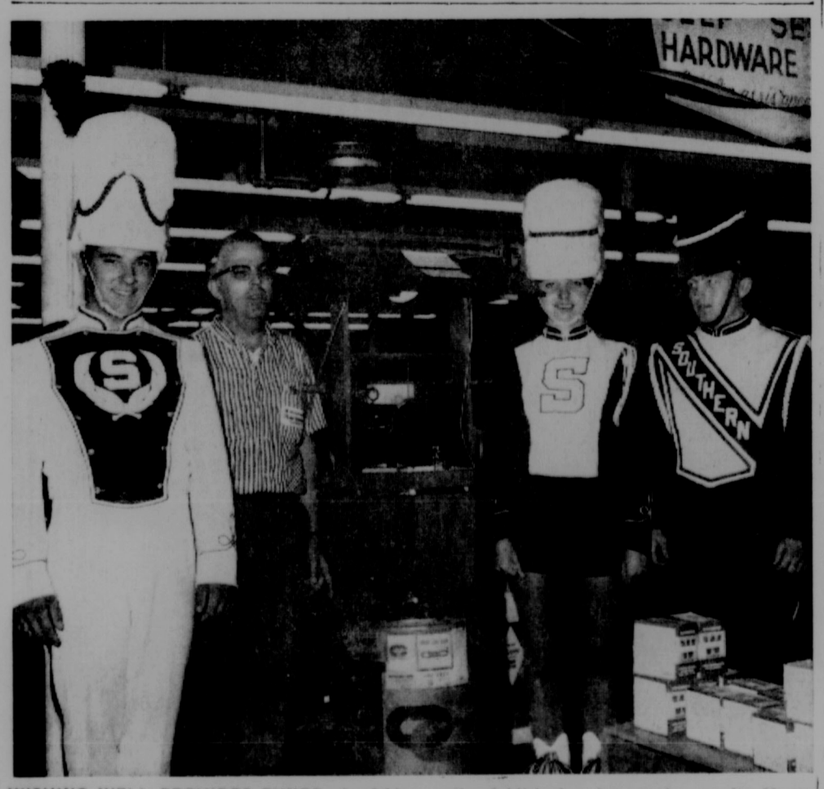
An amendment which would make it easier for counties to adopt a charter form of government won approval.

Also approved was an amendment limiting the size of the General Assembly to its present 185 members, and providing for automatic reapportionment every 10 years.

In county voting citizens approved only two, that of lieutenant governor and the permitting prayers in public schools. The other amendments and the two referendum questions were defeated.

Amendment 8, on a charter form of government came close, with 1122 in favor and 1167 against.

The unofficial tabulation: amendment 1 - 2050 for, 835 against; amendment 2 - 624 for, 1644 against; amendment 3 - 505 for, 1717 against; amendment 4 - 949 for, 1379 against; amendment 5 - 567 for, 1603 against; amendment 6 - 622 for, 1555 against; amendment 7 - 558 for, 1570 against; amendment 8 - 1122 for, 1167 against; amendment 9 - 2459 for, 645 against; question on calling a convention, 589 for, 1556 against; referendum 616 for, 1595 against.



WISHING WELL PROVIDES FUNDS—A wishing well established a few weeks ago by Manor Builders of Oakland, for voluntary contributions to the band uniform fund for Southern High school's new band uniforms, produced $39.27, it was revealed Monday when the band students received that amount from Bob Shaffer, of the Builders. A goal of $7,400 was sought to pay the expenses for the new uniforms. A large amount of the total has been raised. In the photo, left to right, are Bob Custer, drum major; Bob Shaffer, Kim Liller, drum majorette, and Jim White.

Speech Group To Present Two Plays And "Farce-Sicle"

The Southern Speech association will present two plays and a Farce-Sicle, at the Southern High cafetorium in a "meet the cast" performance.

Participating in the first play, for Friday and Saturday evenings, November 13 and 14, at 8 o'clock, with a matinee Sunday, November 15, at 2 p.m.

Participating in the forst play, "The Bell," a one-act in a mid-victorian setting, will be Rita Shrout, Jeannie Alvarez, Louise Norwich, Susan Ashby and Denise Shrout.

The plot unfolds, revealing long restrained conflicts between an arrogant, demanding mother and her daughter. They were born of high class but their money is gone. When a former servant's wife and daughter call, asking for the pension promised them they are turned away penniless. The climax follows with an unexpected turn.

The farce-sicle is a surprise and is a mystery. What is it, what does it do? will be discovered by those witnessing the act.

The second of the one-acts is "Waiting for the Bus," and is a symbolic drama in a modern setting, representing realistic man's progress in the world compared to the idealistic life force. Seasoned with racial and social prejudices the play arrives at the climax without solving the conflict. The initial answer to the dilemma is left to the audience. Playing in this second play will be Hank Rebele, Rita Shrout, Denise Shrout and Mike Browning.

The public is invited. There is no admission but the SSA will receive donations for a projected community theatre.

Beall Ousts Tydings For Senate Seat

J. Glenn Beall, Jr., a Nixon administrative loyalist, is Maryland's junior senator elect after his decisive upset victory of Democrat Joseph D. Tydings.

The 43-year old freshman Republican Congressman clearly defeated the liberal Tydings, carrying 21 of Maryland's 23 counties as voters turned out in record numbers.

Tydings led Beall only in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties and in Baltimore city but his margins in the three populous sub-divisions fell far short of what he needed to win.

In regaining the Senate Beall obtained the seat his father lost to Tydings six years ago. Tydings, 42, had been considered a slight favorite to win.

Beall defeated Tydings by almost 30,000 votes, 479,985 to 450,233. Harvey Wilder of the American party had 10,779. Beall came out of Baltimore county with a 27,000 vote edge to just about neutralize Tydings' suburban Washington margin of 31,000.

Byron Takes Seat In Sixth District

Goodloe E. Byron won the Sixth Congressional seat over George R. Hughes, Jr., in Tuesday's election and will follow his parents in office, probably the first instance in the nation that a father, mother and son have been elected to Congress

William D. Byron, father, was elected in 1938. He was re-elected for a second term but was killed in an airplane accident Feb. 27, 1941. His widow, Mrs. Kathryn E. Byron, was elected to fill his unexpired term.

The new Congressman has served as a state senator and was defeated by J. Glenn Beall two years ago. Mr Byron had a total vote of 57,488 to 54,136 for Hughes. Allegany, Howard and Garrett counties carried majorities for Hughes. The unofficial count for the three candidates; with Hughes first, Byron second and Carroll third:

Allegany, 15,097 - 7,032 - 272; Baltimore county, 8,120 - 11,638 - 238; Carroll, 6,901 - 7,092 - 386; Frederick, 7,131 - 13,283 - 417; Garrett, 3,669 - 1,351 - 93; Howard, 3,084 - 2,704 - 112; Washington, 10,230 - 14,355 - 296. Totals - 54,232 - 57,455 - 1,814.

Shelter Survey Is Conducted Here

Members of the Army Corps of Engineers were in the county last week surveying several buildings for fallout shelter space.

Buildings surveyed were the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Friendsville School, Rt. 40 School, Southern and Northern High Schools. A study was also made of the county Jail to establish the possibility of using the basement for a County Emergency Control Center in the event of a major emergency.

Col. Christian Hanberger, State Shelter Planning Officer accompanied the engineers.

Information gathered in the survey plus construction plans supplied by the school board and hospital staff, will be analyzed by computer and the results will be returned to the county to aid in future planning, it was stated.

A continued search for fallout shelter areas is first priority of the local Civil Defense Agency, Federal and State Agencies, according to George Comp, County civil defense director.

Plane Crash Near Cranesville Claims Lives of 2 Persons

The crash of a light plane Tuesday night in Preston county near Cranesville, W. Va., has claimed the lives of two persons.

A woman was believed killed instantly when the plane burst into flames and a man died last night at 8 o'clock in the University Medical Center in Morgantown. A third passenger is in serious condition at the medical center with head and back injuries and burns over 35 percent of his body.

The dead woman is Ellen Freshley, 28, of Alliance, Ohio. a passenger in the plane. Bill Menegay, 34, of Homewood, O., was pilot of the plane. The third passenger is David Crowl, 31, Alliance.

The two men had walked away from the wreckage.

Yesterday afternoon a representative of the Federal Aviation administration, arrived on the scene which had been roped off and secured by the sheriff's office at Kingwood and members of the Preston County Rescue team. Sheriff Clarence Fike said the office had received an initial call from a neighbor of Burlin Cuppett on whose farm eight miles north of Terra Alta, the plane had crashed.

The two men were taken to Preston County Memorial hospital in Kingwood for treatment and immediately transferred to the medical center. Dr. James Gainer, acting coroner of Preston county, went to the scene of the crash Tuesday night. The destination of the plane was Cumberland.

Inactivity And Confusion Still In Effect Here

No Solution To Road Problem Immediately In Sight

Inactivity and confusion still appear to be in charge in county roads problems with no solution in sight until the new County Commissioners are certified by the state election board, which may be as far off as three weeks.

Republican State central committee members had recommended the appointment of three county commissioners to fill the positions of the three now in office, who had agreed to resign when the new ones had been certified by Governor Marvin Mandel. The governor, however, had been asked by B. O. Aiken, of the House of Delegates, to hold up the appointments until after the election, and thus nothing has been done.

N. Ross Selby, Dr. Ralph Calandrella and Thomas Butscher had been recommended for the positions.

As the problem resolves now, the newly elected commissioners, all Democrats, may not be certified by the state election board for another two or three weeks and the law states that in case of resignations the appointments must be members of the party of the persons resigning. The new commissioners usually do not take office until the first of December.

The recommended commissioners met with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal workers last Thursday evening and apparently reached a tentative agreement to go into effect as soon as the governor made the appointments official.

The union officials agreed to a secret vote being taken by roads workers to decide the question of union represetation. The seven percent wage increase that the commissioners had set forth in the budget would be activated upon the return to work.

In the meantime, the first snow of the year has fallen and others are expected to follow at any time.

SENSING THE NEWS

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Southern States Industrial Council

A logical objective of U.S. foreign policy is assuring access of American industry to minerals essential to the security and economic well-being of the nation. Unfortunately, the foreign policy of the United States is not always logical.

For example, consider the matter of U.S. access to chrome ore, one of the most valuable materials used in plating and steel alloys. The applications of chrome range from the automobile industry to atomic energy developments. If U.S. foreign policy were wholly logical, the federal government would bend every effort to assure continuing ample supplies of chromium for this country. Unfortunately, emotionalism and politics shape American policy on chrome imports.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, bowing to the will of Britian's Socialist government and seeking to appease black African states in the U.N., ordered a ban on chrome ore imports from independent Rhodesia. While Mr. Johnson may have considered this ban smart politics, the long-range interests of the United States were damaged.

The U.S. must import large quantities of chrome in order to meet industrial needs. Rhodesia, with a known reserve of 600 million tons, is the ideal supplier of chrome ore to the United States. Indeed Rhodesia is the most certain source of chrome ore. Turkey, the only other free world supplier with any substantial amount of the mineral, has a reserve of less than 11 million tons.

Trade with Rhodesia having been banned, the U.S. turned to the Soviet Union for chrome ore -- an ironical development. In the eyes of liberals, it is better to trade with Communist Russia than anti-Communist Rhodesia.

The Russians have a nice thing going for themselves. Fred Russell, deputy director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, has testified that imports of Russian chrome ore increased from 27 percent of the U.S. supply in 1965 to 45 percent in 1969. Today, the United States depends on the Soviet Union for an adequate supply of a prime, strategic material.

The Russiahs are smart businessmen to boot. They know how to profit at a capitalist country's expense. The Russian price for chrome ore in 1965-1967 was between $30.50 and $33.00 a ton. Today, the Russians charge between $55.10 and $59.60.

Meanwhile, an American company in Rhodesia, with 57,000 tons already mined, is barred from selling its chrome to U.S. industrial users.

The American need for chromium will rise rapidly in the 1970's. In 1968, for instance, the U.S. required 525,000 tons of chrome ore for the manufacture of stainless steel. By 1973, the nation will need 659,000 tons for that type of product. Additional quantities of chrome ore will be needed for alloys, tools and high temperature metal products.

If the Executive Order forbidding trade with Rhodesia remains in effect, the United States will become more dependent on the USSR than ever. This is not only absurd but dangerous for the United States. Once before, during the Korean War, the Russians halted chrome ore shipment. They could do it again in another crisis. If that happened, the United States would have no choice but to ask Rhodesia to resume shipments.

It is unwise and unfair to wait until a crisis with Russia before allowing imports of Rhodesian chrome. The Nixon administration cannot justify the ban on grounds that the British government objects. The Conservative government in Britian clearly hopes to restore normal trade relations with Rhodesia.

When Richard M. Nixon was elected, his supporters expected him to return realism and logic to U.S. foreign policy. In some respects, he has done this. But the governments policy on trade with Rhodesia remains what it was during the Johnson administration.

Affirmative action to restore normal trade with Rhodesia is long overdue. The national interest requires that Mr. Nixon revoke President Johnson's Executive Order. The U.S. should break away from the emotionalism engendered by liberals who argued for trade sanctions against Rhodesia.

21 Are Killed On State Highways

Lt. Col. W. H. Weber, Deputy Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, reviewing the 21 traffic fatalities which occurred in Maryland during the week ending November 1, said "Six of the persons killed on Maryland's highways last week were pedestrians and I urge all drivers to remember that very few pedestrians realize how invisible they are at night. Drivers must double their caution at nightfall; triple their caution on unlighted residential streets; quadruple their caution in bad weather and keep their windshields clean."

"Pedestrians", continued Lt. Col. Weber, "must never depend upon the driver's ability to see you at night. Wear something white, carry something white, or carry a light. On rural roads, walk facing traffic."

Lt. Col. Weber advised pedestrians to remember that absentmindness is an important cause of pedestrian deaths and urged all pedestrians to keep their mind on safe walking.

Deadlock Still Exists . . .

Regardless of the election the deadlock still exists in the county roads problems and there are legal blocks to an immediate settlement.

The interim county commissioners were not certified by the governor prior to the election, which might have got the problem off dead center. As of now he can't appoint the newly elected county commissioners to take over until they are duly certified because the law declares that in case of resignations of the old commissioners, the governor must appoint people of the same party as those resigning. Successors must be recommended by the state central committee of the party in power. The new commissioners normally would not take office until December 1.

What is the solution that will get the county road workers on the job immediately? Since there was a temporary settlement last Thursday night, indicating the trend, the workers could volunteer to go back to work until the new commissioners were installed. Or an agreement might be worked out by the old commissioners whereby they would name the three new Democratic commissioners as their agents, making what they agree to binding on the newly elected. This possible solution was suggested last evening by Wayne Hamilton, one of the newly elected.

This might work if the old commissioners would make that their official action. Why not try it?

Dynamite Blast

state police, also was called in.

The blast was heard by Otis Sisler, a nearby resident, who notified the sheriff's office. He also told the sheriff that on Friday they had discovered someone in the act of planting dynamite around the bridge who fled when Sisler approached. They did not recognize the individual but did confiscate a quantity of dynamite at the time.

Dissident road workers were blamed for the dynamiting of the Cherry Run bridge in June but no court action resulted. One road worker was sentenced for dynamiting a fence on the farm of Hubert Friend, president of the county commissioners, in an incident related to the strike. Paul W. Cosner, Jr., 30, Sang Run, was given a year in prison for malicious destruction of property in the latter incident.

Large Vote

can party, 19,689.

Comptroller: Goldstein 595,811; Harold Cross, R., 262,453.

Attorney general: Burch 511,144, and Republican Thomas M. Anderson, Jr., 333,412.

The small vote polled by the American party candidates will deprive the fledgling party of its automatic position on the general election ballot in 1972. It needed 10 percent of the total vote to maintain that favored position. Merkle drew only about 2 percent of the gubernatorial ballots.

The Mandel victory was not unexpected but the size was more than anticipated.

The strongest Republican showing in the state was made by Anderson who carried four counties, including his home county of Montgomery. He succeeded in winning endorsements from some Democratic clubs as well as from several daily newspapers in Maryland and Washington.

While scoring a personal victory Mandel didn't seem to be able to translate that into significant help for candidates ouside his own ticket. Senator Joe Tydings with Mandel's full support, lost by almost 30,000 votes to J. Glenn Beall, Jr., and Republican Congressmen scored lopsided victories in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties.

Our memories of you are very clear,
The hurt is a little easier to bear,
Still we often think of you,
Even tho there were no farewells.
Since God took you away so suddenly,
We know he has made for you
A restful place in heaven.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The second most important fact that a youngster in 1970 America should be taught—in the home, the school, the college, the church—is that Communism is an evil force and its bogus ideology and economic fantasy produce only failure in mankind's quest for the better life. The most important fact, as we emphasized in our last column, is the production, under the American system, of the greatest good and the brightest promise for progress.

If our young people are to withstand the blandishments of the Communist propagandists now at work in schools and colleges, they must know the true facts about Communism. Our little 12-page brochure, "What's WRONG With Communism," second in the series of four contained in our new "Educational Survival Kit," clearly documents the true facts.

In meeting the three basic desires of mankind—personal freedom, economic well-being, spiritual awareness—Communism comes up with three zeros when compared to our American system's record.

The record on FREEDOM: The reality of Communism is totalitarian dictatorship. Russian citizens must escape to leave the country unattended; they are held prisoners in a brutal police state (some in horrible slave-labor camps). Only 6 percent of the population are Communists, and absolutely no one except the handful of Kremlin bosses is free to speak, to worship, to choose an occupation, to go into business, to move about freely through their country.

The record on ECONOMIC WELL-BEING: Under Communism, the Government owns all property, the land, the houses, the apartments, the businesses and industries. Production of goods and their distribution is under a central plan imposed on the nation by the Dictatorship. Communism is a poor producer of goods and services. The average Russian worker—blue collar and white collar—can purchase with his wages not more than a fourth of the food, clothing, housing, transportation, entertainment, and education that the average American worker can purchase with his wages.

he record on providing a climate for SPIRITUAL GROWTH: Communism is Godless. One of the fundamental objectives of the Communists is the elimination of all religion — not only Christianity, but all religion. When Chairman Khrushchev was visiting in America while head of the Soviet hierarchy, he proudly proclaimed on a nation-wide television network: "We Communists are atheists!" In China, missionaries were given the choice of leaving the country or going to jail when the Communists took over in 1949. In his shocking book, "Deliver Us From Evil," Dr. Tom Dooley recorded incidents of Ho Chi Minh's Communist warriors cutting out the tongues of people who recited Biblical quotations, and destroying the eardrums of young people who listened to the quotations.

"As the weeks passed," wrote Dr. Dooley in his account of his ministry to thousands of "punished" North Vietnamese fleeing the brutality of Comrade Ho, "I found myself increasingly puzzled, not only by the growing number but by the character of Communist atrocities. I was accustomed by now to patching up emasculated men, and women whose breasts had been mutiated, and even little children without fingers or hands. But more and more I was learning that these punishments were linked to the refugees' belief in God."

So in practice the entire Communist ideology and system are wrong, fundamentally wrong.

The soldier attended Southern High school and entered the Army October 30, 1968, taking basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He was awarded a trophy there for best marksmanship. He was later stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., until he was sent to Vietnam.

Selflessly working long and arduous hours, he has contributed significantly to the success of the allied effort. His commendable performance was in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflects distinct credit upon himself and the United States Army."

Specialist Tasker was home on leave from Fort Bragg, N.C., where he is now stationed and had as his guest over the weekend Jim Hansen from California, also stationed at Fort Bragg.

Huskies Defeat Bulldogs 8 to 6

Tackle Denny Glotfelty, member of Northern High's defensive unit tackled punter Fazenbaker in his own end zone for a safety that proved to be the margin of victory as the Huskies pulled off an 8 to 6 upset over the Bruce High Bulldogs of Westernport last Friday night at Northern on a blustery, rainy evening.

The game could have been played on a 40-yard field, said coach Jack Lear in describing the see-saw ground game in which there was little passing. An alert Northern defense, taking advantage of the weather, was the difference.

The Huskies scored early on "breaks" and spent the rest of the game stopping Bruce inside the 10-yard line on several occasions. The bad weather breaks decided the game, according to Coach Lear.

Northern drew first blood in the opening period when Julius Carey pounced on a blocked punt at the Bruce 15-yard line and seeing there was no one within reach, galloped over the goal line unmolested. The punt, attempted by Fazenbaker, was blocked by Northern's Lee Sutherland.

The safety occurred in the second quarter, giving the Huskies their eight point lead at halftime.

Bruce High got its score in the third period when Tom Grove recovered a fumble in the Huskie end zone.

Neither team was able to do much passing. Bruce completed three of eight attempts for 15 yards and had one interception. Northern's lone aerial was intercepted by Bruce.

Bruce picked up a total of 106 yards along the ground to 79 for Northern. Northern had the edge in downs 6 to 5.

Bruce played the entire second half in Northern's backyard, taking the ball over on Huskie fumbles deep in their own territory.

The victory gave Northern a 5-4 overall record and a 1-1 in the tri-valley conference. Bruce has a 5-3 record. The Huskies will play their final game on Friday evening against Southern High Rams on Southern's field.

Takes Part In Army Exercise

Army Staff Sergeant Robert L. Rodeheaver, son of Mrs. Annabelle Iser, Mountain Lake Park, was among the 11,000 troops of the 1st Infantry Division, who left Ft. Riley, Kan., October 4-10, to be airlifted to Germany to participate in exercise Reforger II.

The Big Red One soldiers departed from Forbes Air Force base in Topeka, Kan., and landed at one of three West German airfields, Rhein Main, Ramstein, or Echterdigen.

A few hours later, the troops picked up weapons, tanks and armored personnel carriers, which had been pre-positioned in Europe, and departed to the exercise site near the Czechoslovakian border.

During the five-day training exercise, the division opposed aggressor forces from the 3rd Infantry Division, regularly stationed in Germany, and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Reforger II was designed to Test U.S. Army deployment from stateside bases in defending Western Europe with NATO forces. A similar exercise, Reforger I, was held in Germany in January 1969.

Members of the 1st Division are scheduled to return to Ft. Riley in late October and November.

Sgt. Rodeheaver is assigned as Motor Sergeant in Headquarters Company, 2D Battalion, 63D Armor of the 1st Infantry Division.

His father, Reginald M. Rodeheaver, lives in Mountain Lake Park.

The sergeant's wife, Karin, is with him at Ft. Riley.

Fifteen were arrested in Detroit after Black Panther incident.

He makes a marvelous picture — but would he really make a marvelous chef? Can you imagine what might happen if you let him brew up a pot of everything his chubby little fingers could latch onto?

Let's face it! It takes thought, direction and planning to do anything well in life — even to make a good stew. Though a true chef may not follow the cookbook precisely, he will select and blend his ingredients with care and precision. Only then will the dish be a success.

What does all this have to do with going to church? More than you might think! If you have been leaving the Church out of your recipe for living, you have been missing some of life's most priceless ingredients — God's love, His priceless gift of Faith and some of the greatest lessons ever revealed to man.

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BEYOND THE POSTLUDE

Lesson for November 8, 1970

Background Scripture: Psalms 95:1-7; Isaiah 6:1-8; Matthew 6:1-15; Revelation 4: 1-11.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 10:19-25.

The Sunday after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas found churches across the country filled to capacity and overflowing. Great numbers of people, many of whom were, at best, sporadic in their worship attendence, instinctively turned to the worship service in their local church for comfort and reassurance.

Rev. Althouse

I saw the Lord!

In times of personal or national tragedy people reach out for something to hold on to. On that Sunday in November, 1963, it was as if we wanted to make sure that the shot that felled the attractive young President had not also jarred the universe from its cosmic moorings.

These must have been the feelings and thoughts of the people of Uzziah's kingdom when he died. Many of his subjects could not remember any other king for Uzziah had ruled for half a century. Under his leadership the country had become prosperous and he would be remembered throughout the history of his nation as a powerful and successful king, second only to the great King Solomon.

Thus the year in which King Uzziah died was one of great gloom. Who would be able to fill his shoes? Would his son Jotham live up to the stature of his father? Would the nation be more vulnerable now to the growing power of her enemies? These may well have been some of the thoughts that occupied Isaiah's mind when he went into the temple.

High and lifted up

At the temple, however, he was reminded of a fact all of us tend to forget: important as are the Uzziahs, presidents, generals, kings and statesmen of the world, it is God the eternal who reigns over this world. The passing of any great human leader is a tragic loss to any nation, but that nation is not lost so long at it trusts in God.

Uzziah's body had been lowered into the earth but Isaiah's thoughts were directed upward and in his vision he saw "the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up . . ." He caught an indescribable vision of God and heard his voice speaking to him. At last God had broken through to this man whom he was calling to be his prophet.

Why had God waited until the death of Uzziah to speak to Isaiah? Why is it that we must experience some tragedy or trial before we come face to face with are willing to listen to him. God us? The answer is not that it takes tragedy or trouble to reach God, but that too often it takes something of this sort before we are willing to listen to him. God is constantly calling us, trying to communicate with us, but it is often difficult to get our attention. Getting our attention is one of God's greatest problems.

I heard the voice . . .

God had gotten Isiah's attention. The worship experience was a mystical, ecstatic experience that can be recorded better in poetry than prose, if at all. Words barely convey the heady experience of God's power and majesty. Isaiah is overwhelmed with this sense of God's presence.

There are other worship emotions that follow: a sense of unworthiness, an acknowledgement of sin, and the assurance of God's forgiveness and redemption. Thus assured, Isaiah is now ready to receive God's challenge: "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" It was then that Isaiah realized that the end of his worship experience was to be but the beginning of his service for God and he responds with commitment: "Here I am! Send me."

Whenever you consider buying a product and it has a name you recognize, or is made by a company you are familiar with, it will always give you a certain confidence that what you are getting is of good quality. It is the same when you select a pharmacy to get your medicines and health needs from, or a family physician.

Your doctor and pharmacist feel the same way about companies who make pharmaceutical products. Although some drugs may be made by many firms. Your physician usually specifies the exact brand name he feels will be the safest for you. The Electoral Process Personalities and Issues

On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November the American people traditionally go to the polls for an election, but in recent years, there has been increasing criticism and increasing concern about our electoral process. We're far from the old fashioned American method of meeting with friends and neighbors at a country store, a church or a school to discuss the issues of the day and making decisions on the questions as they are presented and discussed in neighborhoods and in town meetings. Because of the growth of our country, the development of mass media and the difficulty of seeing all the citizens who will participate in any choice, elections have become remote and sometimes frightening events.

I have been worried about this development, which has become apparent just in the relatively brief time that I have been in public life. I have found it more and more difficult to maintain the kind of close personal contact that is essential if a public official is to discharge his responsibilities to the people he serves. And, I have been making efforts in the Congress to bring about reform of our campaign process to reduce the impact of slick, mass media methods and return to a more personal, more intimate, and more responsible means of communication between the public and the public servant.

Modern media methods often focus heavily on personality. The candidates themselves become the issues. But an election is not only a process of selecting the individuals to hold specific public offices in the years succeeding; it is also a national educational experience in which the general public, preoccupied in its own affairs much of the time, takes time to acquaint itself with major issues, to gain understanding of national and state problems and to make its decisions not only on candidates but also on the issues. This should be a time for taking inventory of what we have done and what we need to do. In order to take an accurate national inventory, the public must be broadly informed about the issues. As we approach future elections, we must do better than we have done in the past and better than we have done in 1970 in concentrating equally upon the issues as well as upon the personality of the candidates.

When our Constitution was being adopted more than 180 years ago, a number of prominent and articulate Americans wrote the Federalist papers, which addressed themselves not to the personalities of the political figures then on the scene, but to the issues presented by the necessity for forming a federal government. This is the kind of thoughtful, rational approach to problems that our elections should assist us in achieving. The time is long past when serious and complex problems of today's America can be papered over with the slick methods that are used in commercial promotion.

FOOTNOTES: In an eloquent address to the 25th anniversary session of the United Nations General Assembly, President Nixon has reiterated for all the world this nation's abiding dedication to world peace. The United Nations, for all its limitations, is still our major hope for the achievement of a world without conflict, violence and destruction. I am pleased that the President chose this forum and this occasion to call upon all nations to work together for a world without war . . . The U.S. Geological Survey has designated the Baltimore-Washington area for a major study of urban environment and resource problems. The results of the study should be extremely useful to urban planners dealing with the future of this area. . . . President Nixon has signed a major environmental clean-up bill, authorizing federal expenditure of up to $463 million in the next three years to tackle the mounting problem of what to do with trash and garbage. . . . In two other important actions to aid consumers and the environment, the President ordered that all federal vehicles use unleaded or low-lead gasoline whereever practical and directed that information be made available to the public on consumer products tested by the government in order to give the consumer the benefit of the same consideration the government uses in seeking to purchase goods that are best and most economically adapted to its needs.

NOVEMBER 5 - 11

Tonight the Taurid Meteor Shower reaches its maximum. This meteor shower is not one of prolific meteor showers. It will only have fifteen meteors per hour visible to an observer, which is about twice the normal hourly rate of meteors visible. Because the meteors appear to originate in the constellation Taurus, the shower is called the Taurid meteors.

Tomorrow at 8:05 a.m., the moon will be passing through the first quarter phase. During the week, the moon will be waxing. It will pass through its closest point to the earth at 3:00 p.m. on Monday. This point is 228,100 miles from the earth. Moon rise will occur about 40 minutes later each day. Today it will be at 1:00 p.m. while next Wednesday it will be at 3:48 p.m.

Four of the planets are at special places in the sky this week. On Monday at 2:00 a.m. Jupiter will be directly opposite the earth on the other side of the Sun. This is called a conjunction. On Tuesday at 4:00 a.m. Venus will be directly between the earth and the Sun. This is called an inferior conjunction. Wednesday finds Mercury at its aphelion or farthest distance from the Sun; and Saturn in line with the earth and the Sun; but on the same side of the Sun as the earth. This is called an opposition.

Mars and Saturn are the only visible planets to the unaided observer. Mars rises about three hours before the Sun. It is in the constellation Virgo. Saturn rises about when the Sun sets. On Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. when it is at opposition, Saturn will be 757,900,000 miles from the earth. Saturn is in the constellation Aries.

The Sun appeared at 6:50 a.m. this morning. It will set at 5:13 p.m. this evening. Next Wednesday the Sun rises at 6:57 a.m. and will set at 5:07 p.m. Daylight decreases by thirteen minutes during the week.

The planetarium will be used by the following class during the week. Today Mrs. Hughes' and Mrs. Minnick's classes from Route 40 School will study Day and Night. The Kindergarten classes from Friendsville School will study about the night sky in their first visit today. Monday finds Mrs. Robison's class from Route 40 school studying the Day and Night. Mrs. Fox's classes of Friendsville School will study the Autumn Sky also on Monday. This is in preparation for a night visit to study the sky at Camp Hickory. On Monday evening at 7 a group of Cub Scouts will study the North Circumpolar Sky. Wednesday will be another meeting of the Adult Education course, The Friendly Sky.

All New for 1970!
What's so much better about it?
The new "asymmetrical" design has three different patterns across the tread: (1) open traction pattern on one side to dig in and pull through mud and snow; (2) stable traction pattern on other side prevents bogging down in deep snow; and (3) center "Z" bars give much greater mileage. You get 40%* more pulling power in loose snow. This unique tire can be used on drive wheels only, or in all four wheel positions for greater stopping traction and steering control.
The new "asymmetrical" Firestone Town & Country tire provides positive handling, long wear and a smoother, quieter ride on any road...wet or dry...even at turnpike speeds. Come in and see it today. We believe you'll agree...it's the finest winter tire you can buy!
*All comparisons relate to conventional Firestone Town & Country tire.

8 ROWS OF STUDS INSTEAD OF 6
This new "asymmetrical" Town & Country tread design permits the placement of 112 ice-gripping studs instead of 84 for greater security on ice. Put them on drive wheels only, or all 4 positions and say good-bye to winter driving worries!
Firestone
Town & Country®
Asymmetrical All-Position WINTER TIRE

Getting A Maryland View On Anti-Poverty Efforts

There is no money which the government collects from the people in the form of taxes which can be or should be wasted. In all of the many areas in which the government attempts to work for the citizens, there is, of course, the chance that some money will be spent extravagantly or unnecessarily, but one of the principal concepts that must be borne in mind by every public servant is that he is a trustee of the nation's resources that are given to his care during his term of office. Those who act in the name of the government must carefully husband the resources of the people which are given for the specific purposes that governments are supposed to carry out.

With this thought in mind, I have been traveling during the current congressional recess to various parts of Maryland to see for myself exactly how some of our government programs are working. Are they doing the job they're supposed to do? Or are they boondoggles that are wasting our money? In the course of making this investigation, I have been looking into the effectiveness of the Baltimore operations of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the agency in the Executive Office of the President which is in charge of the war against poverty. Should we be curtailing some of the anti-poverty programs and expanding others? Is the OEO doing a job for the poor of Maryland?

In traveling through Baltimore, I talked to a number of people in areas that might have been benefited by OEO and I found some evidence that in job training, in recreation and in some educational fields OEO has made an impact on life in the neighborhoods of the center city. I was, to be candid, discouraged, however that many of the people who live in the heart of the ghetto, in neighborhoods where life is most difficult, had never heard of OEO. They didn't know what I was talking about when I asked them whether the anti-poverty program had been helpful to them or whether the services offered in the community were actually available in the sense that they knew where to go and whom to call when they needed the help which the government intended to offer.

I am asking a distinguished group of citizens representing all segments of the Baltimore community, including the poor, to make recommendations to me on what should be embodied in any revision of the OEO program. In turn, I will convey their report to President Nixon in the hope that it will be helpful to him in offering a new program when the present one expires at the end of this fiscal year. In any event, the voice of the people in Maryland shall be heard on this issue.

Nine Injured In Four Accidents

Nine persons were injured in four motor vehicle accidents the last three days of October. In three accidents vehicle damage was considered total. Otherwise there were no injuries but vehicle damage was light to heavy. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland.

Last Saturday afternoon John Parker, Westernport, was traveling west on State Route 135 at Chesnut Grove Road. He pulled into a private parking area and attempted to turn and head back east. In doing so he pulled into the path of a car driven by Bernard E. Burns, Oakland, and was struck by it. Parker's car was considered a total loss. Burns and his wife, Vivian Burns, were both injured and taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in the Van Meter ambulance. Tfc. Stephen M. Russell charged Parker with failing to grant the right of way.

Robert L. Preston, Barton, was injured and taken to the Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser W. Va. last Thursday afternoon. He was traveling west on State Route 135, east of Chestnut Grove Road. As he did he struck the side of a tractor-trailer pulling from a service station and heading west. The rig was driven by Glenn D. Strawser, Eglon, W. Va. The accident was due to heavy fog. No charges were made by Tfc. Robert D. Lashley. Preston's car was damaged to the extent of $1200, the rig only $200.

Five persons were injured in an accident which occurred on U.S. 219 just north of Red House last Friday evening. The injured were taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Elsie Stanya of near Red House. Brenda L. Shank, Gorman, was going south on U.S. 219 when a car driven by Karl Kyle, Mt. Lake Park, crossed the center line and struck the Shank car in an almost head-on collision. Brenda Shank and her three passengers, Janet Detter, Aleta and Francis DelSignore and Carl Niner in the Kyle car were injured. Kyle fled the scene of the accident on foot, according to the state police. Charges are pending according to Tfc. Dale K. Williams. Car damage was heavy.

One person was injured in a four car accident on State Route 135 just east of State Route 560 last Thursday evening. Three cars were stopped along Route 135, because of construction work, that of James Sweitzer, Swanton, with Barbara Sweitzer, the injured person; Thomas Fowler, Swanton, and another unidentified car, all headed east. A car driven by Daniel R. Paugh, Kitzmiller, also traveling east, struck the Sweitzer car and forced each car, one into another. The cars were considerably damaged. Tfc. Robert D. Lashley charged Paugh with operating at a speed too great for conditions.

In eight other accidents there were no injuries but in some cases considerable car damage was noted.

Last Saturday evening David Marple, Oakland, was going north on U.S. Route 219 at the Oak-Land Motel entrance. Maheoud Taha Kader, Baltimore, was going south and made a left turn into the same entrance and struck the Marple car. Both cars encountered heavy damage. Tfc Dale K. Williams charged Kader with failing to grant right-of-way.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

What is the basis of support for the Community College?

The support for the annual operating cost of the Community College is divided 45% state, 30% county, and 25% tuition and fees, up to a cost of $1,200 per student per year. If the cost exceeds this amount, the added expense wauld be borne by the county, and by the student fees, if increased.

Capital costs are shared by the state and county on a 50-50 basis, although Garrett County has received additional state aid to assist in its initial construction.

It is hoped that a number of civic organizations, businesses, and individuals will assist in the cost to individual students by providing scholarships and loan funds for student use.

A Symbol Statement
. . . Rita Shrout

There has been much controversy over the widespread usage of the peace symbol. Its "evil" meaning has recently been editorialized, and its opponents have attempted to obliterate its appearance. It has been compared and linked to the anti-Christian symbol of the Moors when they invaded Spain in the eighth century. Its similarity to a World War II Nazi symbol has been noted. It has been called "sinful," "wicked," "communistic", and "of the devil."

Symbols are designated by men. Men are free to choose the symbol they want to represent an idea. People rule symbols — symbols don't rule people.

Perhaps today's peace symbol did stand for anti-Christian beliefs. So what? Ask someone wearing a peace symbol today what it expresses; he won't say "I'm rebelling against Christianity," or "I'm a Nazi," or even "I believe in devil worship." Most likely he'll tell you it means peace and love.

Those who harbor the peace symbol resent the reprimands they are receiving from John Birchers and others like them. What they fail to mention is that the peace symbol is a legitimate one — not only because it was christened as such to represent nuclear disarmament in 1958 for the British Ban-the-Bomb Aldermaston march — but also because that's what the people for peace want it to mean. The essence of the symbol is the idea it represents; the idea is not derived from the symbol.

Change is the only thing in the world that remains constant. People can only antiquate themselves by steadfast adherence to past symbolic values. People must not be denied the freedom of versatility! Who knows? Maybe ten years from now the Christian Cross will represent Japanese Supremacy. So what?

Antlerless Season Is Set For County

The Fish and Wildlife administration has set an antlerless deer season for December 12, in Garrett and Allegany counties, it was announced by Joseph H. Manning, director.

The deer harvest will be controlled by issuing 400 antlerless deer permits in each county. Landowners hunting on their own land will not need a hunting license, big game stamp or antlerless deer permit, the director stated.

Hunters who have not taken a deer during the regular season may apply for the permit, sending application to the Fish and Wildlife administration at the state office building in Annapolis by midnight, November 20.

Applicants can apply for a permit for themselves alone, or for themselves and a party ot up to 2 companions.

During the regular firearm deer season, November 28 to December 5, inclusive, it will be legal to take any deer in all counties except Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties, where traditionally only bucks with at least three inch long antlers are legal.

The state-wide bag limit of one deer per season remains the same as in former years except Dorchester county where two deer are allowed.

Patriotism Stressed In Talk

ADDRESSES LEGIONNAIRES—William Galbraith, with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and a former national commander of the American Legion, spoke on patriotism and love of country at the 33rd annual pig roast held last Friday at the home of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, Oakland. On Mr. Galbraith's right can be seen Dayton Alexander, post commander, while on the speaker's left is R. Thomas Thayer, who served as master of ceremonies.

Patriotism and love of country was the overall theme of the talk given last Friday evening at the thirty-third annual Pig Roast sponsored by proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, at the Legion home in Oakland. Some 275 or more persons attended the event.

Speaker was William Galbraith, deputy undersecretary for Congressional Affairs, the United States Department of Agriculture, and a former national commander of the American Legion.

Galbraith, a World War II Navy veteran, who has a son among the Green Berets in today's army, was sympathetic with the young people of today, placing the apparent lack of patriotism and lack of the deep love of country in many instances on the parents, who "don't seem to care."

He emphasized if the parents don't care how can the children be expected to care. He laid the lack of this care on the apathetic attitude of many parents. "Do parents know what is being taught in our schools today?" and "Do they know and understand those who are teaching our children?"

He paralleled the three W's, "Where are your children," "Who are they with," "What are they doing," with the question, "Where are their parents?" He pointed out that children of today are the children of World War II parents and the lack of carrying on their love of country may be laid squarely at their door.

He said the defense of America was our first concern and asked the legion to be more attentive to programs of youth,

Pollution At Mt. Storm Still Mystery

Mt. Storm area has been afflicted with air pollution for which state and federal officials are unable to identify a source, according to a report this week.

Director Carl G. Beard told the state air pollution control commission Tuesday that ozone pollution was first detected in damage to vegetation, particularly Christmas trees, in the Grant county area. The condition is normally found in heavily populated areas, Beard reported, and is usually due largely to automobile pollution, two conditions which are not a factor in the rural Mt. Storm area.

A statewide hearing on a proposed air quality standard for carbon monoxide, oxidants and hydrocarbons will be held.

Spanish Am. Vet At Pig Roast

A Spanish-American war veteran, the last known survivor of that 1898 conflict, was given special recognition at the thirty-third annual pig roast held last Friday evening by Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion. He was William A. Chisholm, of Deer Park, who entered service at the age of 18. He entered service March 30, 1900, spending three years in the army, and was honorably discharged March 21, 1903, with the rank of sergeant.

Mr. Chisholm served in Cuba with the 10th infantry where he did map work toward the close of the war. He served in the Philippine insurrection in 1902 and 1903 and remained there for five years as a civilian worker for the goverment. He was in civil service for ten years before returning to Garrett county in 1920. While serving at Fort Robertson, Nebraska he recalls how they broke wild horses for the 15th cavalry division. He also remembers meeting General Crook in this county about 1889, while hunting on the Chisholm farm near Oakland.

Mr. Chisholm lived for a number of years in the Sand Flat area where he farmed, but he has been in a wheel chair for a number of years.

He was made an honorary member of the Legion a few years ago. Mr. Chisholm had with him at the dinner the implements used in fighting in the Spanish-American war.

New Board Will Be Sworn By Nov. 18th

Is Earliest Possible Date For New Men To Take Office

The recently elected County Commissioners will be certified by the state board of Election supervisors early next week and they are expected to be sworn into office Tuesday or Wednesday, it was announced by Governor Mandel.

There had been indications that an interim board of commissioners would be named in order to speed up the strike settlement among county road workers and get preparations for winter underway.

However, the governor agreed to forget the nomination of the interim commissioners at the suggestion of the Republican State Central committee, thus overlooking the resignations of the present board of Hubert A. Friend, John Ross Sines and Allen S. Paugh.

Original strategy had called for the three county commissioners who had reached a stalemate over the road workers' strike, to step down so the three interim commissioners could be named. The resignations were dependent upon the certification of the appointees, and the interim group would function until the new board qualified and took office on December 1.

The Republican committee, in a letter to Governor Mandel last Thursday, withdrew the nominations. They were Dr. Ralph Calandrella, Ross Selby and Thomas Butscher. The letter, signed by Homer L. Bennett, chairman, also stated: "Inasmuch as the interim appointments could not arrive until November 10, and since Mr. Eldridge (John Eldridge, chief legislaive officer) advised that the commissions for the newly elected county commissioners would be expedited to arrive no later than November 18, we desire to withdraw our three above named recommendations. This action is taken in our belief that this will expedite a solution to our road problem here in Garrett county.

According to a ruling of the Attorney General November 18 is the earliest date that the new commissioners ca ntake office. The annotated code of Maryland states that they must wait 14 days after the election or until official certification has been granted, before being sworn in by the clerk of the Circuit court.

AN AMERICAN LEGION PRAYER FOR OUR PRISONERS OF WAR

Lord, shelter the prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. Open the hearts and minds of their captors that they may be restored to their homes and loved ones.

Each has carried the burden of battle.

Each has discharged an obligation of his country.

Each has been subjected to hazard, pain, and imprisonment beyond the lot of the soldier.

O Lord, these gallant men who bear so great a burden must not be forsaken.

God of Justice to whom we pray, Thy compassion we beseech: Lift their burden, give them strength and strike the shackles that deny them freedom.

Little Injury In Seven Accidents

In seven vehicle accidents in the last two weeks, records show three persons injured and one car called a total wreck. The three persons injured needed no special treatment.

Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland for the period ending November 9.

Dorsey Guard, Addison, Pa., was going west on U.S. Route 40, was making a left turn and struck a car driven by Samuel Schultz, Jr., Connellsville, Pa. Schultz then crossed the center line and hit headon with a car driven by Fred Perry, Decatur Ill. Car damage was moderate in this accident which occurred October 29. Guard was charged with improper passing by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman. He was slightly injured.

On October 30, Robert Adams, Ft. Ashby, W. VVa., was stopped in a line of traffic because of a slow moving vehicle ahead. Ronald L. Foutz, Westernport, was following Adams at a speed too great and crashed into him. Foutz's car was considered a total loss. He was injured but needed no special treatment. Foutz was charged with reckless driving and failing to reduce speed by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman.

On October 30, Grace McMillian, Lebanon, Pa., was stopped on U.S. Route 40 near Grantsville, in a line of traffic to make a left turn. Larry D. DeHaven, Martinsburg, W. Va., following McMillian failed to reduce speed and struck the car in the rear. She was injured but needed no treatment. Car damage was light. Tfc. Daniel Tharp charged DeHaven with failing to reduce speed.

In four other accidents there were no injuries and moderate car damage.

Donald E. Krueger, Winchester, Va., was going west on State Route 135 just east of Mt. Lake Park on November 4. He stated he had his signals set to make a left hand turn. Donald L. Callis, Deer Park, said Krueger did not have his signals flashing and started to pass him. Callis then collided with Krueger. There were no charges made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams because of conflicting stories of the operators.

On October 26, Howard T. Oursler, Oakland, was backing out of a private drive on the Accident-Friendsville Road near Accident. As he did so a car driven by Guy E. Broadwater, Accident, failed to reduce speed and collided with the Oursler car. Tfc. Daniel F. Tharp charged Oursler with failing to grant the right of way and Broadwater with failing to reduce speed.

At 1 a.m. November 3, Lawrence K. Filsinger, Deer Park, was traveling east on State Route 39 just west of Oakland. He ran off the road, struck a fence post and some small trees. Tfc. Stephen M. Russell charged him with operating at excessive speed.

Hilda L. Winters, Mt. Lake Park, was going east on State Route 135 just east of Mt. Lake Park on November 3. She was stopped prior to making a left turn into the Post Office. At the same time Betty D. Mattingly, Oakland, was following the Winters' car, failed to stop and collided with it. Tfc. Stephen Russell charged Mattingly with operating at a speed too great for conditions.

With Our Men In The Service

U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Cecil L. Hauser, son of Mrs. Hazel P. Hauser, of Route 1, Oakland, is on duty with the 307th Strategic Wing at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand.

Sergeant Hauser, a Strategic Air Command weapons maintenance technician, supports B-52 Stratofortress bombers which daily attack Viet Cong targets and KC-135 Stratotankers which provide refueling to fighter, bomber and reconnaissance aircraft conducting the air war over Vietnam.

The sergeant was assigned at Wright-Pattison AFB, Ohio before arriving in Thailand.

He is a 1955 graduate of Southern High School, Oakland.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

4. Who may attend the Community Colleg?

One of the unique features of the Community College is that it has educational offerings appropriate for many different segments of the community.

For those who wish to attend full time, a variety of college transfer programs and career-occupational programs will be offered. These programs lead to the Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science degrees. To be admitted to these programs, a student must be a high school graduate or have a high school equivalency diploma. He must also submit scores from the American College Testing program and a physician's certificate. For students having weak test scores and high school records, the program will be modified to a lighter semester load, and study skill-building courses may be required.

The part-time program offered in late afternoon and evenings will be open to high school graduates or holders of the high school equivalency certificate for courses offered for credit. Some adults who give evidence of ability to succeed in these courses may be admitted conditionally without having the formal requirements.

Non-credit courses of varying length will be open to all interested persons. Some may also be offered with credit to be optional. Those taking the courses for credit will be required to meet the high school graduate or equivalency standard.

On Life Quality
. . . Dwight Harvey

Modern man has developed a way of life undreamed of, even by the kings and wizards of old. He has a wide variety of nutritious foods, a multiplicity of wondrous inventions, and great conveyances to carry him across this world and beyond.

Yet, living side by side (even in the same nations) with men of this way of life are other modern men. These men are starving. They live in hovels with no labour-saving devices, and the only means of conveyance they have to escape this existence is their own legs.

But why the need for such a contrast? Why cannot all men live the former way of life?

The problem is that priority has been given quantity over quality. Millions of cars, books, medical supplies, tons of wheat, and human beings are produced each year. Yet, what man has gained in quantity he has lost in quality of each of these.

The world has become man's toy. He is easily dazzled by its sheer hugeness.

"More! More!" his infant's voice cries, while the quality of civilization becomes less.

This is the reason for the contrast in life styles. It is obvious that to rid the world of these not-so-modern men would be advantageous. How to do this is the question!

We must slow down our production and halt our population increase. At the same time we must strive to increase the quality of our lives. For what is life without quality?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved mother
Edith B. Frazee
who passed away November 18, 1965.

God saw Mom was getting weary,
So He did what He thought best.
He put His arms around her,
And whispered, "Come home and rest."
The golden gates stood open
On that November day.
Beside your grave we often stand.
We try in vain to understand.
Forgive us God, in tears we pray.
Mom was so precious,
Why couldn't she stay?
We lost the dearest and the best
The day God took her home to rest.

Sadly missed by Sons
Blaine, Emerson, Paul,
Merle, Ward and Dale
Daughters Opal, Amy, Eileen and Linda.
—Adv. 37-1t.

IN MEMORIAM
EDITH FRAZEE

In loving memory of our dear mother and our grandmother, Edith Frazee, who passed away five years ago on November 18, 1965.

Gone dear mother, gone to heaven. How we miss your smiling face, your sweet voice and loving footsteps. A happy home we once enjoyed, gone forever. But how sweet the memory still.

But death has left a loneliness the world can never fill. We who love you, sadly miss you.

Sales Documents Needed For Wool Incentive Payments

Wool producers were reminded they should bring sales documents for shorn wool and unshorn lambs to the County ASC Office to earn incentive payments for 1970 marketings. Sales of both wool and unshorn lambs may be included in a single application for payment, according to Darrell O. Martin, Chairman of the Garrett County ASC committee.

Producers also were reminded that purchases of all unshorn lambs, including the lambs in ewe-lamb pairs, must be reported when application is filed for wool incentive payment. Mr. Martin said wool producers occasionally overlook reporting purchases of replacement stock, but ASCS County Office must have an accurate record of purchases as well as sales of unshorn lambs.

Shorn wool payments to a producer are equal to a percentage of his returns from sales. The percentage is that required to raise national average price received for shorn wool by all producers up to 72 cents a pound.

"Dear Mother, you are not forgotten, though on earth you are no more; Still in memory you are with us, as you always were before. O, Mother, dear, when you were here, we had your tender care; and none can ever take your place, or fill that vacant chair. You were the sunlight of our home, till God took you away, but we never will forget you, and we'll meet you in Heaven one day.

Loving sons and daughters

Large Number At Church Dedication Near Swallow Falls

The newly completed Rocky Drean Assembly of God church, near Oakland, was appropriately dedicated Monday evening with approximately 350 persons attending, it was announced by Rev. Gail K. Hixon, pastor.

Participating were Rev. Joseph Smith, presbyter of the northwest section, Assemblies of God, and pastor of the Westernport church, the dedicatory prayer; Rev. J. E. Barrick, Cumberland, resume of a history of the church.

Rev. R. A. McCauley, Martinsburg, and the late Rev. G. W Burkhart, with Rev. Barrick, started meetings in the old Bray Schoolhouse, now a home, in 1915. Meetings were held later in the home of Cecil Ramsey which continued until three years ago.

Rev. Hixon is the second pastor to serve the congregation, having accepted the pastorate in 1967. The late Rev. J. C. Skipper was pastor from 1915 to 1967.

The new church is of native fiedstone construction with wood trim. The interior is finished in paneling with red carpet and oak pews. The building is at the front of the lot where the old church still stands.

Preceding the dedication service a youth rally was held with Rev. Robert W. Collette, Midlothian, as chairman. Rev. Smith spoke on "Give Yourself Back to God."

A Women's Missiosary council meeting was held at 2:15 with Mrs. Robert D. Smith, Petersburg, sectional leader, in charge. Miss Virginia Sasscer, missionary to Belgium, was the speaker. At 3:15 the Fellowship service was conducted by Rev. Smith and Rev. John Lyely, Frostburg presenting a devotional message.

Over 200 were served the evening meal by the ladies of the church in the basement of the new Sand Flat Assembly of God church where Rev. E. T. Wines is pastor.

Over 30 Assembly of God pastors and people within a radius of 100 miles attended the services.

VanSlycke-White Vows Recited At Chevy Chase

Betty Joyce White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester White, Steyer, was wed to John Russell VanSlycke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. VanSlycke Sr., Bethesda, on August 8, at 12 o'clock noon.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the chapel of St. John's Episcopal church, Chevy Chase, with Rev. Charles Summers officiating. Traditional wedding music was rendered by the church organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white faille with a lace-trimmed bodice. Her shoulder-length headdress consisted of faille streamers tipped with small organza daisies. She carried a nosegay of white daisies. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and white daisies.

Mrs. Carolyn Ann White served as matron of honor. She was attired in a street-length dress of pale apricot crepe and carried a nosegay of painted daisies. Best man was the groom's father.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress with a corsage consisting of a single white orchid. The groom's mother chose a dress of pale green and pink print and wore a green orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents on Fort Sumner Drive, Bethesda. A buffet luncheon was served.

The bride chose a suit of tan and white print crepe for the wedding trip. Following a week at Virginia Beach, Va., the couple returned to Silver Spring where they now reside.

Just a strange little ingredient no other economy car can offer.
Time.
For while other car makers were jumping from model to model trying to figure out what sold, we stuck with our idea.
And improved it. Over and over and over.
Each time to make it work better and not to make it look better.
After 25 years, all those improvements must have paid off.
Because, at last count, about 93 out of 100 VWs sold in the U.S.A. are still running in the U.S.A.

Through every generation — people have looked for peace and security. Hundreds of volumes have been written on the subject and thinkers and writers have devoted their lives to the search.

But of all these books, the Bible is most concerned with peace and security. "Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed for I am your God."

No man-made philosophy can banish the worries and troubles of today's complex life. But in the gospel we find assurance of His care.

God loves us. When we go to Him in humility, He cleanses us of sin. Our minds are put at ease. Peace fills our souls.

Go then to the Book for modern man. Through study, prayer and worship we will find that peace which has been granted to millions — in every country — in every age. Discover anew the life for modern man.

PROPORTIONATE GIFT

Lesson for November 15, 1970

Background Scripture: Romans 12:1-8; Corinthians 4:1-2; Corinthians 9:6-15; James 2:14-17.
Devotional Reading: 2 Corinthians 9:6-15.

You would think that the Apostle Paul had enough troubles without getting involved in money matters in the churches! Wasn't there enough controversy with the Jewish legalists, the municipal authorities, the factions in the churches, the paganizers, the teachers of false doctrine, the immoralists? Why should he have become involved in something so controversial as church money matters?

Rev. Althouse

A spiritual problem

Yet, if you search through Paul's letters you will find that he has a great deal to say about stewardship, specifically the giving of money, just as Jesus had a great deal to say about it in the gospels. The reasons become quite clear if we examine what both Jesus and Paul had to say about giving, for it is obvious that they do not consider it a "money problem," but a spiritual problem. Love of money and an ingenerous nature are very great spiritual illnesses. Paul could not adequately minister to the Christian churches without speaking about giving, specifically the giving of money.

Furthermore, Paul was not just concerned that Christians give, he was also concerned with the question of how much they give. Paul didn't prescribe specific amounts or percentages—that he left up to the individual—but he did say that one's giving ought to be in some proportion to what one receives.

A wealth of liberality

In 2 Corinthians 8 Paul holds up as a good example the giving of the church in Macedonia. These churches were poor and destitute, yet, in the midst of their extreme poverty, they were found to possess an "abundance of joy" and "wealth of liberality." In one sense you would say they had nothing, but in another, that they had everything they needed. Their spiritual abundance overcame their material poverty. These people actually begged for permission to participate in the offering Paul was raising and gave considerably beyond what Paul thought they could give.

These people had little, yet they gave much. Often people who have more than they will acknowledge delude themselves by thinking of how much they would give if they ever had the opportunity. Centuries ago William Law wrote of such a man:

Clemens has his head full if imaginary piety. He is often proposing to himself what he would do if he had a great estate. He would outdo all charitable men . . . he would allow himself only necessaries, that widows and orphans, the sick and distressed, might find relief out of his estate.

Like most of us, Clemens knows what he would do. Unfortunately he ignores what he could do.

Now, Clemens has at present a moderate estate, which he spends upon himself in the same vanities and indulgences as others do. He might live upon one-third of his fortune and make the rest the support of the poor; but he does nothing of all this that is in his power, but pleases himself with what he would do if his power was greater. Come to thy senses, Clemens. Do not talk what thou wouldst do if thou was an angel, but consider what thou canst do as thou art a man. Make the best of thy present state.

Too many of us are like Clemens: we do not make the best of our present state. We do not give in proportion to what we have received. And it is the proportionate gift which God desires.

DIABETES CAN'T BE CURED BUT CAN BE CONTROLLED
Proper diet, an oral medication called a hypoglycemic agent, and insulin are the three ways a physician controls a diabetic patient. He may use just diet or all three, depending on the type of diabetes. The important thing is to diagnose early for in some cases there are no symptoms.
Because the diabetic needs a great many products to help control the condition, we have a complete "Diabetic Center" in our pharmacy. This includes not only the necessary prescription medicines but testing tapes, sugar substitutes, sugar-free products, food measuring scales, syringes, etc.

Loughry-Friend Wed October, 10

Nuptials were held at the Hillcrest Chapel, Terra Alta, on the afternoon of Saturday, October 10, uniting Miss Sandra Kay Friend and Donald Franklin Loughry. The Rev. George A. Kirk, Jr., performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis J. Friend of Crellin. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Loughry of Terra Alta, W. Va.

The gown was accented with daisy lace on the stand-up collar, cuffs, empire waist and hem. She wore a veil of imported illusion attached to a lace covered handmade petal crown set with aurora borealis crystals. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white baby pom-pons and pink sweetheart rosebuds. She carried out the old tradition by wearing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

The matron of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. Roger Tolliver, wore a floor length gown of hot pink chiffon over taffeta, with empire waist accented with a taffeta band, tiny ruffles edged the scoop neckline and full wrist-length sleeves. She carried a single pink sweetheart rose with matching streamers.

The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Cole and Miss Carolyn Sharps, wore pearl pink gowns identical to the matron of honor's gown. They also carried single pink rosebuds. The attendents' gowns were orginally created and handmade by the bride.

Flower girl was Lisa Friend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Friend, Crellin. Her gown was of white lace and pink taffeta and she carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Roger Tolliver, Jr., nephew of the bride served as ring bearer in the dougle ring ceremony. John Chavis, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Joseph Fraley was an usher.

Huskies, Rams End Season With Tie

Garrett County rivals, Northern and Southern High schools will have to wait until next year to see a settlement of the mountain top football battle. They ended their seasons in a scoreless contest last Friday night at Oakland.

Neither team was able to generate an effective offense with Northern's Steve Myers and Southern's "Ruffy" Ridder staying mostly on the ground and both halted more by the elements than by the opposition.

The Huskies, coming into the contest as the favorites by virtue of their better won and lost record, managed only 45 yards rushing and ten yards on two completed aerials, while the Rams also picked up 45 yards rushing and 56 yards on three pass completions.

Southern managed only three first downs, one each by passing, running, and via penalty, while Northern had six first downs, four of them by rushing.

Steve Reese turned out to be the vital cog in the Northern defense halting two potential Southern drives with interceptions. One of them occurred when the Rams had possession at the Northern 14-yard line.

The Huskies managed to get into Southern territory only as far as the 43-yard line, where the lone Northern threat of the contest was terminated on a pass interception by Tom Bosley. Southern's defensive standouts were George Zimmerman, George Tusing, Mike Gravely and Don DeWitt. Outstanding on offense were Robert Ridder and Peter Cosby. Bosley's interception occurred with 1:12 remaining in the game and the Rams could only run out the clock at that juncture.

Rick Shaffer, Southern fullback, was injured early in the game and did not return to the line-up.

The Huskies now have a record of five victories, four losses and one tie. Southern won three games, lost five and tied two. Both won from Parsons and Terra Alta. Southern defeated Kingwood but the Huskies lost to the Stags. Southern lost to Bruce but the Huskies defeated that team. Southern tied Valley High but the Huskies lost to them.

Two Charged On Two Counts Each

Eight persons were listed in the docket of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, Oakland, for motor vehicle violations for the week ending November 10. Two persons were charged on two counts each.

Karl Kyle, Mt. Lake Park, was charged with failing to keep to right of center. He was found guilty but fine and costs were suspended. On a second count of operating a motor vehicle while license was revoked, he was found guilty and paid $103.

All others forfeited collateral.

Dennis R. Swartzentruber was charged on two counts. One was failing to appear for a trial, $13, and the second, operating with inadequate mufflers, $13.

Failing to grant right of way: Joseph C. Miller, $15, and Martha S. Steiding, $18.

Exceeding posted speed limit of 50 m.p.h.: Everett A. Fratz, Accident, $13, and Budd A. Wengerd, Springs, Pa., $13.

John P. Halsey, Oakland, speeding too great for existing conditions, $13.

Dorothy A. Ludwig, Oakland, operating a motor vehicle in an unsafe condition (bald tires), $13.

All amounts shown include fine and costs.

Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Sanders, Oakland announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Sue, to Robert G. Fint, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O. Fint, Aurora, W. Va.

Miss Sanders is a 1969 graduate of Southern High School and is presently employed at the Garrett National Bank. Mr. Fint, a 1964 graduate of Aurora High, attended Potomac State and received his B.S. degree in 1969 from Fairmont State College. He is now serving with the United States Army, 78th Finance Section, in Germany. An open church wedding has been set for December 26, at the St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland.

Deer Park Stars Have Witch's Hootenanny

The Deer Park Stars 4-H club held their annual Witch's Hootenanny at the Deer Park School House on October 30. Around 50 people attended. Two parades were held.

In the first Randy Biser won a prize for the ugliest, Bonnie Frazee for the prettiest, Kenny DeWitt for the funniest, and Lisa Frazee for the most original.

In the second parade Ricky DeWitt won a prize for the ugliest, Mike Upole for the prettiest, John DeBerry for the funniest, and Gary Biser for the most original.

Throughout the evening Jeff Gramblin and Johnny Paugh won prizes.

There was bobbing for apples.

Bolden Seeks Ideas For New Legislation

Losing little time since his election to the House of Delegates, DeCorsey E. Bolden yesterday made plans to assist persons or organizations having proposed legislation in mind to meet with him and the new state senator at a specific time.

He and State Senator representing Garrett county, William A. Wilson, are asking that people or groups having any needed legislation in mind to contact him at his home on High street in Oakland and arrangements for a meeting could be formalized.

The opening session of the legislature will be the second Wednesday in January. Bolden plans to atend an orientation meeting in Annapolis on December 8 and 9.

WHAT CAN YOU DO WHEN THEY TURN 19?

Pray a little. Hope a lot. And make sure that they continue their Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection.

At 19, the need for health care protection is as important as any other time in a person's life. But coverage under Family Programs for all Non-Group and most Group members ends for young people at the end of the year in which they reach age 19.

What should you do? If they're at school, have them check into the special low-cost Student Program. For only $3.90 a month, they can receive the solid protection they've been getting as part of family coverage... and that's a great buy.

If they turn 19 this year and they're not eligible for the Student Program, have them apply for their own Blue Cross and Blue Shield membership. If they're employed, have them check with their employers.

Nineteen-year-olds should apply for either student or individual protection by December 31, 1970. For the price of a couple of rock albums, they can have Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage for a month. And real peace of mind.

Back to Work . . . .

Apparently it is all settled -- that is the Commissioners and the county road workers have agreed on their problems and the latter are headed back to work Friday -- and it is not a day too soon. In fact it is only by the grace of God that conditions in the area have not been in an entire mess.

The settlement was amicable, which certainly indicates that work throughout the winter will continue without interruption. Another important development was that there will be an increase in wages upon which the previous county commissioners had agreed.

One of the best features of the settlement, we believe, is that there will be no restrictions upon new employes which would compel them to join a union, under compulsion. Everyone has a right to work at a job for which he is qualified without any forced union membership. That is the basic American right.

One of the agreements signed by each group was: "It is understood by all parties that membership in any organization, association, union or federation is not a requirement for employes for the Roads department and membership in any such association by employes will be at their own election."

Another significant agreement: "There will be no reprisals or coercion against workers participating in this strike; neither will there be coercion or reprisals against any employe returning to work who didn't participate in this strike. In the event it is necessary to hire additional men to make full complement after the vote is taken there will be no reprisals or coercion from either party."

So let everyone concerned get to the job at hand.

Truck Driver Killed In Crash Early Sunday

Is 10th Person To Die At Foot Of Bloomington Mountain

Dead Man's Curve, at the foot of Backbone mountain on state route 135, at Bloomington, claimed its tenth life in ten years early Sunday morning when a Frederick truck driver died shortly after his rig careened into the foot of the mountain.

John Frank Spelzini, Jr., 28, route 6, Frederick, died of a crushed chest and lacerations of the head and face. According to first persons at the scene Mr. Spelzini lived for a few moments after the crash but died while being pried from the wreckage.

According to State police at LaVale, the wreckage of the tractor-trailer was so extensive that a cause could probably not be determined. It was probably the result of brake failure. The mishap occurred about 8 a.m. Sunday.

It was believed that Spelzini was returning a load of empty Rock Creek soda bottles to Frederick from Clarksburg, W. Va. Other trucks have carried hydrochloric acid, insecticide, dressed chickens, cattle and steel only to spill them against the mountain. The crash there was the first in three years.

The wreckage of the trailer blocked the view of the passerby the nine yellow crosses painted on the face of the mountain.

Commissioners Sworn In; Long Rd. Strike Ends

Reach Agreement Quickly Tuesday; Terms Accepted Tuesday Night

The newly elected Board of County Commissioners were sworn into office Tuesday morning and immediately offered the striking county road workers a settlement proposal which the union unanimously accepted Tuesday night.

The acceptance by the road workers ended an eight month old strike, longest by municipal workers in the history of the nation.

The new contract was signed Wednesday morning and the men are scheduled to return to work Friday morning after they indicate by secret ballot whether or not they want to be represented by Local 1834, AFSCME, AFL-CIO.

At an organization session on Tuesday morning the commissioners elected Earl Opel, of Long Stretch, as chairman, with Wayne Hamilton, Red House; and Bernard Guy, Bloomington, as associate chairmen. The three men named Jack R. Turney as attorney to the board.

The strike began April 7 when the former county commissioners in a two to one vote refused to recognize the union.

In a statement to the press the commissioners said they had resolved to work in a sincere and diligent manner to arrive at a mutually acceptable solution and agreed to a number of preliminary solutions.

One concerned the manner of a secret vote. Also indicated were: no reprisals or coercion against workers participating in the strike, and not against any employe returning to work who didn't participate in the strike; and no reprisals or coercion when additional men may be hired.

The commissioners agreed to restoration of seniority for workers, dues check-off; the wage increase of 7 percent and benefits as set forth by the former commissioners when the budget was levied; an agreement to begin negotiations with union representatives immediately in order to complete an agreement within 60 days. The commissioners agreed to overtime pay for those working in excess of 40 hours per week, with compensation depending on ability to pay after a two week period.

It was pointed out that membership in any organization was not a requirement for employes of the roads department and that membership in any association of employes would be at their own election.

Attending the signing ceremony were four union officials,

Temporary Access Road For B. And L. To Be Maintained

The road to the Bausch and Lomb industrial plant, presently a temporary structure, will be upgraded for the winter months, pending completion of the permanent roadway that will be constructed in the spring.

The temporary road is being widened and will be maintained during winter months.

This arrangement was made necessary by the lateness of making the award of the contract by the State Roads commission. Col. J. Haig Jackson, director of the Economic Development corporation, said an extensive fill of from 15 to 18 feet deep along a good part of the 1,000 foot roadway would have to be made and this would be impossible during the winter months. The County Commissioners agreed to provide some $60,000 for the new structure. The SRC received a bid of $182,000 for the job.

The temporary roadway was expected to be completed this week by the State Road commission workers, with the County Commissioners responsible for the cost.

To Develop New Vocation Programs

The Garrett County Board of Education has been engaged since 1965 in developing new vocational programs and upgrading existing programs. To further implement these programs, invitations were extended by Dr. Raymond McCullough, Superintendent of Schools, to a group of citizens to become members of Garrett County Vocational Advisory Committee, selections being made on the basis of geography, occupational background and interest.

An organizational meeting was held November 16, at the Garrett County Board of Education, committee members selected included: Elizabeth Randol, Chairman; Wayne Frederick, Co-Chairman; Thomas O. Bender, Charles Briner, Hugh T. Denison, George D. Edwards Wayne B. Hamilton, Col. J. Haig Jackson, Paul R. Mateer, Jr., Carl P. Rebele, Irvin Robert Rudy, Jr., Clarence L. Stem, Phyllis Trickett, and Courtney Tusing.

James Trickett, Vocational Supervisor, reviewed the vocational program operating in the county schools and will serve in a liasion capacity to the committee.

This advisory committee will attempt to assist in strengthening the vocational programs by providing consultation and support for new vocational programs, and assist in maintaining and evaluating existing programs. The committee will also aid in building the prestige of, and respect for, the entire program of occupational education, it was stated.

Luncheon was served by the Food Service Department at Southern High. The next meeting will be held in February when Max E. Jobe, Executive Director of the Maryland Advisory Council on Vocational and Technical Education, will explain in greater detail the role of an advisory committee.

Subsidizing Strikers...

Many citizens are shocked and indignant at news that strikers at General Motors plants in Detroit and elsewhere are receiving public assistance in the form of federal food stamps. They see handouts as subsidization of the United Auto Worker' destructive strike, which is doing immense damage to the nation's economy.

U.S. Rep. John Ashbrook (R-Ohio) has correctly pointed out that "giving food stamps to strikers just did not happen. It is a result of a specific vote by a majority of our elected legislators." In 1964, the Congress passed the Food Stamp Act, Public Law 88-525. Four years later, liberals in the Congress forced through a series of amendments, one of which authorized food stamps for strikers.

At the time, conservatives pointed out the unfairness of making food stamps available to strikers. A striker has a job; he simply chooses not to go to it. Rep. Charles Teague, a Republican member of Congress, said in 1968: "If we allow food stamps to strikers who may be trying to get their hourly wages raised from $3.75 to $4.00 per hour, we may be taking literally the food out of the mouths of people who are really in need."

Today, the taxpayers are paying heavily for the domination of Congress by a liberal coalition. In effect, the taxpayers are contributing to the UAW strike fund. Imagine the furor from unionists and liberals if the federal government gave a subsidy to non-unionized employes of G.M.

The irony involved in this subsidization is all the stronger in view of the disastrous effect of the UAW strike. Six weeks after the strike commenced, losses were colossal. The State of Michigan was losing $4 million a week because of the union action. Claims for unemployment insurance, which normally drop in the fall, were mounting.

Suppliers of steel and rubber for the auto industry were compelled to lay off thousands of workers. Railroads were deprived of the heavy volume of traffic in automobiles moving to regional distributors. Secondary layoffs - layoffs of persons employed in industries supplying the direct suppliers of G.M. - were mounting by the end of October.

Paul W. McCracken, the President's chief economic adviser, warned that each week of the UAW strike cuts the Gross National Product by $1 billion. Earnings of many primary suppliers and secondary suppliers have been severely damaged by the irresponsible union action against the nation's largest corporation.

When the strike was called, the nation already was faced with a recession threat. President Nixon had made moves he thought would help develop an upturn in the economy. Then came the UAW strike, completely upsetting the President's timetable.

Why did United Auto Workers' leadership order the strike at a time when the economy was in trouble? Elections were looming ahead. Cynics might suspect that the UAW bosses were not happy at the idea of the economy taking another downturn before the elections - a development which wouldn't exactly help the Nixon administration. The liberal power structure, of which the UAW is a key part, wants to sell the American people on the idea that a non-liberal administration can't run the country in an effective manner.

Be that as it may, the UAW strike has been a blow at every working American, including union members. The members of the UAW at other auto plants have been compelled to pay higher dues in order to swell the union coffers for the fight against G. M. One wonders how these UAW members like the extra assessment. Given the lack of democracy inside unions, it is clear that the protests from within won't be very loud.

Whatever the outcome of the current UAW strike, it is imperative that Congress make sure that nothing like it happens again. It is a terible economic crime to have vast powers of disruption and paralysis concentrated in the hands of a handful of union bosses. It is equally outrageous that the taxpayers, who are victimized by the strike, have to help subsidize strikers with federal food stamps.

Class Rank Lists Top Twenty Seniors

The top twenty ranked seniors at Southern High, Oakland, turned out to number twenty-one as several were tied at different steps. Martin Heise and Rhonda Rodeheaver are both ranked first in the senior class.

Tied for third place are Carla Mosser and Gerald Sanders. Carol Bergstrom and Teresa Naylor are tied for fifth place, while Scott Rush, Terry Wolfe, and Milinda Murphy ranked seventh. David Shaffer and Rita Shrout are both ranked tenth in the class.

Ranae Kitzmiller is twelfth with Dwight Harvey thirteenth and Elizabeth Hinebaugh 14th. Tied for 15th place are Mary Pennington and Judy Lee. Dona Alvarez is ranked seventeenth in the class while Mala Wilkins and George Tusing are tied for eighteenth place. Heidi Sylvester and Glenda Grubb are tied for twentieth place.

The class rank was determined from the six semester grades in grades nine through eleven. Chemistry along with physics will be given double credit; library and office work will be given full credit in determining class rank.

The scale used is 4 points per A, 3 points per B, 2 points per C, 1 point per D, and no credit for E. In finding the rank the number of credits the course has is multiplied by the number of points the grade is worth.

Course credits now reflect the number of hours spent in a particular subject.

Colleges sometimes refer to the applicant's rank when considering acceptance in addition to test scores and past grades.

Large signs were erected along route 135, after the ninth fatality reminding truck drivers to bring their vehicles to a complete stop at various points as they descend the mountain. Drivers are also notified to ditch the truck immediately if brakes fail.

Few people were up in Bloomington at the time of the crash although one man reported seeing the truck pass through the community at a high rate of speed. State Trooper L. V. Lewis investigated the crash. Volunteer firemen from Westernport, Luke, Piedmont and Bloomington were called to the scene.

Grantsville Man Injured In Wreck

Paul Douglas Knox, 17, of Grantsville was admitted to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, early Tuesday morning with injuries sustained in a one-car accident on U. S. 40 about half a mile west of Grantsville.

His condition was listed as satisfactory. Knox sustained lacerations of the face and finger and an injury to his left leg and abrasions.

Tfc. Carl Skidmore said that charges were pending. The accident occurred at 1:15 a. m. as Knox was driving west on the highway.

The trooper said the driver had passed a tractor-trailer when the car went out of control, sideswiped a bridge and hit two SRC signs and a utility pole on the south side of the road before going down over a five foot embankment and landing on its roof.

He was taken to the hospital in the Newman ambulance of Grantsville. The car was a total loss, the trooper said.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Do our college students who are ranting against the American "system" know anything about it? Surely not much. If they thoroughly understood the American economic system, how it works, and its incomparable production of goods and services, they would, unless robbed of sound judgment, be boosting it to the high heavens. It produces greater material wealth for its people than any other system under the sun. How, or Why, it does this is an important part of the education of American youth. But in our school system today it is being much neglected.

"The Wealth Machine" is the fourth in the series of booklets in our brand-new "Educational Survival Kit" which is designed to be distributed to 40,000,000 young people in our colleges and high schools. The kit contains facts that if widely exposed can halt further alienation of our present youth generation. They are facts that show up the wild-eyed revolutionaries and their dupes as downright stupid and silly juveniles.

Communalism is something that appeals to ignorant youths. It is being practiced today by bands of young hippies beset with the romantic idea of "one for all and all for one." They do not know that it was tried and it failed at Jamestown and Plymouth Colony more then 300 years ago, and has been tried without success in various parts of the world ever since. An economic system based on a "Common storehouse" fails when some of the commune members shirk their fair share of the work, or argue about divisions, etc. Private ownership and the competitive market saved Jamestown and Plymouth Colony from starvation and extinction.

Why does our private enterprise system work to produce so much more, relatively, than any other system? There are five freedoms which are the basic factors:

1. Freedom to dream your dreams and try to make them come true. Our history is full of tremendous stories of the individual who dreamed and, through hard work, saw his dream come true: Henry Ford, who put our society in automobiles, is one example.

2. Freedom to compete with the dreamer. Henry Ford couldn't have a monopoly and charge exhorbitant prices, because Chevrolet came along to challenge him for the business. More than 1,300 auto manufacturers have tried the business; the ones that could serve the public best survived.

3. The best management, in production and service, rises to the top in the keen competitive climate of freedom. Thus consumers benefit from the very best management of our enterprises.

4. To capture a big segment of the consumer market, products must be mass produced. Thus machine tools are constantly invented and refined to make more things better and at a faster rate of production. And this, of course, helps the pay checks of the workers. One man today, with a giant machine, can produce 100 times as much as his counterpart could 30 years ago; and he makes much more money.

5. And finally, the last factor, is personal freedom for employes. You can work where you please, quit when you like, bargain for yourself, or join a collective bargaining group. You are free to call your own shots. Our wealth machine is fueled on freedom of individual opportunity.

These facts are important to American youth today. Help disseminate them.

Yough Study Plan Backed At Hearing

The Youghiogheny River basin and what can be done to enhance its future was the topic of discussion at Northern High school Tuesday night where officials of the Pittsburgh district U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, met with about 130 persons from the three states.

The public hearing was the third and final in an initial series of meetings at which the Corps of Engineers sought suggestions and outlined what the corps hoped to accomplish in a new five-year study of the basin.

Spokesmen for the corps said as it did at hearings at Connellsville and McKeesport, that the study would concern itself basically with the needs of the basin, the desire to develop it for wider appeal as a recreational area, while increasing its economic potential by eliminating acid mine drainage and other pollutants.

Attending were county representatives to the Yough Basin study's advisory council, Col. J. Haig Jackson, member of the county's economic development corporation; Helmuth Heise, member of the State Department of Forests and Parks board; Karol Rush, Friendsville; and Charles Bender, Grantsville, both of whom are members of the development corporation. Members of the new Board of County Commissioners also attended. Jack Glotfelty, member of the Oakland town council, and town attorney W. W. Grant represented the municipality.

The corps pointed out that its intention was not in building a series of random dams which could detract from the beauty of the river, but for the purpose of recommending what could be done to preserve the basin for sportsmen and increase its economic potential.

Many persons are opposed to the study, including boaters and canoeists who want the river to be kept "wild and white."

More than 100 persons seemed to be in favor of the study. David Bowen, state director of the Maryland Soil Conservation service, spoke in favor of the program, saying the service could assist with the coordination of proposals with the corps. Col. Jackson spoke in favor of the proposed development of the river resources. He cited the need for water supplies for attracting new industry and for potable water.

Indict Bayard Man On Gun And Kidnapping Counts

The November term of the Grant County Grand Jury indicted Richard Layman, 20, Bayard, on charges of kidnapping, firing a gun at a person in a public place and public intoxication.

West Virginia State Police officer, Trooper Charles Burner, said the incidents for which Layman was indicted occurred in mid-October in connection with an argument he had with Jimmy Pritt, owner of The Curve, a tavern along West Virginia route 90 between Bayard and Gormania.

Layman, the trooper said had an argument with Pritt and left the tavern to get his gun. He apparently procured a 12-gauge shotgun from his home and was enroute back to the tavern when he flagged down a car driven by Rev. Robert C. Cole, pastor of the Mt. Storm United Methodist church.

According to the charges, Layman pointed the shotgun at Mr Cole and forced him to drive to the tavern. Once there, Layman released the minister and entered the tavern.

Inside the tavern, the charges, allege, Layman fired a round from the single shot weapon at Pritt and missed. Trooper Burner said other customers in the tavern then disarmed Layman and held him until the police took him into custody.

No date was set for the trial.

Tells Why Bausch And Lomb Chose Oakland

Robert Melville, vice president of the opthalmic division of Bausch and Lomb, gave Rotarians a picture of the company which is now in the process of constructing a plant just east of Mt. Lake Park, at last Thursday's meeting at the American Legion home.

Mr. Melville gave a brief history of the business, which started back in 1853. He explained four main groups of business, the scientific instrument division, analytical systems division, precision components division and opthalmic division. The latter he termed a bread and butter division which is what the Oakland plant will be.

Among the advantages he listed in finally settling on this area for its plant, were good supply of workers, nice place to live community that really wanted them, an eastern location, near good transportation facilities, natural beauty, delightful people who live here, recreation possibilities, the community college in process of construction, and the cooperation of the people of the area.

Military Hospitals Need Repair, Modernization

Thousands of young Americans are residing in the wards of military hospitals. Fate has claimed these men as part of the price of the nation's engagement in Southeast Asia. During a Veterans Day visit to the Bethesda Naval Hospital, outside of Washington, the sight of the wounded re-enforced by belief in the American spirit and my resolve that we must do all that we can for those who are injured while serving their country.

The first thing that struck me about these men was the courage, calm and patience with which they are enduring their very serious wounds. Many of these young men will carry the scars of battle for the rest of their lives, but in all the men with whom I spoke there was not a single word of complaint about their plight. In fact, they had nothing but praise and thanks for the doctors and nurses who were treating them and seeking for them the fullest possible recovery. I have nothing but gratitude in my heart for these men—not only for what they did in carrying out their military duties, but for the attitude which is so constructive and so positive that it should be an inspiration and an example to every citizen of the United States.

However, I was troubled by the condition that we, as a nation, have allowed to settle in at Bethesda Naval Hospital. I was troubled by our response to the challenge of giving our wounded the best possible treatment. First, the hospital needs helps. Bethesda Naval Hospital was built during the Administration of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. It has had few structural changes since that time. It is not air conditioned. When I visited the hospital nearly two years ago, I suggested that air conditioning be installed at least in the wards where the most seriously wounded men are located. Sadly, my recent return trip showed no improvement. Walls in the hospital's wards need painting. The walls are not merely uncheerful, they are actually depressing. No American could be proud of conditions such as these.

I understand the necessity for every economy in our national budget. I understand that in the time when we're fighting both a shooting war in Asia and an economic war at home we may have to defer the construction of a highway, or the construction of public buildings, but I cannot understand why budget cuts should be directed at military hospitals which desperately need rehabilitation. These institutions have been working overtime in the last several years to accommodate the load of casualties generated by the war in Vietnam. Many of these hospitals are over-age and out-of-date for the kind of service we expect of them in the decade of the seventies.

I intend to make every effort to see that military hospitals—not only in Bethesda but others around the country—are given every possible consideration in their requests for maintenance, upkeep, rehabilitation and modernization. Because I think that is the least we owe to the military men of America who have answered our call in carrying out the policy of this nation.

This new car is the best reason not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle.

In a year when every car maker seems to be giving you one reason or another not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle, it might be a good idea to listen to the best reason:

Volkswagen's Super Beetle.

It has almost twice the luggage space as the Beetle of yesteryear.

It has a longer-lasting, more powerful engine.

It has a new suspension system for a smoother ride.

It has a flow-through ventilation system to bring in fresh air when the windows are closed.

The interior is, to be honest, much nicer.

The floor, for example, is fully carpeted.

In all, it has 89 things you could never find on a Beetle.

So of all the claims you'll hear this year by car makers that their cars are "better than a Beetle," there's only one car maker with 25 years experience in small cars to back it up.

Volkswagen.

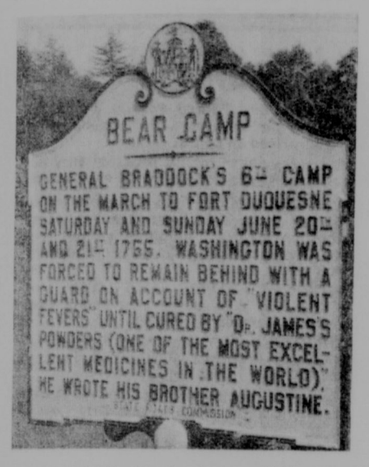
The Bear Camp Marker

By Robert B. Garrett

At the side of the present U. S. Route 40, formerly known as the National Pike, and previously as the Cumberland Road, Braddock's Road, Nemacolin's Trail, and lost in the mists of the past, as a buffalo trail, or "trace," formed by the buffalo as they wandered from west to east in search of better pasture, stands the BEAR CAMP historical marker, of the type described in THE GLADES STAR for September, 1968. In that issue appeared the story, prepared by Mr. Paul B. Naylor, locating and describing the twelve other markers in Garrett County, many of which were set up under Mr. Naylor's supervision. The BEAR CAMP marker was the only one not described in the above-mentioned article.



Judge Simpkins, Garrett County's first Judge, and Elizabeth, his wife are buried here. Prentice Allen is also buried here.

This marker is a few hundred yards inside Maryland, at the site of the 6th Camp of General Braddock on his way to Fort Duquesne (now Pittsburgh), June 20-21, 1755. Here Colonel Washington was forced to remain behind with a detachment because of "violent fevers until cured by Dr. James' powders, (one of the most excellent medicines in the world)," so Washington wrote to his brother.

One of the earliest land grants, in 1774, was THE HOTELL, 305 acres, surveyed for James Brooks; patented to Francis Deakins in 1786. It was at the junction of the Braddock and Morgantown Roads where Aaron Parker lived in 1774. It was the site of the Bear Camp, Braddock's Sixth Camp, John Simpkins' inn, and later the home of Louis Spiker.

Captain Charles E. Hoye, in an issue of THE GLADES STAR in 1941, related a pathetic story which involved among others two well known local public figures of the year 1796. As the writer suspects that very few will recall the incidents after the lapse of 28 years, he is taking the liberty of bringing the story to the attention of our present day readers with a few explanatory comments of his own. The two men mentioned were Jesse Tomlinson of the Stone House, east of Grantsville, and John Simpkins, who also ran a tavern or inn presumably known as The Hotell, from the name given by the surveyors to the land on which the building stood. Captain Hoye refers to the latter as "our first Judge," from which it would seem that he was a Magistrate and a person of prominence in his community. We quote from Captain Hoye:

"THE STORY OF PRENTICE ALLEN

The following letter from Samuel Allen, addressed to his father, Jason Allen of Montville, Conn., gives a pathetic picture of the experiences of a party of pioneers while crossing what is now Garrett County. About this time (1796) our county was being rapidly settled; many of our forefathers traveled the Braddock Road. Allen's letter was published in 'Pioneer Roads' by Hulbert.

'Bellville, W. Va.,
November 15th, 1796.

Honoured Parents

Six months is allmost gone since I left N. London and not a word have I heard from you or any of the family. I have not heard wheather you are dead or alive, sick or well * * * *

When we arrived to Allexandria (Virginia) Mr. Avory found that taking land cariag from there to the Monongehaly would be less expence than it would be to go any farther up the Potomac and less danger so he hired wagoners to carry the goods across the mountains to Morgantown on the Monongahaly * * * (Expense) from Allexandria to Morgantown was thirty two shillings and six pence ($4.30) for each hundred weight of women and goods. The men all walked the hole of the way. I walked the hole distance it being allmost three hundred miles and we found the rode to be pretty good untill we come to the mountains. Crossing the blue Mountain the Monongehaly and the Lorral Mountains we found the roads to be verry bad.

You doubtless remember I rote in my last letter that Prentice was taken ill a day or two before he continued verry much so untill the 10th of July when he began to gro wors the waggoner was hired by the hundred and Logan Weber have carried weight and could not stop unless I paid him for the time that he stoped and for the keeping of the horses that I could not afford to do So we were obliged to keep on We were now on the Allegany Mountain and a most horrid rode the waggon golted so that I dare not let him ride So I took him in my arms and carried him all the while except once in a while Mr. Davis would take him in his arms and carry him a spell to rest me a young man that Mr. Avory hired at Allexandria a joiner whose kindness I shall never forgit he kep all the while with us and spared no panes to assist us in anything and often he would offer himself. our child at this time was verry sick and no medecal assistance could be had on this mountain on the morning of the 13th as we was at breakfast at the house of one Mr. Tumblestone (Jesse Tomlinson's now the Stone House east of Grantsville) the child was taken in a fit. Our company had gone to the next house (probably Thomas Stanton's) to take breakfast which was one mile on our way we were alone in the room and went and asked Mrs. Tumblestone to come into the room she said she did not love to see a person in a fitt but she came into the room

Polly ask her if she new what was good for a child in a fitt she said no and immediately left the room and shut the door after her and came no more into the room when that fitt left him there came on another no person in the room but Mr. Tumblestone who took but little notis of the child tho it was in great distress. Polly said she was afraid the child would die in one of them fitts.

Mr. Tumblestone spoke in a verry lite manner and sayes with a smile it will save you the trouble of carrying it any farther if it does die We then bundled up the child and walked to next house ware we come up with our company I had just seated myself down when the child was taken in a fitt again when that had left it it was immediately taken in another and as that went off we saw another coming on the Man of the house gave it some drops that stoped the fitt he handed me a vial of the dropps - gave directions how to use them the child had no more fitts but seemed to be stuped all day he cried none at all but he kept a whining and scouling all the while with his eyes stared wide open his face and eyes appeared not to come in shape as before

When we took dinner it was six mile to the next house the waggoners said they could not get thro that night we did not love to stay out for fear our child would die in the woods so we set off and left the waggons I took the child in my arms and we traveled on Mr. Davis set off with us and carried the child himself about half of the time here we traveled up and down the most tedious hills as I ever saw and by nine oclock in the evening we came to the house (John Simpkins') stayed the night the next morning at break of day I heard it make a strange noise I percieved it grew worse I got up and called up the women (who) ware with us the woman of the house got up and in two hours the child dyed Polly was obliged to go rite off as soon as his eyes was closed for the waggoners would not stop I stayed to see the child burried I then went on two of the men that was with me were joiners and had their tools with them they stayed with me and made the coffin Mr. Simkins the man of the house sent his Negroes out and dug the grave whare he had buried several strangers that dyed a crossing the mountain his family all followed the corps to the grave black and white and appeared much affected.

When we returned to the house I asked Mr. Simkins to give me his name and the name of the place he asked me the name of the child I told him he took his pen and ink and rote the following lines Alligany County Marriland July the 14th 1796 died John P Allen at the house of John Simkins or otherwayes bear camp lain broadaggs (Braddock's) old road half way between Fort Cumberland and Uniontown. I thanked him for the kindness I had received from him he said I was verry

We then proceeded on our journey and we soon overtook the waggons and that nite we got to the foot of the mountain (Selbysport, over the old Morgantown road). We came to this mountain on the 11th of the month and got over it the 19th at night (That is - from Cumberland to Bellville near Morgantown). We left the city of Allexandria on the Potomac the 30th day of June and arrived at Morgantown on the Monongahely the 18th day of July.

Thus my dear parents you see we are deprived of the child we brought with us and we no not whather the one we left is dead or alive. I beg you to write and let me no Polly cant bear her name mentioned without shedding tears if she is alive I hope you will spare no panes to give her learning * * * Polly sends her love to you and all her old friends and neighbors.

Your affectionate son
Samuel Allen'

The ashes of Prentice Allen lie in the old orchard at the Bear Camp (Gen. Braddock's 6th Camp, now Louis Spiker's place) where also rest Judge Simkins and his kind wife, 'where he had buried several strangers.' Here Col. George Washington was detained by illness in 1755, and here many of Braddock's soldiers died. Should we not mark the Bear Camp graveyard? A decent monument for our first Judge and just a little stone for Prentice Allen."

Mr. Tomlinson and some of his family lie buried in the family cemetery near the Stone House. Capt. Hoye indicates Judge Simpkins and his wife lie in unmarked graves in his orchard cemetery at the Bear Camp. Mrs. Simpkins was Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Lamar and sister of Priscilla Lamar, who married James Drane, Jr., the founder of Accident and ancestor of the writer. A brother was Col William Lamar, of Revolutionary fame, who perished in a blizzard near his home at Vale Summit, Allegany County, in the winter of 1838, and who lies buried in Rose Hill Cemetery, Cumberland.

Phase Out Date Is Set On Justices

Starting next July 5 justices of the peace and trial magistrates will become a part of Maryland history. That is the date state's district court system will begin operations.

Unless a constitutional amendment approved by voters last week the lowers courts will be abolished the first Monday in July and the personnel replaced with uniform, state-wide district courts. Most of the trial magistrates and justices of the peace are not legally qualified for the new court. Judges of the district court must be lawyers who have been members of the Maryland Bar for at least five years.

A delay up to January 1. 1975 could be granted by action of the General Assembly.

Under the bill passed by the legislature last year the state will be divided into 12 districts wih a total of 79 judges. The judges, including the chief judge, who will oversee the entire system, will be paid $25,925 a year.

District courts will have jurisdiction over traffic violations, criminal cases involving misdemeanors, and civil cases where the debt or damages claimed do not exceed $5,000. In some cases this jurisdiction is shared with the Circuit Courts.

The judges will be empowered with the approval of the chief judge, to appoint court commissioners to perform some non-trial functions such as issuing arrest warrants, advising persons arrested of their constitutional rights and setting bond or committing persons arrested to jail. The commissioners need not be lawyers.

District 12 will include Allegany and Garrett counties and there will be three judges.

PROCLAIMS CHRISTMAS SEASON OPENING—Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber, Oakland, signs a proclamation ushering in the Christmas season as Earl Clark, president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, which has charge of the official lighting of the Christmas tree to be erected on the Court House lawn, looks on approvingly. Story appears in detail in this week's issue.

McHenry March Planned By Club

By Mrs. Walter Whitehair

Maybe "stagger" to McHenry but at least that's the goal of approximately fifty students and faculty of Southern High school. At 10c a mile, or more, each hiker, sponsored by countless challengers, will "march" for the newly organized Student Exchange Club.

Where? That's right: to McHenry or even beyond, hopefully to Wisp. Why? To gain publicity for a club that should add new spark not only to Southern, but to the community as well. Also, to raise funds for scholarships for exchange students. Some hikers are worth ove $5.00 a mile! We're marching to show we mean business, and intend to accomplish big things.

Who? Members and interested persons of the Student Exchange Club, a club whose purpose will be to expand our knowledge and understanding of other communities, other cultures, locally, state-wide, nationally, yes, internationally. Also to utilize the vast resources in our own community.

When? The day after Thanksgiving will be M-Day (March Day), provided weather is favorable. If it's too cold or rainy, then we'll go the first convenient Saturday.

This group needs community support and backing! Sponsor a hiker. Just call the school and pledge 10c a mile or more to a hiker. Dare them to finish! They will carry signs of all sponsors.

Newly elected officers for the club are: President, Clair Englander; Vice-president, Liz Sharps; Corresponding Secretary, Teresa Naylor; Secretary, Mary Pennington; Treasurer, David Shaffer; Faculty advisors are Mrs. Walter Whitehair and Jack Kelley.

Future activities of the Student Exchange Club, will be reported in the newspaper.

Williams charged Fint with speed too great for road conditions.

Wade R. Sturni, McKeesport, Pa., going north on U.S. Route 219 in Thayerville, slowed to make a left turn. William E. Enlow, Friendsville, was following at an apparent high rate of speed and struck the Sturni car. There was heavy damage to both cars. Tfc. Robert D Lashley charged Enlow with excessive speed. Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

5. What is meant by a College Transfer Program?

Many students who wish to work toward a bachelor's degree may, for financial and/or convenience reasons, prefer to take the first two years of their program at the Community College and then transfer to a four-year college or university to complete their degree requirements.

The community college will offer several of these transfer programs for those who wish to work toward the bachelor's degree. These will include programs leading toward the Liberal Arts (Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees); Teacher Education (Elementary and Secondary); and Business Administration programs.

When the student enters the Community College, he will be requested to have catalogs from the two colleges or universities of his choice to which he aspires to transfer. With the assistance of counsellors at the Community College, he will each semester while there build his program to parallel the first two year's programs at the college to which he aspires to transfer, so that he may be enrolled at the college in his junior year without loss of time or credit.

Since most four year programs do consist chiefly of general education or the liberal arts and sciences in the first two years, this parallel program can be accomplished quite readily in the community colleges. These courses will entail the same level of requirements and level of training and quality of faculty as one found in the senior institutions.

Church Women Meet

Six members of the Lutheran Church Women of Zion church, Jennings met November 8 to discuss "The Gap of Silence."

Led by Leota Baker the program approached the generation gap from the older side and suggested values worth communicating to the young.

Practical items and used adults' clothing were received to be sent to the old Peoples' home of Zelienople, Pa.

A seminar on Aging and Leisure time was announced to be held at Red House December 12. A report was given on the "Prayer Encounter," which Mrs. Herman C. Meyers and Mrs. Baker attended.

Plans were made to serve the annual congregational dinner to be held November 29 at Jennings. The next meeting is set for December 13.

Likes "Cat Eye" Shift For Police

by Heidi Sylvester

When the curtain is drawn at the end of the day, Oakland, backstage, is but a shy child that barely whimpers in the night. Her nightlight is on to discourage intruders that may wake her up, while her premises are patrolled by those she employs.

Officer David Livengood who works the 12 a.m. to 8 a.m. shift should definitely be a good authority on what Oakland is like when the clock strikes twelve. He comments on how empty the streets are at this time of day. Pedestrians are scarce no matter what day of the week it is, though on weekends there is a slight flow of traffic to and from social areas in the town.

When asked how good the chances are of running a stop light at this time of the day, Officer Livengood replied that about 5% of the traffic tries and about 5% are caught. So if the question ever enters anyone's mind while driving, hopefully he will remember the percentages given here to avoid having to empty his wallet.

The nightly routine of Officer Livengood is to check the alley doors to the local businesses, to watch for unusual cars and to suspect anything that has an unusual look or sound to it. He does however report that Oakland is relatively safe at night and is well lighted. It should be known that any citizen who does feel that he needs police assistance, should call the sheriff's office for help.

Officer Livengood's personal feeling towards his job is "It's a good shift, I like it and I like my work very much, but I do feel there should be more personnel.

Japan's Premier tells UN they do not desire military power.

By Charles McC Mathias

Congress Should Press For Employment Remedy

The off-year elections are now history and in January, the people will be sending a number of new faces to the House of Representatives and the Senate. However, before the 92nd Congress comes into being, the 91st Congress still has a post-election session to conduct beginning November 16. It is my hope that this session, in which members of Congress defeated for or who did not seek re-election will participate, will be more productive than other so-called lameduck sessions have been.

Now is the time for the 91st Congress, which has already established a number of milestones, to reserve its special place in history by putting personal and partisan considerations aside in favor of solving the urgent problems that face the nation. One of the most urgent questions facing us today is unemployment.

Unemployment was a major issue in any of the House and Senate races across the country. The campaign rhetoric has cooled, but Congress has the resonsibility, indeed, the duty to act on this problem now; it cannot wait until January.

One of the major causes of the rising unemployment rate is United States' deescalation of the war in Vietnam. As the nation's participation in Southeast Asia lessens, the number of civilian jobs needed to support that effort will decrease too. This situation is particularly serious for Maryland, which ranks fifth nationally in the percentage of jobs that are in some way related to our national defense efforts. In some Maryland counties, nearly half of all the jobs available are defense-related.

To help cushion the impact of our disengagement from Vietnam and an overall cutback in defense spending, I will sponsor legislation to prepare for this major economic conversion. This bill will:

a) Require Federal agencies, including the Department of Defense, to draw up conversion plans for their own installations;

b) Require defense and space contractors to investigate conversion possibilities and prepare as a safeguard against future defense cuts;

c) Protect employees in defense industries against losses of incomes from layoffs, reductions in their hours, or downgrading of their jobs due to cuts in defense spending.

It is my hope through such planning, alternate projects can be gradually employed to replace outgoing defense work so that teams of scientists will remain intact and ready to be pressed back into service should an accellerated defense effort be called for in the future. Rather than allow these teams to scatter to the ends of the Earth, they can and should be used for re-environmental, social and searching answers to medical, technical problems facing our society.

Presently, it is estimated that between 33 and 46 per cent of our defense industry is idle. Under our present way of doing things, this means that idle research and manufacturing teams will disperse and their expertise will be lost. However, this should not be the case today or in the future and I hope the Congress will give top priority to enacting conversion legislation before it adjourns. It will take an extraordinary effort to accomplish this during a post-election session, but then these are extraordinary times.

FOOTNOTE. . . . The primary and general elections have resulted in major changes in the Maryland delegation to the Congress. Rep. George Fallon, the dean of the delegation, was defeated in the primary by Paul Sarbanes of Baltimore. Mr. Sarbanes was successful in Tuesday's general election and will represent the Fourth Congressional District beginning next January 3. Other changes include Parren Mitchell of Baltimore, who will replace Seventh District Rep. Samuel Friedel, a member of the House for 18 years and Goodloe Byron of Frederick, who will replace Rep. J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Rep. Beall will move to the Senate to take the seat of Sen. Joseph D. Tydings. Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of the First District, Rep. Edward Garmatz, of the Third District, Rep. Lawrence Hogan of the Fifth District, and Gilbert Gude, of the Eighth District, were re-elected.

Drug Seminars Held

Drug seminars were held last Thursday and Friday at Southern High school, Oakland, for students and other citizens who cared to attend.

The seminars were held Thursday for the 7th and 8th grade students in the morning, and for the 9th and 10th in the afternoon. Friday there was a morning session for the 11th graders and an afternoon session for seniors.

Participating were Daniel Burkhart, state adjutant for the American Legion, and Sgt. Bernard Chabot, of the LaVale barracks of the state police. There were movies and demonstrations.

Arrangements were made by Thomas Bittinger, member of the Americanism Committee of the American Legion.

Receives Health Career Award

Miss Debora Tressler, Loch Lynn, received a 1970 March of Dimes Health Career award at a recent luncheon meeting at Cornish Manor, it was announced by Verna J. Harvey, chapter chairman. Miss Barbara Friend, McHenry, was also given the same award but was unable to attend.

Debora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tressler, 1970 graduate of Southern, is attending Philadelphia School of Science and Arts, and plans to be a laboratory technician.

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Friend, is a 1970 graduate of Northern High, and is attending the Maryland General hospital School of Nursing in Baltimore. She plans to become a registered nurse.

The chapter plans to offer similar awards this year to seniors wishing to start a career in medical social work or medicine.

"Trained personnel are desperately needed in all areas of Harvey, "The chapter," shesaid. "wishes to encourage our young people to fill these vacancies and the best way is to help financially with their first year." She said the chapter was grateful to county residents for making this possible through contributions to the annual March of Dimes.

Dr. I. E. Berg, Jr., of Columbia University said colleges are training young people for jobs which really do not require a college education.

Retired Persons Form Organization In County

A county chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons has been organized, according to Fred Faassen, national president. Heading the new chapter is J. Thomas Cain, Oakland. The chapter was formed under guidance of Rev. William C. Harpold, state director of Maryland.

It was explained that chapters have public service as a watchword and exist to enable the members to help each other and their communities.

November 19 - 25

Tomorrow at 6:31 p.m., the moon will pass through its last Quarter phase. This week the moon will be waning. Moonrise today is at 10:52 p.m. Next Wednesday moonrise will be at 3:54 a.m.

On Saturday at 1:00 p.m. the moon will be at its greatest distance from the earth. This apogee will be at a distance of 251,290 miles from the earth.

Two planets are easily seen this week. Saturn is above the horizon at sunset. This planet is in eastern Aries and easily seen near the Pleiades most of the night. Mars, in Virgo, rises about three hours before the Sun. The red planet passes very close to the bright star, Spica, on Tuesday. Mars will be twice as bright as the star.

Venus and Jupiter may be visible in the predawn twilight. Jupiter rises before Venus this week.

Sunrise occurs at 7:13 a.m. next Wednesday. Sunset will be at 4:57 p.m. Today sunrise was at 7:06 a.m. It will set at 5:00 p.m. Next Wednesday the daylight will last ten minutes less than it did today.

When the International Astromical Union convened in England this past summer it adopted two interesting definitions. The first of these is that the rotation of Mercury with respect to the stars is a period of 58.646 days. Secondly, the rotation of Venus with respect to the stars is from east to west, opposite that of the earth, with a period of 234.0 days. These values have been attained through the use of radar telescopes.

Today Miss Dusic's class from Grantsville will study Winter Constellations. A class from Wiley Ford will study the Norta Circumpolar Constellations.

Tomorrow Mr. Savage's class from Accident will study Stars. Mrs. Hamill's class from Dennett Road will study Early Methods of Navigation. Miss Miller's ninth grade class from Northern High will study Precession.

Monday brings Miss Miller's seventh grade classes from Northern High School to study Fall Constellations. Mrs. Bray's class from Center Street will study Day and Night. Mrs. Fox's class from Friendsville will study Early Methods of Navigation.

Tuesday Mrs. Hamill's classes from Dennett Road will study Geography. Mrs. Brubaker's class from Route 40 will study The Planets.

Wednesday Mrs. Strauss's and Miss Harries' classes from Accident will study Autumn Constellations.

Whoopee!
. . . Dwight Harvey

Man is an animal. Like any other animal, man is born, he eats, he marries, and he dies. Unlike most other animals, though, man does many things which he is not prompted to do by instinct or necessity. Many of these things are nonsensical, almost whimsical.

Some people, for instance, collect dixie cups or hoard away old Mr. Goodbar wrappers. Men have battleships tattooed on their chests or become inebriated on foul-tasting liquors. In the Brazilian jungles, the natives stretch their lips with large wooden dises. Everywhere there are men, there are these layers of nonsense.

Man does these things because he has a brain and can invent these whimsical things. If dogs could make liquor, they would drink, too. Man, though, is also the only creature which has higher emotions that prompt him to try nonsensical things and to invent them in the first place. Love, hate, egotism, and envy, and frustration are some of men's motivations.

Nonsense and whimsy are not completely bad, then. They are guided by the wonderful emotions of man, which are unique to him and set him apart from other creatures. It is only when the motivations are false emotions or are evil emotions, such as hate or greed, that whimsy becomes something malign and terrible.

A capacity for nonsense, then, is inherent in all men. Nothing can or should be done about that. Men must only guard his motivations from evil. There is nothing we can do to stop man's madness. We can only give the madness a purpose.

The Spirit of Thanksgiving

"Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise." Ps. 100:4.

November is one of the months of the year when events of the past crowd in on us: All Saints Day, Armistice or Veterans' Day, and Thanksgiving Day. As a nation we have a rich heritage. Our greatness can be traced to the fact that our early colonists came in search of God while those to the south of us came in search of gold. Devotion to our God, love and loyalty to our country, respect for and adherence to law and order are fundamental to the ongoing of our nation. We lose the true spirit of Thanksgiving when these vital safeguards are ignored.

The roots of our Thanksgiving go back into the past; Abraham left Ur of the Chaldees under the command of the Almighty and journeyed to Palestine; Paul, the world's greatest witness for Christ died a martyr's death in Rome; the Pilgrim Fathers in search of religious freedom came to the shores of New England in late autumn; and the great religious awakening in England under the Wesleys and their co-laborers in the eighteen century reached our country in the latter part of the same century. All these spiritual motivations turned westward. How grateful and thankful we should be that God permitted America to be the recipient of his grace!

When King David and his faithful men were hard pressed by the Philistines and Bethlehem was held by a garrison of the enemy, David expressed his desire in these words: "Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bethlehem, that is by the gate!" Three of his bravest men broke through the enemy's line and fulfilled the king's request. When David realized what they had done, he poured the water out unto the Lord and said. "Is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives? Therefore he would not drink it." How thankful we should be that brave men have hazarded and given their lives that freedom might not perish from the earth. By heeding the warrior-poet's prayer, we express our thankfulness for our blood-bought freedom:

"Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields."

By Lieut-Col. John McCrae.

Law and order are sacred responsibilities. Our highest freedom comes when we live under them in obedience to their demands. How thankful we should be for the God-fearing men whose contributions have made our nation a haven for freedom. America's place in the family of nations is an unfinished task. To add to her laurels, calls for an undying faith, an unswerving loyalty, and with a genuine thankfulness for our unique heritage. With the poet, we pledge our determination:

"Be strong!
It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong,
How hard the battle goes, the day how long;
Faint not—fight on!
Tomorrow comes the song."

By Maltie D. Babcock.

"Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise."

CERTIFICATION OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I hereby certify that the figures given in this report are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that they can be verified from the records of the Garrett County Board of Education.

(Sgd.) Raymond O. McCullough
Co. Supt. of Schools

AUDITOR'S STATEMENT

We have examined the statements of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash account of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1970. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's position on June 30, 1970, and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on an accrual basis. Prior years reports were reported on the cash basis.

Respectfully submitted,
(Sgd.) George McLaughlin

To Pay A Debt . . . .

An editor in Minnesota recently came across an item in his morgue, which he said, although it has been widely circulated, bears repeating. It said:

"My community owes me nothing. If accounts were balanced at this date, I would be the debtor.

"All these years I have lived within the limits of the community and shared all its benefits. I have had the use of its library, park, and public places; I have had the protection of its fire, police and health departments; its people, during all this time, have been gathering for me, from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body and material for my home.

"This community has furnished the patronage by which I have been successful in my business. It has furnished the best friends of my life, whose ideals have been my inspiration, whose kind words have been my cheer, and whose helpfulness has carried me over the greatest difficulties.

"What shall I give in return? Not simply taxes; I want to give more; enough that I can rightfully say, 'This is my community;' so that I can take deserved pride in its prosperity, in the honors which come to its citizens, and all that makes it greater and better.

"I can do this only by becoming a part of the community; by giving of myself. In that way only can I pay the debt I owe to my community."

Isn't this a delightful Thanksgiving week message?

Outlook For Deer Season Favorable

The Maryland regular firearms season for deer will begin Saturday, November 28, and continue through Saturday, December 5, skipping Sunday, November 29.

The outlook for hunter success again rated as good in most of the state and observers believe the kill will probably be at least as high as last season. Last year the kill in the county totaled 503, for the seven-day season, some 135 more than the previous but less than two years ago which was an eight-day season.

The all-time high was 804 which was reached during the six-day 1960 season.

It was pointed out that hunting pressure over the past few years had been decreasing in Western Maryland since there are deer in every county of the state.

During the season it will be lawful to kill a male deer with two or more points to one antler and spike bucks with three inch antler.

The small game season will continue as usual during the buck season which has been in effect for three years. At one time the small game season was suspended during deer season.

The limit is one buck per hunter, and those being successful must report the kill within twenty-four hours. The checking stations include Walt's General Store, McHenry; Edward's Garage, Grantsville; Ed's Mt. Top Tire in Oakland; and Savage River Inn, Bloomington Deer killed in this county must be checked in this county, it was pointed out.

There is a bow and arrow season December 7 to 11, inclusive, and also December 14 to January 2, inclusive.

There will be a one-day antlerless season on Saturday, December 12, but hunters must have a special permit for this day. If a hunter is successful during the regular season his permit for antlerless season would be void.

Three Injured And Damage Varies In Nine Accidents

Three persons were injured and vehicle damage varied from none to total among nine accidents which occurred during the two weeks ending November 23. There were two three-car accidents and two one-car accidents. In one of the one-car accidents a man was injured as a result of a deer jumping on the hood of his car.

In a three-car accident on U.S. Route 40 just west of the Finzel Road, November 20, Richard L. Parker, Romney, W. Va. was injured but needed no treatment at the scene. A school bus was stopped on the shoulder to discharge passengers with flashing lights on. Anna D. Gnagey, Meyersdale, Pa., assumed she had to stop and did so. James E. Smith, Keyser, W. Va., stopped behind her. A car driven by Richard L. Parker collided with the Smith truck and then bumped the Gnagey car. There was no damage to the Gnagey car and only slight damage to the other two. Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman charged Parker with following too close.

David P. McCagh, Cumberland, was driving west on U.S. 40 at 2 a.m. on November 14.

Infant's Body Is Found By 2 Boys

Two young hunters found a new-born baby's body in a wooded area of the county Sunday off state route 135.

The two boys, Ralph Harvey, 12, and his brother Dale, 13, were rabbit hunting in the woods near Mt. Zion road and near the Old Mill Seat when they found the body about 11 a.m. Sunday.

The sheriff's office and Maryland State Police were notified and Tfc. Lloyd E. Dunton began his investigation. An autopsy was performed by Dr James Feaster, deputy state medical examiner. Dr. Feaster said the body was that of a new-born child, properly formed, 21 inches long, probably weighing six and one half to seven pounds at birth.

The tiny body was buried in a dog food box but had been disturbed by animals and dragged to the place where it was found. Dr. Feaster said there was no evidence that death was due to violence. Evidence indicated the body had been placed in the area two to four weeks ago.

Investigation turned up some blue plastic and bloody rags and some evidence that the body had originally been placed on a garbage dump.

Investigation is continuing and authorities asked that persons with any information leading to identification of the child or mother should contact the sheriff's office or the state police.

Garrett Road Workers' Vote Favors Union

Road Crews Began Work Promptly To Fill Holes, Erect Snow Fences

Garrett County road workers voted 110 to 10 last Friday morning in favor of being represented by a union and within two hours the first trucks were being dispatched to begin the huge task of trying to ready the county's 790 miles of roads for winter. The trucks were the first to leave the three county roads garages in eight months, which ended the nation's longest strike by public workers in history.

The vote was on a question of whether or not they wanted to be represented by Local 1834, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Empolyes union. The ballots were counted by Jack Turney, newly appointed attorney to the Board of County Commissioners; Alva C. Lewis, union representative; and Gerald Minnich, a neutral person, showing the 110 to 10 vote. It was pointed out that 141 workers were eligible to vote with eligibility being determined by the workers' roster as of April 7. The difference in the number was brought about by two deaths and one retirement, while others resigned to take other jobs.

The strike had officially ended last Wednesday when the union and the new Democratic board of commissioners signed a temporary agreement to bring the deadlock to an end.

The strike question was the first order of business for Earl E. Opel, Wayne B. Hamilton and Bernard M. Guy, the new commissioners.

Acting roads engineer Clayton Smith said the first vehicles on the road were trucks and graders which needed only their tires to be inflated, batteries checked and fuel added.

Surprisingly, there was only one tire that was punctured, the remainder apparently in good shape. Mr. Smith said Tuesday that all thirty two trucks were back at work with 111 workers being employed as of Tuesday.

The department had endeavored to get the Phoenix Construction company to keep their hot mix plant open for a few extra weeks, but this was not accomplished. The Roads department is using a cold mix from a company at Springs, Pa., and already a number of pot holes have been filled.

Tuesday the department was also working on some dirt roads and they were preparing to erect the snow fences that had been taken down last spring.

The road workers were working in snow flurries under freezing weather but progress was reported.

Of the road workers who had not reported for duty some were working off commitments made with outside employers during the strike. Under the agreement with the County Commissioners all workers are given 15 days to work off the commitments.

Road repair was going on in all sections of the county with all 32 trucks from the three garages being out on the highways. Three crews were working out of Grantsville, two out of Accident, seven out of Oakland and one at the stone quarry.

Mr. Smith said that the roads actually would not be back to normal for about a year as it will take that long to fill the many potholes, fix ruined shoulders and repair neglected road beds. He felt very thankful that the snows had held off as long as they had.

A TIME TO BE GRATEFUL...

PILGRIMS LANDING AT PLYMOUTH ROCK

December 21, 1620

From the humble beginnings of this nation 350 years ago, down to the present day, it has been an American tradition to set aside this one day to give thanks to God for our bountiful blessings.

In an age of continuous change, it is of utmost importance that the Thanksgiving tradition remain steadfast. Whatever our faith or creed, we must admit that our forefathers were well supplied with the materials with which they were able to build a great republic. They were also given the knowledge and ability to pass along to us an age of freedom which has never been equalled.

And, as we give thanks to God for our own well being, let us also seek an even deeper meaning to the word "Thanksgiving" through the grateful giving of ourselves to others for the betterment of our community, our country and our world.

Southern States Industrial Council

The Ichord Report...

The House Committee on Internal Security has performed an important service by issuing a report on fees paid radicals who address campus audiences. This report gives insight into the way in which the New Left finances its activities.

U.S. Rep. Richard H. Ichord (D-Mo.), Chairman of the Committee, stated in the report that "the people of the United States have a right to conclude that the campus-speaking circuit is certainly the source of significant financing for the promoters of disorderly and revolutionary activity among students." He also disclosed that student activity funds are primarily responsible for giving radical orators a campus platform.

The Ichord Report covered only a small sample -- 3½ percent -- of U.S. colleges and universities. The questionaire the Committee sent to educational institutions was voluntary and the subpoena power was not utilized. Nevertheless, the Committee learned that $108,967 had been raised for radical causes at this small sample of colleges and universities. It is only reasonable to conclude that the total radical fund-raising by campus speeches must run into millions of dollars. New Leftists and Communist Party speakers on campuses have received as much as $2,500 per appearance.

The Committee reported that it "found a select group of people repeatedly involved, particularly those convicted in the Chicago 'conspiracy' trial; Jerry Rubin, Abbie Hoffman, Dave Dellinger and Rennie Davis cropped up frequently."

The Internal Security Committee report makes fascinating reading, though it will shock concerned parents and taxpayers. A wide range of educational institutions in the country have allowed extremists and revolutionaries to speak on their campuses.

For example, Eldridge Cleaver, the Black Panther leader now living in Algeria, spoke at the University of Alabama, October, 1968. On April 28, 1969 Kent State University -- scene of a bloody riot by radical students -- gave a platform to Bernadine Dohrn, who is wanted on federal charges. Mark Rudd, who led the first major riot at Columbia University, was a guest speaker at Rice University March 21, 1969.

The Committee has broken down the list of speakers according to radical groups. Listed under the Communist Party, USA, are Herbert Aptheker, Marxist theoretician hired by Bryn Mawr College as a black studies lecturer; Angela Davis charged with murder in connection with the death of a California Superior Court judge; and Linus Pauling, the radical scientist who received the Soviet Union's highest award, the Lenin Prize, this year.

Also listed under the various radical groups were Dick Gregory, leftwing "comedian" and political activist; Nat Hentoff, a writer for the New York Review of Books; David Dellinger, organizer of anti-Vietnam marches on Washington; William Kunstler, one of the principal spokesmen for New Left revolutionaries; Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby doctor turned radical protestor; Staughton Lynd, former Yale University professor and frequent visitor to Hanoi; Reies Tijerina, head of the Alliance le Mercedes, an insurrectionary movement in New Mexico; and C. T. Vivian and Wyatt Tee Walker, long identified with protest movements in the South.

Ironically, all this valuable information, which is needed if legislative action is to be taken to block use of campuses as funding centers for revolutionaries, would be denied the public if U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell has his way. Judge Gesell, an ultra-liberal member of the federal court in the District of Columbia, has granted a court order barring Committee distribution of the report. The order was sought by the radical American Civil Liberties Union.

As a pratical matter the order is meaningless, for individual members of Congress already have distributed copies of the report, as individuals, and are free to continue to do so -- even under the terms of the court order. Nevertheless, Congress certainly should reject this unprecedented judicial interference with congressional authority. This is the first time a federal judge has sought to prohibit a congressional Comittee from having a report issued by the public printer.

If the Gesell order is allowed to stand, Congress -- the authentic voice of the American people -- will be in danger of being muzzled by every district judge who opposes a particular congressional inquiry. The separation of powers doctrine inherent in the U.S. Constitution plainly indicates that a federal court has no authority to interfere with the normal operations of tthe Legislative Branch.

Some 1,750 Attend Gospepl Sing

Some 1,750 persons attended the fourth gospel sing sponsored by the Youth For Christ group last Sunday afternoon at Southern High school, the largest number ever to attend an event sponsored by this group.

Participating were the Blue Ridge quartet, the Orrell Trio, the Shelton Family Singers, the Palmetto State quartet, along with two local groups, the Jubilators from Grantsville and the Zion Crusaders from Westernport.

Serving as masters of ceremonies were Bill Renny and John Fitzwater III.

Mr. Crogan, YFC executive director, presented John Sturm, Loch Lynn with a meritorious service award as the first local person to serve three years on the local board of directors, and as its chairman last year. Mr. Sturm is a mining foreman for Alpine Coal company at Bayard.

Southern band boosters conducted a concession stand. The Jewel Recording company, Cincinnati, O., made two recordings of the proceedings, which will be released at another sing in May.

At Northern High school this Saturday the YFC will present a gospel film in color, "Downbeat," along with a local teen talent and sing-along.

The annual teen talent contest will be held December 12 and 19.

'Phone Employe Is Lions Speaker

Ted Blaszczak, employe of the C and P. Telephone company, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club on Monday evening. A new innovation in computer telephoning was demonstrated for the members, making a call to a computer in Omaha, Nebraska, feeding the computer a list of questions pertaining to credit information, inventory control, banking and mathematics. The computer answered the questions, promptly and clearly.

Club members trimmed the community Christmas tree on Sunday in readiness for the official opening of the Christmas season Friday evening. The club will observe its 30th anniversary at its next meeting on December 12. It will be in the form of a Ladies' night to be held at the Wisp recreational building.

The club announced that receipts of $544.70 from the Hallowe'en celebration, would be given to the Oakland Volunteer fire department. Money from the concession stand operated by the Lions members at Southern football games, some $800, would be given to the school athletic department. Some $300 from the chicken barbecue operated during the Autumn Glory parade, will go to the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council. Approximately $400 has been given to the Band Boosters at Southern for band uniforms and $500 to the Mt. Top Civic center. A drive is scheduled in January for old and unused eye glasses.

Thank You, Harley O. Staggers

...for your leadership to improve the safety and well-being of the women of your district by pushing the bill to increase research for family planning means that are completely safe and completely effective. Now we ask your further leadership.

Mr. Nixon cares about our well being. His officials asked your committee for the full amount proposed in the legislation.

The Senate cares, too. They approved the full amount.

Our Question: Does the HOUSE care less?

If not, why did the HOUSE cut almost in half the amount authorized by the Senate for contraceptive research and cut by one-third the Senate approved amount for Family Planning Services to the poor?

We know you care, Mr. Staggers, and we believe you have substantial power to help lead the Conferees to the full Senate Figures.

We're counting on you to help show us that the HOUSE cares also.

Lt. Col. Weber noting the element of speed involved in ten of the twelve fatalities said, "There is a point above which speed does not pay; where it begins to exact its price. The point of diminishing returns is reached when speed passes beyond the limit of the driver's normal ability to handle his car safely—whether these limitations arise from poor roads, bad weather conditions, poor car equipment, traffic impediment —or just from the natural failure of the human being who sits behind the wheel."

Lt. Col. Weber concluded, "To push the accelerator beyond the point of safety means that the danger of accident increases with astonishing rapidity, curves become harder to negotiate safely, and minimum stopping distances are stretched to the danger point."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother, Edward Eugene Humberson, who died November 23, 1965.
Sadly the years have passed since you were taken to rest.
But you will never be forgotten by those who loved you best.
We do not need this special day to bring you to our mind,
As everytime we think of you, we shed a silent tear.
Time so far has only proven how much we miss you (Ed).
Sadly missed by

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

6. What is meant by Career or Occupational Programs at the Community College?

It is recognized that in today's society there are many vocations which do not require a bachelor's degree for entry into them. They may, however, require a level of training beyond that which a student receives in high school. It is for this level of job entry knowledge and skills that the career-occupational programs at the community college are designed.

These programs will attempt to reflect the community and area vocational needs and interests. Initially, Garrett Community College will probably offer these programs in secretarial science, business and industrial training, and teacher aides. As other needs are indicated, such as in the para-professional or sub-professional fields, as in health services, these programs will be developed.

The secretarial science program will be developed toward more specialized secretarial skills in such fields as medical, legal and educational.

The Business-Industry program will lead toward the mid-management and sub-executive positions in local business and industries.

In all of the career programs, the specialization courses in the field will be related directly with the practical situations in that field through observation, guest instructors from the field itself, and participation-work experience in the field.

New Cub Scouts To Get Bobcat Pins At Meeting

Bobcat pins will be awarded to all new cub scouts at a regular meeting of cub pack No. 31, on Monday evening, November 30, at the regular scout hall, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The pack is sponsored by the Optimist club of Oakland.

The program will be conducted by members of the Webelos den. Parents and cubs are expected.

Nixon asked Congress for 1,000 more FBI agents.

The Pollution of Our Country
by Denise Shrout

Pollution is everyone's problem. Some people seem to feel that pollution doesn't affect our county; it takes only one hike around our county to see what is really happening. People seem to feel that an unpaved road, a public park or a ditch is a public dump. They think that if it is far enough away from them that it won't affect them

It is true that we don't have an immense amount of air pollution, but what about our water and land? Consider our town drinking water: Why must it be run through a filter before it is fit to drink? Why must we have a county clean-up day? Why? Because some careless or thoughtless person forgot where a trash container was located!

But even if you do put your trash in a container, where does it go? It goes to a city dump and left there for rats and flies to devour. Even when burned, the fumes mix with the clean air and make it impure.

I don't have an answer to this problem, but we had better think about it. We had better do something to prevent our county from becoming terribly polluted.

Saving Universities . . .

Opening of a new academic year at the nation's colleges and universities, once a happy time, today brings worry to parents of students and to the public in general. Fear exists that institutions of higher learning will be plagued anew by violence and discord.

Bombing of the mathematics center at the University of Wisconsin in late August was a shocking and ominous development. It is clear that organized terrorists are committed to a program of destruction on American campuses.

Bombers aren't the only menace, however. Equally insidious are nihilists who are committed to wrecking American society and poisoning the minds of the nation's college-age youth. These foes of American values and institutions can be expected to renew and step-up their intellectual assaults in the academic year ahead. They believe they have the power to control college and university campuses and, through this control, to deflect the nation from the course set by its lawful leaders.

In this connection, it is well to note the comments of S. S. Wolin and J. H. Scharr, writing in the leftwing New York Review of Books (September 3). They said that "Cambodia provoked a genuine political uprising on the nation's campuses . . so intense was the pressure that the President soon had to promise that American troops would be pulled out of Cambodia on a specific date. . . . Rarely, if ever in American history has a President reacted so hurriedly to a wave of public sentiment and reversed a policy."

The furor over Cambodia was the work of highly organized militant minority. This minority, having tasted power, is not likely to abandon its efforts in the year ahead. On the contrary, the effort to gain and exercise power certainly will be expanded.

In view of this power drive by a radicalized faction in American society, it is terribly important that the public understand and insist upon fundamental changes in the operation and structure of public colleges and universities. In many cases, faculties have abdicated true academic responsibility. They have not used their authority to protect the serious student's right to study. Indeed, radicalized faculties have been bent on promoting an alleged student "right" to riot.

The immediate need, if new campus disturbances take place, is prompt police action to deal with law-breakers. It is imperative that society as a whole reject the notion that a college or university is a privileged sanctuary for anarchists and others who seek to destroy American institutions.

Beyond that, there is need in public colleges and universities to assert and maintain the authority of state trustees and regents who represent the citizenry. If faculties are unwilling to insist upon law and order on campus, then the trustees must exercise a larger and more direct measure of control. Trustees of state institutions also owe it to the taxpayers to take a hard look at academic procedures which nowadays prove injurious to the well-being of educational institutions and the surrounding community.

For example, the idea of academic tenure needs re-examination. It is doubtful that the public approves of tenure — permanent teaching status — for professors who betray their academic responsibilities and who participate in or support militant activities on campus. This is a key issue and area of public concern, for most campus disorders stem from the incendiary teachings or activities of radicalized faculty members who regard the campus as a power base for revolution.

Radicalized faculty members undoubtedly will scream "academic freedom" if their special privileges are threatened by public action. But those who make the biggest noise about "academic freedom" are likely to be most deficient in academic responsibility — responsibility to the values of the United States and its society. If that society is to survive, order and civilized learning must be returned to those campuses which have been convulsed by New Left strife.

Four Teams Begin Basketball Season

Four basketball teams at Southern High school began practice for the coming season November 16 with some thirty-one boys out for the varsity and junior varsity teams.

The varsity will have four returning lettermen. Two of the starting players from last year are Robert Ridder who led the past season in scoring with 375 points; and Jim Browning who led in rebounds and was third in scoring with 324 points. Other holdovers are Jim Schmidt, Bob Foley, Tom Bosley and Dave Martin. Martin, recovering from a broken leg, will not see action until January.

Other team members are Tort Helbig, Dave Stephens, Dale Dintaman, Roger Ware, Monty Pagenhardt, Pete Cosby and Rick Shaffer. Manager will be Mike Gravely and Ed Remley as assistant.

Coach Tom Kuhn declared, "Individually the first six or seven boys are as skilled as last year's squad. Teamwork and defense are sounded in every practice and I believe they will jell as a working unit."

Depth will be a minor problem for the Rams at the start.

The Rams will open the season on Dec. 8 at Elk Garden. The schedule appears in another story.

JV's Show Promise

The junior varsity squad is showing promise of aggressiveness with a good defense. Opponents include Bruce, Valley and Bishop Walsh plus Northern. Paul Harr is coach and he feels building a rugged defense is one element of a team of championship caliber.

The Junior High team has six boys returning from last year's squad that compiled a 10-6 record. Dave Sharps and Dana Liller lettered.

Others are Dave Stuck, Craig Bosley, Randy DiSimone and Jim McHenry. Three new boys are out, Bob Tressler, George Flinn and Dennis Skeweris. Both Tressler and Skeweris are six-footers. The team also has five boys from last year's seventh grade team. They are Kim Meyers, Mark Domenick, Dan Bosley, Tom Panther and Dave Shotwell. Managers are John Kisselovich, Carl Fike and Randy Thomas. Don Stemple is the coach.

Seventh Graders Begin

A new squad is organized each year for the seventh grade. Approximately thirty boys are out for the team. Coach Panther said a lot of work would be done on fundamentals.

A new scoring clock has been ordered, to be placed on the home side which will include a roster for players from Southern and visiting schools, and note the number of fouls on each player.

Each game is to be taped. A platform is being erected above the bleachers to permit effective tapings. The varsity members plan to attend West Virginia Mountaineers' opening game on December 1 at the new coliseum.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The Internal Security Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives has at last confirmed what we have been reporting as fact for more than two years—that the so-called New MOBE Committee, which has organized and directed nearly all of the major "peace" marches and demonstrations in Washington and throughout the nation, is Communist-dominated and controlled. The Congressional Committee has published and is distributing a "Staff Study" of New MOBE which shows:

The titular head of the New MOBE is a Communist.

Twenty-seven of the Key Leaders of New MOBE "have been identified in public sources or by Committee investigation as members of Communist Parties, Communist youth groups, and/or the Student Mobilization Committee (which is identified as Communist dominated.)" These 27 key leaders are the people who run the show. Unfortunately for the security of the American public (our nation) very little has been reported in the nation's news media on this just released Congressional report.

And there is another vital fact which is of equal importance to the nation, and which has so far not been reported by the news media. The New MOBE crowd is putting on some new false faces. Now that the true nature of New MOBE is being acknowledged by the House Committee on Internal Security and can hardly be ignored much longer by the nation's press, those who are calling the shots on strategy, have decided to change the name of their central "peace" propaganda and demonstration unit.

NATIONAL PEACE ACTION COALITION (NPAC): This one will direct its efforts toward ending the war in Vietnam in a manner that would ultimately give victory to the Communists. It is replacing what used to be the MORATORIUM Committee. Already it is directing the mobilization of a big "National Peace Action Day" for "peace" propaganda demonstrations in 26 cities. Allied revolutionary organizations on campuses throughout the nation were scheduled to begin with agitation of "peace" demonstrations about the middle of the month, to be climaxed on the Day. Many Communist-dominated, Communist-oriented revolutionary outfits are reportedly combining their effort under the central direction of NPAC. It attracted also some mass-membership non-Communist groups.

NATIONAL COALITION AGAINST WAY, RACISM AND REPRESSION (NCAWRR): This one likely will replace the New MOBE and will be structured to help attract the Negro revolutionary organizations, the Black Panthers and their following. Its major revolutionary function, it would appear, will be to help further coalesce the White and Black revolutionary groups into the "United Front" which the Communist masters know they must have before launching a total revolutionary strike against America. According to the Communist press, Black comrades have told the White Communists that they've got to come out openly and admit (as have the Panthers) that merely "peace" in Vietnam is not the goal; that revolution to take over America is the goal!

Will the news media honestly and fearlessly label these as actions in the "movements" to take over the country? Only if enough people begin to demand such unbiased reporting.

Dr. McCullough Heads Council Of Alleghenies

Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, Oakland, was elected president of the Council of the Alleghenies, Inc., by the board of directors at a meeting near Grantsville.

Others named were I. N. Hagan, Chalk Hill, Pa., vice-president; Dr. Alta E. Schrock, of Grantsville, secretary; Ralph M. Race, Frostburg, treasurer.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to reports on and evaluation of the lecture series last year and presented on Frostburg college campus, and to plans for the coming year.

A new series was planned for 1971 and will include presentations on the history of the Alleghenies region, proposed botanical field trip, a slide presentation of steam and public transportation in the mountains and several programs related to ecology and cultural aspects of them, as well as conservation.

The closing lecture of the current series presented by Dr. Schrock was devoted to the craft skills of the mountain people. There was an accompanying display of handerafted articles of fiber, ceramic, wood and glass.

The Board was informed of the progress of restoration of the Fuller-Baker log house, built about 1814, located just west of Grantsville.

Directors of the council in addition to the officers, include Dr. Adam Baer, Mrs. Harold J. Cordts, Frostburg; Dr. D. Floyd Flickinger, Geneva Ely Flickinger, Baltimore; Dr. Patrick Gainer, Morgantown; Helmuth Heise, Oakland; and Dr. Allan Howe, Pittsburgh

The council was organized ten years ago to preserve and promote an interest in and concern for the history, arts and culture of the area.

Information Given On Cabin Rentals In State Parks

Three Maryland State Parks will again next year offer a total of 39 cabins for rental on a first come-first served basis, it was announced by the Department of Forests and Parks.

Rental season at New Germany, Herrington Manor and Elk Neck State Parks will extend from the second Saturday in June through the third Saturday in September.

Rates for the 1971 season, reflecting increased operating and maintenance costs, will range from $58.24 per week for a two-person cabin at New Germany and Herrington Manor, to $101.92 per week for a cabin accommodating six persons, it was announced. These cabins are fully equipped units.

Heavy demand for these cabins has necessitated a change in reservation procedure. Applications for reservations will be received at the Department's offices in Annapolis after December 1 of this year and allocations will be determined by means of a lottery system on the first working day of the new year.

Winter camping is offered at nine State Park locations, including Swallow Falls.

The Department also announced an upward revision in daily camping fees, effective January 1, to $3.00 per improved campsite, against the $2.50 charge presently made. Two areas, Swallow Falls State Park, and Glen Artney Area of Patapsco State Park in Baltimore County, having only unimproved sites available, will continue to charge $1.50.

Christmas Seals Are Distributed

More than 21,000 Christmas seal letters were placed in the mail recently, according to Mrs. Dorothy Shank, executive secretary. Workers are hopeful this year's campaign will surpass the $21,000 realized last year, so the fight against tuberculosis, emphysema, asthma, bronchitis and other respiratory diseases may be continued.

Christmas Seals also make possible the free chest X-day program of the association.

The 1970 sheet of seals forms a picture of an old-fashioned town and contains holiday activity—Santa, sleigh, a parade, carolers, trees and decorated houses, buildings and towers. Colors are red, green, blue and yellow and the double-barred cross forms a part of the design of each.

Emergency Service Van On Display

A community emergency service van was on display in Oakland last Friday, which is for use in all types of disaster to provide emergency relief. The van is one of some eighty such vehicles throughout the United States sponsored by the Seventh Day Adventist church. Some 260 persons visited the exhibit. The van provides shelter, food and clothing to people who need them as result of a fire or some other type of disaster. In the van are packages of clothing for every need, a hot soup kitchen and other emergency items.

With last Friday's unit were six trained workers. Supplies are obtained through volunteer contributions and through support of the church. The local unit is sponsored by the Mountain Top Seventh Day Adventist church, located some six miles north of Oakland on U.S. 219, and the project is operated by Mrs. Evelyn Browning, Oak street, Oakland. Pastor of the church is W. Thomas VanAsperen. Persons interested in contributing clothing may contact Mrs. Browning. The pastor said "we are here to serve as Christ did while on earth."

Within the past eleven months Mrs. Browning said there had been some 1,600 pieces of clothing contributed, 40 pairs of shoes, $518 in money and food, and that volunteer workers had expended some 502 hours of work.

Relief work nationally was provided during Hurricane Camille, the Mannington coal mine disaster, the Point Pleasant bridge collapse, the Frostburg fire and tornado last year, and others. The same service will be available in the Oakland area in case of need.

In the photo are Beatrice McMahan, Evelyn Browning, Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber, who visited the display, and Pastor Thomas VanAsperen.

Paul S. Frank, Jr.

November 26 - December 2

This week the moon appears to pass very close to several planets. Today it appears in the sky just slightly north of Venus. Tomorrow Jupiter and the moon will appear together in the early morning sky. On Monday the moon will appear to be very close to Mercury.

New Moon phase occurs at 4:32 p.m. on Saturday. During the week the moon will rise between 4:59 a.m. today and 11:01 a.m. next Wednesday. After 4:32 p.m. on Saturday the moon will be a waxing crescent.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn may be visible this week. Venus rises about an hour and one-half before the Sun. Mars rises about three and one-half hours before the Sun. Jupiter will be difficult to view since it rises only about an hour before the Sun and is not very bright. Saturn rises before the Sun sets and is the only planet visible in the evening sky. This planet is in Aries slightly south of the Pleiades.

Daylight today lasted nine hours forty-five minutes. It began when the Sun appeared over the horizon at 7:14 a.m. It will end at 4:57 p.m. when the Sun will set. Next Wednesday will have nine minutes less daylight. On that day sunset will be at 4:54 p.m. and sunrise will be at 7:20 a.m.

Next Wednesday Mrs. Moore's class from Accident will study Planets.

A child can be proud of a missing tooth. She knows it will grow in later, better and stronger than ever.

It's different with the opportunities a child may be missing!

Like the opportunity to gain the spiritual and moral foundation for adult life . . . and the opportunity to gain inspiration and example from the religious faith of parents . . . and the opportunity to find wholesome interests and friendships among the boys and girls at church.

Sure, she points today with pride to a missing tooth. But what if her parents continue to deny her the precious opportunity for religious training? What if she is forced to grow up without the faith and moral conviction life constantly demands?

WILL SHE BE PROUD OF WHAT SHE DOESN'T HAVE?

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

UNLIMITED HORIZON

Lesson for November 29, 1970

Background Scripture: Matthew 5:10-11; 6:25-34; 7:13, 14; Ephesians 6:10-18. Devotional Reading: 1 Peter 1:3-9.

One day the wife of Robert Louis Stevenson went to his bedroom where he had been forced to put away his writing materials to stop the flow of lifeblood he was coughing away in a wracking pain. Knowing his indomitable spirit, she said: "I suppose you will tell me that it is a glorious day." "Yes," he replied, "strange, isn't it, that I was just going to say that." Looking at the sunlight streaming through his window, he added: "I refuse to let a row of medicine bottles be the circumference of my horizon."

Rev. Althouse

Beyond our obstacles

Stevenson possessed a body which would have caused most men to "throw in the towel" in resignation. He had been physically weak and ill throughout his childhood and then passed into youth and adulthood without any better prospects of substantial improvement. Yet he never accepted these infirmities of his body as the circumference of his horizon. His literary works dominated his own era and still are regarded as classics today.

One may also think of Beethoven, who though quite deaf, wrote his finest symphony; of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, who wrote many of her best works from a wheelchair; of Paul who performed his ministry through constantly beseiged by some "thorn in the flesh"; of former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter or President Franklin D. Roosevelt, both of whom carried on demanding careers as public servants despite severe physical discomfort and pain.

The trouble with examples like these is that you and I tend to think of these people as so special, so extraordinary, that we dismiss their victories over hardship as basically irrelevant to our own lives.

Beyond a wheelchair

Yet this experience of overcoming life's obstacles is not at all limited to exceptional people. Lots of unknown, unsung people refuse to let their obstacles serve as the circumference of their horizons. A number of years ago I called in a home where the mother of the family was a victim of multiple sclerosis. She was confined to a wheelchair and her limbs were terribly twisted. Despite the gentle, but firm determination in her face and the look of one who did not know she was "handicapped", I think I felt sorry for her.

I need not have, however. Some time years later I read an article in a newspaper that told of an award "for outstanding service" which had been given to her. "Outstanding service?" I said to myself. How could this woman serve anyone. Yet, as I read on, I found that this badly crippled and twisted woman goes to a nearby hospital in her wheelchair several days a week and spends hours there with handicapped patients, many of them less handicapped than herself. She sets before them the priceless example of a woman who will not allow a wheelchair to be the circumference of her horizon.

Hannah More once said that "obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off the goal." Certainly there are always frightful things before us in life. The Christian does not ignore them, but looks beyond these to his goal. One must always choose whether he will focus on the obstacle or the goal.

JUST BRUSHING IS NOT ENOUGH
It stands to reason that if a foundation is not secure then what is built upon it could have future troubles. So it is with dental health and hygiene. You must have healthy gums to have good teeth.
Even frequent brushing of your teeth is not enough if it is done incorrectly. A good brushing should take around three minutes with a good part of this devoted to the gums. Your dentist will explain to you the best method and equipment to use. We have all the products that he will recommend in our complete dental care section. Let your dentist check your gums.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

Occupational Safety Bill Is Passed By Senate

If most Americans were asked about the principle causes of death and disability among their fellow citizens, their minds would probably turn to war, disease, crime and other miseries to which the human race is heir. The fact is however, that many Americans overlook one of the principle causes of death and disability in the United States, industrial accidents. We tend to overlook the hazards facing men and women who undertake employment in America's industrial plants. When a worker is killed or injured on the job his loss is felt not only by the family but by the entire nation because the loss of his life and skills affect all of us. So I was particularly glad when government, labor, and industry focused their efforts in an attempt to improve the industrial and occupational safety for all workers.

With such uninamity of objective, the Senate passed an important bill which will go a long way towards meeting this goal. There were of course, some disagreements on specific provisions of the bill. One rested on whether or not regulations should be ultimately enforced by the Secretary of Labor or by a special three-man board.

I am somewhat discouraged with the delegation of legislative or semi-legislative authority to individuals in the Executive branch. We have delegated so much authority to individuals in the Executive branch. We have delegated so much authority to the President and to each cabinet officer, that if they were personally to exercise all of these duties, they would literally have to give up eating and sleeping. It is impossible for an individual to carry out these duties in person.

As a result, duties which are assigned to an executive officer such as the Secretary of Labor, get delegated to an unknown official or employee in the Department who is often impossible to identify, and who, therefore, has no personal responsibility. For that reason, I voted to put this power in the hands of a three-man board, which would be responsible to the public. Members of this board would be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate after public hearings were held on all nominees. In addition, any decisions rendered by the three-man board could be appealed to the courts. This approach should provide working men and women access to the machinery which will be making the decisions concerning their safety on the job.

FOOTNOTES: I have introduced an amendment to the Labor-Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill to provide $15 million to convert Fort Detrick, in Frederick County, into a comprehensive health research center. The amendment would authorize the National Institutes of Health to assume operations at Fort Detrick and provide about 700 scientific and support personnel. . . . PRESIDENT NIXON has asked Congress for an extra $1 billion in military and economic aid "to bring about the preconditions for peace in the world." Half that amount—$500 million—is for arms for Israel while most of the remainder is designated to substitute American aid for American presence in troubled spots in the Middle East and East Asia.

Powell's Wisdom

Its technical name is "Report on the Arid Region of the United States", but to most people it is a relatively unknown document because you always hear of the other exploit of its author. He was the first white man to explore the southern end of the Green and Colorado Rivers and the Grand Canyon. Major John Wesley Powell gave to us the initial description of the great cleft in Arizona, giving himself as living proof that it could be explored and the event survived. However, he gave us more than that, if anyone had listened to him.

Over a period of years, from 1850 on, a huge question loomed before legislators; they had to decide how the vast stretches of the West, some waterless and nearly all treeless, except in some higher elevations or in river valleys, were to be fairly opened to settlement. Mr. Powell, a geologist as well as an ethnologist, spent time in observing and talking to settlers who had already risked squatting there, in the hope that some provision would save their early efforts in civilizing a large part of the area, which envelops about 40 percent of our continental reaches. His study and knowledge resulted in a profound realization which cannot amply stamp itself upon an Easterner who has never viewed the extensive regions of arid acres defying any cultivation; he saw the ruling force of water. He uses Utah as a typical example: "Generally the small streams can be wholly employed in agriculture, but the lands which migh be reclaimed are of greater extent than the amount which the streams can serve; hence in all such regions the extent of irrigable land is dependent upon the volume of water carried by the streams." He further recommended another system for sharing the water supply so that one man could not hold a monopoly or that ownership of water would not be separate from the land title. We have only to look over the Southwest to appreciate this practicality in the way in which Spanish water laws were made for diversion of streams but return of the water for others on this stream. Powell sensed a necessity for change and adaptation in this regard.

He skillfully advised that land be considered in three categories: pasturage land, irrigable land, and timber. Each settler would be allowed to take 2560 acres of the pasture land or 80 acres of irrigable land, paying a small amount initially and then residing there and improving it for ten years. Lands near the railroad right of way would be more expensive. Timber land would be acquired by heads of families in specified amounts to be used and finally owned after eight years. These intelligent proposals were in accordance with the geography of the West, and no one has since made a better plan.

But as it so often has done, federal government devised a Homestead Act far from usefulness to those with little capital. It accepted the opinions and pressures of selfish groups so as to sell the public domain for more financial security. No one would receive such a large portion as 2560 acres, and each poor man who bought 160 acres, paid a $10 fee, and endured five years, termed the "period of starvation", might struggle enough to attain his goal. However, Congress failed to see that no crop in the arid or semi-arid region, especially cattle, could thrive in numbers on so small a claim. The average settler, who has less than $250 yearly income, had no chance of enduring long enough to stay. Consequently, many falsified claims, such as erection of a tiny building called a house or movement of a portable structure from one field to another, enabled jobbers to buy land at a small price and resell it at five to ten dollars per acre. Cattlemen who could not utilize small holdings often were obliged to have employees make necessary claim to land and later usurp it for themselves, providing that employees did not literally take the buildings right out of the rancher's hand while they had time to act.

Since the railroads have been favored wih alternate sections along their construction routes, with extensive right of way, only the speculators had proper capital to invest in the necessary amount of railroad land. This would leave the poor frontier man in the dilemma of buying land far from transportation, so badly needed in new country, for low prices, or of purchasing expensive tracts with his only savings.

Small wonder then, that guns were brought to preserve open grazing lands or to secure passage of herds to needed water. Timber magnates openly used the Timber Culture Act to secure acreage as they hired entrymen for the purpose of filing claims which were promptly transferred to other hands. It is to the monumental energy of the westward moving homesteader that we attribute success in spite of irregular practices. The traveler in certain sections of Wyoming and Nevada today must see why certain stretches lie waiting for someone to settle or cultivate them. If lawyers and politicians had listened to Powell, the system of dividing land by topography and use of moisture would have made effective legislation, transmitting the plains into a more stable region, with less wasted land, than it will ever be possible again to envision.
